1. Introduction

...Everyone coming to Me and hearing My words, and doing them,
I will show you to whom he is like.
He is like a man building a house, who dug and deepened and laid foundation on the rock.
Then, a flood having occurred, the stream burst against that house, and could not shake it, for it had been founded on the rock.
But he who heard and did not accomplish, he is like a man having built house on the earth without a foundation, on which the stream burst, and it immediately fell,
and the ruin of that house was great...
{Luke 6:46–49}

...Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.
The good man out of the good treasure of the heart brings forth the good.
And the evil man out of the evil treasure brings forth evil...
{Matthew 12:34–35}

As the one could observe by reading the books of the Old Testament and the New Testament, God often had conversation with men: He spoke to them, and when they answered Him in an appropriate way, instructed and guided them in the way to their most good, for instance, such as salvation, deliverance, survival, illumination.

During entire human history, God taught and led His people even more diligently than the earthly – human – father would teach and lead his children. Among the many, who were led by God and who communicated with God, were Noah, then, Abram whom God has chosen to become Abraham the father of nations, Job the righteous, Moses, Jonas and other prophets¹ sent to Israel, especially, Eliu (Elias) the Thesbite, who asked God to give him death because he is left alone and all other prophets are exterminated by idolaters, who received the last instructions to accomplish and who, then, was taken into the glory of the kingdom of God, and ultimately, the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ who would become the Apostles {Genesis; Exodus; Deuteronomy; Job; 3 Kings 18; 19; 4 Kings 1; 2; Isaiah; Jonas; Matthew; Mark; Luke; John; esp., John 13; 14; 15; 16; 17; Acts}.

In the New Testament time, Lord Jesus Christ said to His listeners that, if they, being evil, give good things (food) to their children, how much more the Heavenly Father would give the Holy Spirit to those asking. Hence, the most cherished treasure of all gifts given by God is the Holy Spirit – the Spirit of Truth and Wisdom that feeds the human soul–heart–mind² and guides the one through the earthly life preparing him for the eternity with God {Matthew 7:7–12; Luke 11:11–13; John 14; 15; 16:7–16}.

However, the Holy Scriptures convey not only Wisdom given by God to His creations; the Books of life illustrate how people [[who are similar to us]] perceive and comprehended the wisdom given by God, so it becomes their own good treasure of the heart {Matthew 7; 12:35–37; 13; Luke 6:20–49}, which they could bring forth to the world to make it better for all the living.

For instance, when a lawyer and a scribe asked God concerning the main law, God asked the lawyer in return: how do you read? Then, the Lord said to the scribe, evaluating his preparedness for Him: You are not far from the Kingdom of God {Luke 10:25–37; Mark 12:28–34}.

One of examples how the human mind may understand the knowledge of God is Σοφία Σεираχ – The Wisdom of Jesus Son of Sirach, or Ecclesiasticus [R]. Although some Christian denominations classify it as Apocrypha, this book is the inseparable part of The Book of Life – the Holy Scriptures, one of the greatest treasures that should be given to each Christian child, so he could start to read, comprehend, absorb the wisdom of the most wise ones who have passed the same road that he is taking

put it as the foundation for own vision of the world and as the guide for search for his own place within it to be prepared for the highest wisdom given by God – the Holy Spirit of Truth, so he may evolve into a perfect being prepared for the eternity with God

With Σοφία Σεираχ and other books of Apocrypha, which illustrate human perception of the words of God, a child could build himself into the wise and valuable member of human society and then, take his place in the kingdom of God the Father.

Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem, the Author of Σοφία Σεираχ, writes {Ecclesiasticus 50; 51} that he poured out of his heart the instruction, knowledge, and wisdom, so, the unlearned ones with soul thirsty for wisdom may come to learning, because blessed is he that dwells in these things [[knowledge, wisdom³]]:

he that establishes them into his heart shall become wise.
if he accomplishes them, he shall be strong for everything, for the light of the Lord is his path
{Ecclesiasticus 50:28–29}

Perhaps, the first practical lesson for daily living should be instructions concerning a family.

Christian⁴ families are the foundation, the source of the strength of the nation, and the settings, in which the Present and the Future of the Christian nation – the holy people of God {1 Peter 2:9–10} – are conceived, determined, and actualized.

If a child is given special (and quite rare in our time) blessing to have kind and loving parents and to live in a normal, healthy, good and loving – Christian – family, he should easily perceive and understand the wise lesson of Ecclesiasticus:

The Lord has given the father honor over children, and has confirmed the authority of the mother over sons.
Who honors his father shall have joy in his own children, and when he makes prayer, he will be heard.
Honor thy father and mother both in word and deed, that blessing may come upon thee from them.
For the blessing of father establishes houses of children, but the curse of mother roots out the foundation.
He that forsakes his father is as a blasphemer, and he who angers his mother is cursed of God
{Σοφια Σειραχ/Ecclesiasticus 3:2, 5, 8, 14}

This advice elaborates the Fifth Commandment of God:

honor thy father and thy mother that thou may be established and live long on a good land given by God
{Exodus 20:12}

The observance of the Fifth Commandment builds the foundation of healthy and happy family, which nurtures good people living by God's law²⁵. Health and prosperity of society and nation and the invincibility of state begin with health of the family: respectful and loving children, kind and loving parents are the greatest treasure of the nation that wants to prosper and to have abundance of all good things.

If a child is growing in orphanage, or has just one parent instead of two, or is neglected by his relatives, or is abused²⁶, he also needs to learn the normal foundation of life. Even if, currently, he has nobody who would care and love him, who would be worthy of his respect and love, he should know the normal nature of human society and human relations. He should remember words of David the shepherd whom God made the prophet and the king of ancient Israel:

...my father and my mother have forsaken me, but the Lord has taken me to Himself.
Teach me, O Lord, in Thy way, and guide me in a right path...
...Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and let thy heart be strengthened...
{Psalm 26(27):10–11, 14}

Hence, such a child may come to believe that the difficulties are given to particularly talented people to make them wise and strong, so that they would evolve into the chosen few who are the sons of God destined to reign in Kingdom of God forever {Revelations 21:1–8; 22:1–5, 12–15}.

Then, perhaps, such underprivileged now child, in his future, would seek good spouse, so his children would have the loving parents and be provided with all good things, of which he was deprived in his childhood, so the evil will be eliminated by the good, and the infernal cycle of the evil would be broken.

From the other side, all good people – those who have own family and those who live alone – should keep in mind that even now, in our superpowerful and richest nation, there are many poor, unwanted and unattended children who go to sleep hungry: hungry for food and also hungry for love, respect, and kindness, from which the feeling of own significance and confidence comes. This precious feeling can be rooted into the child's heart and can give its blessed fruits (firstly, love and attention to other creations of God) because of kindness, attention, instructions for learning, and other assistance, which the child needs.

We all should remember that the Lord God said

1/ {in: Matthew 18:5–6; 25:31–46} that the one who receives a little child in His Name, receives Him, and:

Inasmuch as you did it to one of these the least of My brothers [fed, sheltered, attended], you did it to Me
Inasmuch as you did not do it [fed, sheltered, attended] to the least one, neither did you do it to Me
{Matthew 25:40, 45}

2/ and {in: Matthew 18:1–7}, especially, concerning responsibility for offense²⁶ of a child

whoever causes one of these little ones believing in Me to offend, it is better for him that a millstone turned by a beast of burden be hung on his neck, and he be sunk in the depth of the sea.
Wow to the world from offenses!
It is a necessity for the offenses to come,
yet wow to that man through whom the offense comes!...
{Matthew 18:1–7}

2. The Root of Wisdom

All wisdom comes from the Lord and is with Him forever...
He has given her to them that love Him...
If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord shall give her unto thee...
{Σοφια Σειραχ 1:1, 25}

A loving and righteous Christian family is an ideal setting, where the one should learn what are the greatest values of life and how to come in possession of them. Among all desirable and important personal features that determine the worth of man, wisdom is the greatest treasure. The one who possesses wisdom is different from all the others as different is a man in darkness, who has a lamp for his feet, so he is able to discern the right path and to complete it safely, from all those who are creeping in the mud unable to find the right path in darkness, to discern and to avoid pitfalls, threats, risks, and untimely death.

Nevertheless, the word wisdom has very rare use in media, and its meaning is almost forgotten. Some even identify wisdom Σ3 with knowledge or even information, or even consider it as a possession of megadata, control of databases, access to privileged/secret information and so on.

However, wisdom, knowledge and information are different; precisely, they have different levels of complexity Σ7. If to use simplified analogy, the correlation among information, knowledge and wisdom might be explained by comparing information with fuel, knowledge – with car, and wisdom – with the mental power behind an ability to use car to reach destination safely, timely, and efficiently.

With wisdom, the mind receives the power to comprehend all that is beneficial for life and to accomplish all that is needed for survival and growth in this world and for preparation for the eternity with God.

Consequently, Σοφια Σειραχ begins with the praise to wisdom {Σοφια Σειραχ 1} identifying it as the foundation of cosmos, as the source of order, as the means of establishment of the universe, the source of knowledge of understanding and skills, as the most desirable treasure, and then, explains how to obtain it.

The first and the most significant purpose that the parents should set before a child is obtaining wisdom. The lesson in wisdom should begin with explanation from where a human being obtains the greatest power that could elevate even a humble and poor man above a mighty king.

So, the one should be told that

1. All wisdom comes from the Lord and is with Him forever. Wisdom has been created before everything, and understanding is the foundation of the eternity. God created wisdom and poured it out upon all His works. Wisdom is with all flesh as the gift of God, and God grants wisdom to those who love Him {Σοφια Σειραχ 1:1–10}

2. The first condition of obtaining wisdom is observance of the law of God: only the mind that was trained to comply with the law of God and therefore, understands that the law of God is life and that lawlessness is death, is capable to ascend the understanding of the foundations of the world, which has been created and exists by the law of God. The understanding that lawlessness is death is referred to as “fear of God.” Such understanding is the key to obtaining wisdom: the fear of God is lauded as the beginning and the root and even as crown of rejoicing and wisdom itself, as the honor, glory, gladness, and even as crown and fullness of wisdom {Σοφια Σειραχ 1:11–20}.

3. Concerning fear of God, it should be explained that a/ fear of God {Isaiah 8:13; Ecclesiastes 12:13} is the only fear appropriate for a free human being created in the image and after the likeness of the Almighty, Perfect, and merciful God the Creator and Father of man. The Prophets and ancient theologians employed the word fear to designate the greatest danger and the greatest threat to the existence of man: violation of the Law—commandments of God, which define the human nature. The world exists according to the Law, which God Himself came to fulfill {Matthew 5:17–18}, and the Sacred Scriptures provide the glimpse of the absolute power of this Law when they refer to it as to the sword and the all-consuming fire {e.g., in: Isaiah 5:24; 10:17; Matthew 10:34; Revelation 1:16}. If a living being violates the Law, it perverts own nature, therefore, either triggers self-annihilation or he is to be destroyed, because in the world created, sustained, and controlled by the Law {Matthew 5:18; Luke 16:17}, nothing is able to exist contrary to the Law

b/ the only mention of fear in the Christian teachings is the reference to the “fear of God” as to the fear Σ8 to violate the commandment of God and pervert own nature, yet even this fear vanishes, when a human being advances in love and reverence to God until such a degree when any violation of the commandments of God simply becomes impossible. God is Love – the Perfect Almighty Love {John 3:16; 6:32–69; 10:11; 15:9–17; 17; 1 John 4:9–21} that bestows life and other gifts of the Absolute Good on His creations; those who love dwell in God and God dwells in them: the perfect love has no fear {1 John 4:7–20}. Hence, the fear of God is, in fact, the fear to violate the law of God by own thoughts, words, and deeds

c/ the Christian (Greek/Eastern Orthodox) tradition explains the fear of God as understanding that a/ God is the essence of life

b/ by the very nature, a human being is centered on God, lives by God, and comes to completion of all good things with the power given by God
c/ the only fear the human being should have is the fear to violate the God’s law:
to sin against God and against own nature, so the sinner will be cast away from the sight of God into darkness of ignorance, madness and impotency of the mind, and misery of the slavery to the evil and sin

4. Consequently, wisdom begins with understanding that the law of God cannot be violated: the violation of the law of God results in death. If the one is afraid to violate the law of God, he has found the path to wisdom.

As Ecclesiastes said,

Τελος λογου, το παν ακονε: τον Θεον φοβου, και τας εντολας αυτου φυλασσε: οτι τουτο πας ο ανθρωπος
The completion of word, the point (edge) of the wholeness (entirety/all):
fear God, and keep His commandments, for this is all (entirety/wholeness) of man...
{Ecclesiastes 12:13}

The exact translation of the warning {Ecclesiastes 12:13} is: the commandments of God are the point–edge–limit [[[ακονε]]] of the all–entirety–wholeness [[[παν]]], and compliance with the commandments of God is the all–entirety–wholeness [[[πας (the form of παν)]]] of man.

Thus, the “fear of God” is, in fact, the fear to ruin the wholeness–entirety Σ9 of own life defined by the commandments of God.

From another angle of consideration, the fear of God might be understood as self–preservation: the special state, through which the mind secures survival – own and own creations, correlated people and establishments (family, society, nations, etc.).

Why violation of the law triggers annihilation—death of the one who violates the law and initiates collapse—ruin—disintegration of his creations and establishments?

Law or the universal code – Λογος, the Word—God {John 1:1–16} – creates a core of a human heart—mind: the structure, order, and framework of reasoning. Around this core the entire wholeness – human reasoning—mind – is arranged; then, it receives wisdom – the power of reasoning and understanding, and the divine energy needed to embody law into the very own life and all own creations.

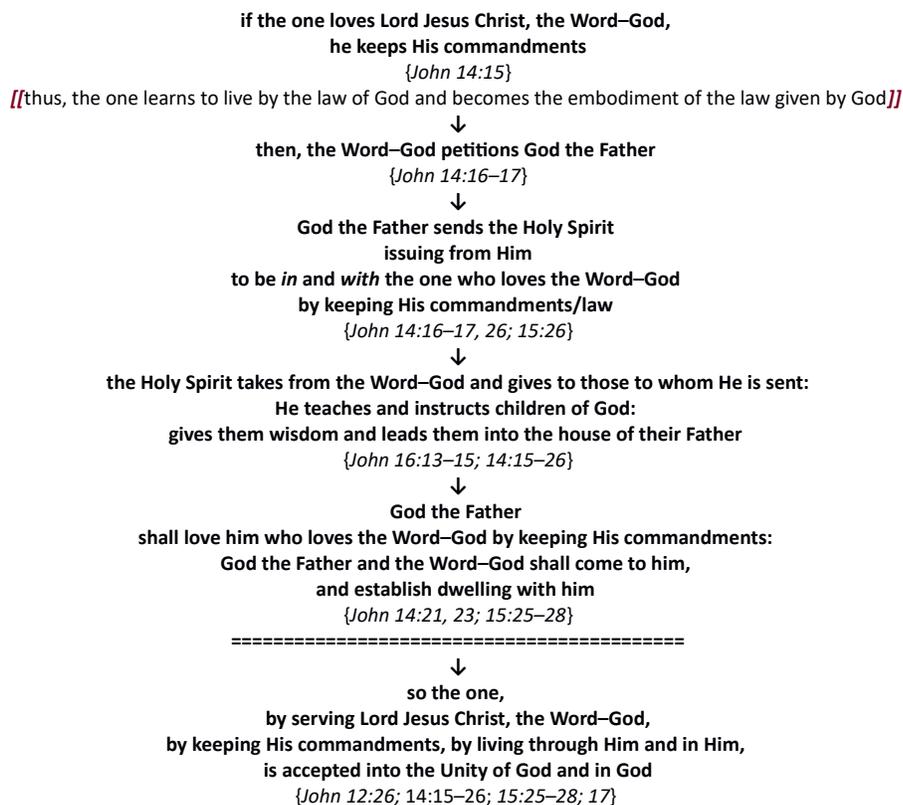

With the power—wisdom and by the law, it evolves into the cosmos—universe that carries the seed of the eternity: the Law—Word that is the foundation of the Kingdom of God.

Then, the law works as the wholeness—maintaining factor, which prevents deviation from the norm. Without such wholeness—maintaining factor, any wholeness – living system – degenerates, perverts own nature, and disintegrates.

4. The very essence of wisdom is understanding of the absolute good for man and of man: the harmony of the life—creating and life—sustaining wholeness. The knowledge of this wholeness—life comes with the complete knowledge of God – firstly, knowledge of the words of God, through which the one learns everything pertaining to life and godliness, obtains the life everlasting, and enters the Kingdom of God {John 6:63; 12:46–50; 14; 15; 16; 17; 2 Peter 1:2–11}.

For instance, if the one desires to obtain immortality that is given by the Holy Spirit Whose presence transforms a human being into the immortal temple—dwelling of God, he must, by observing the words—commandments of God, become an embodiment of the law of God – the one made in Christ and after Christ and living by the Holy Spirit: the firstfruit of new creations of God created by the Word. So he would be empowered to receive the Holy Spirit and to live by Him: to dwell in God and to be the living temple of the Living God {John 1:1–18; 14; 15:26; 16:7–16; 17; James 1:17–18; Romans 8; Ephesians 2:4–10; 1 Corinthians 3:16–17; 6:19–20}.

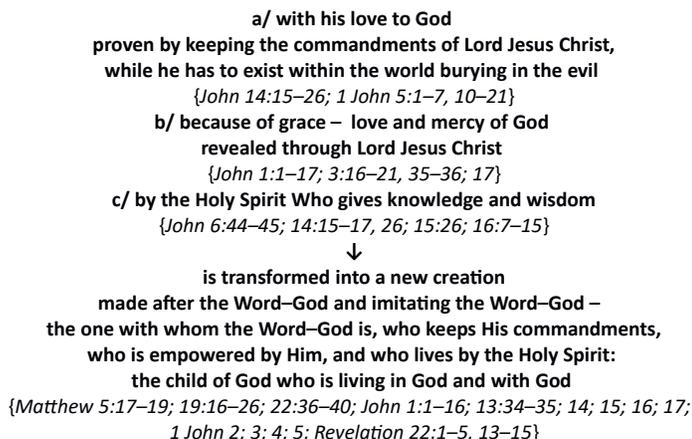

As Lord God Jesus Christ said {John 12:26; 14; 15; 17},

As the Lord said, to love Him means to keep His commandments {John 14:15, 23–24; 1 John 5:3; 2 John 6}, or, in other words, to live in accordance with the human nature, which He created and which exists according to the law of the Creator. Each word of God is the spirit and life {John 6:63} – the source and the condition of human life {Luke 4:4; Deuteronomy 8:3; Psalm 35(36):9}.

Consequently, each word/commandment of God must be observed and accomplished without any deviation – as St. Paul the Apostle writes {2 Corinthians 4:2–6}, the Christians do not adulterate the words of God: His Light shines in their heart and gives brightness of knowledge of God in Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, the one who loves God by keeping His law—commandments—words,

The core—essence of this new creation is Λογος, the Word—God, the Eternal Inviolable Law/Will of God the Creator and Father of all the living.

Therefore, within the one who has been chosen for immortality, the Triune God, the only One True God, establishes His dwelling Σ12 accepting him into the wholeness of life – into the eternal Kingdom of God. The Divine Omnipotent Unity of the life—creating—maintaining Law—Power—Energy is manifested by creation of a new immortal being, the child of God that is born of God

- because of the Lord Jesus Christ, the Word—God
- with the Holy Spirit
- by the will of God the Father

That is how the one who accomplishes the commandments/law/will of God enters the eternal wholeness – the complete abundant perfect world, in which God accepts His creations into the Unity of the Almighty Power/Will, the Divine Wisdom/Energy, and the Absolute Law {cf.: John 3:16–21; 6:37–40, 44–58, 63; 10:10–18; 27–30; 11:25–26; 12:26; 44–50; 13:34–35; 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 John 4; 5; Revelation 21:1–8, 23–27; 22:1–5, 13–15}.

In conclusion: according to the Holy Scriptures {e.g., in: Psalm 110(111):10; Matthew 19:16–26; 22:36–40; John 1:1–18; 3:16–21, 36; 4:23–24; 6:37–63; 10:1–18, 27–30; 12:44–50; 13:34–35; 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 John; Romans 13; Ecclesiastes 12:13–14; Wisdom 1:4–16; 6; 7; Σοφια Σειραχ 1}:

A. the beginning of wisdom is the fear of God {Psalm 110(111):10}: the fear to violate His law

B. the completion/highest point, the point/edge of the entirety—wholeness—all and everything of man, is to fear God and to strictly follow [[φυλασσε – guard, observe, protect, strictly follow]] His commandments

C. the essence of the law of God is Perfect Love without fear and suffering, and fulfillment of the law is love to God and to the others. The one may enter the eternity with God only by Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, Who is the Word—God – the Almighty Creator, Power, Glory, and Wisdom of God, Who was given for salvation of the world: the one who keeps the commandments of Lord Jesus Christ {John 14:6–26} receives the knowledge of God given by Lord Jesus Christ – the knowledge that is the everlasting life {John 17:3}. The way to immortality with God the Father is accomplishment of His will given as commandments of Lord Jesus Christ; there cannot be another way to God in the world created by the Word—God {John 1:1–18; 6–29–69; 14:15–26; 15; 16; 17}

D. the “fear of God” is the fear to violate the Law of God by own thoughts, words, and deeds, and therefore, to become a pervert unworthy of love and mercy of God and, then, because of rejection of the commandments of the Word—God and according to own self—judgment, to be condemned to eternal separation from God: to eternal darkness without the Light {John 3:16–21, 36; Revelation 21:8; 22:15}. The meaning of violation of the law of God (sin Σ13) is contradiction and disregard of the commandments—words of God, while the words of God must be accomplished exactly Σ14, without any modification, alteration, modernization, for instance, because of current technical gadgets, or political correctness, etc. A human being should always be very careful of his thoughts, words, and deeds, and cautious, especially in his dealing with the others. The good conscience Σ15 based on the law of God and issuing feeling of responsibility for own thoughts, words, and deeds might facilitate development of the ability to foresee the consequences of own words and actions, and therefore, to establish and to maintain, not ruin, the wholeness of own life in God and within the human society.

The ancient Book Σοφια Σειραχ illustrates understanding of the eternal absolute inviolable law that, with establishment of Christianity, became the key to the kingdom of God {cf.: Matthew 23; Mark 7:6–13; Luke 11:44–52}, and the practical inference from it: the root of wisdom is fear to violate the law of God.

Hence, the summary of the first lesson:

– a Christian

lives by the law of God, which makes him true follower of Lord Jesus Christ because he loves God by observing His commandments, as God said {John 6:28–40; 12:44–50; 14:15–26; 15; 16; 17; 1 John 3:18–24; 5:1–3} or is doomed to perish because of violations of the law of God, which make him incompatible with the eternal world created by the law of God {Revelation 22:13–15}

- observance of the law/keeping the commandments of God is the beginning of wisdom that opens the way into the everlasting life in the presence of God
- if God gives to the mind wisdom, for such a mind, there are no limits of cognition, learning, understanding, development, creation.

✚ Through the Hebrew Prophets [1500–1000 B.C. – fifth century B.C.], God

1/ granted the knowledge, which sustains life and death of men, controls existence or disintegration of their establishments

2/ set up the foundation for evolution of a human being as optimization–perfection–development of the highest potential according to the original design (in 1500–1000 B.C. – fifth century B.C.): the Hebrew Prophets prepared the foundation for the teachings of Lord God Jesus Christ.

The Prophets were the actual rulers of pre–king Israel. They are the most extraordinary people who ever existed:

- they manifested abilities inaccessible by the others
- none of hierarchies, authorities, other social and political factors had any power over their mind.

The phenomenon of the Hebrew Prophets remains the unexplained mystery and unsolvable problem for the contemporary sciences, which have no choice but to denounce the Holy Scriptures as a collection of myths and allegories.

The mind, which accepts the Holy Scriptures as the truth, knows that the Prophet speaks and acts by the Spirit of God, and the impossible does not exist for him {e.g., in: Joshua 10:12–14; 3 Kings 17:19–24; 18:41–44; 4 Kings 1:9–15; 2:8, 19–22; 4:1–7, 32–35, 39–44; 5:8–15, 20–27; 20:9–11; Zechariah 4:6; 2 Peter 2:21}:

- Joshua the son of Nun cried to God, and as he asked, the Sun and the Moon stood still until the people finished the battle
- Isaiah the Prophet asked God to confirm his prophecy to the king by sending backward the shadow of the Sun on the sundial, and it was done
- Eliu the Prophet revived the dead, called rain and fire from the heaven, parted water when he needed to cross the river
- Eliaie the Prophet purified the poisonous water and destroyed the poison, multiplied oil in a house of the poor widow and the food for people, revived the dead, healed and sent leprosy
- the Prophets predicted the Future, and their predictions became the actuality.

When the Prophets act on behalf of God, they have the complete control over the forces, which maintain existence of the material world. The texts of the Holy Scriptures reveal that the Hebrew Prophets

- changed nuclear structures and transformed the existing matter into another substance (destruction of the poison, purification of the water)
- created the perceivable matter directly from the non–perceivable universal energy–source of creation of the matter (multiplied food and oil)
- controlled destruction of the matter (survival within burning flame, healing of the sick, sending disease and death)
- restored the set of the energy fields, which accommodates existence of a living human being at the specified time–space point of the Universe (reanimation of the dead)
- controlled the forces of the Nature (movement of the planets, rain and fire from the sky)
- controlled the energy fields, which create and direct the force of gravity (e.g., water was parted to let the Prophet cross the river)
- ascended to the level where the time–space–complexity limitations do not exist (the ability to see the Future).

The Gospels allow understanding of the prophetic phenomenon. Before the Apostles of Lord Jesus Christ began their mission, they received the same abilities, which the Hebrew Prophets manifested: they became able to heal the sick, resurrect the dead, and accomplish many other things, which the people name “miracles.” Behind the two phenomena – the Hebrew Prophets and the Apostles – is the same Power: the Holy Spirit of the Almighty God. This Power has no limits.

For instance, if to analyze the deeds of Elias, which also his successor – Elisha has done {3 Kings; 4 Kings}, the one might infer that, in the current terms, the prophets operated with the complete power over the matter and elements of the world (parted the water, purified the poisonous water and destroyed the poison, multiplied oil and the food, revived the dead, healed or sent leprosy, and punished the evil ones). For such works, Elias and Elisha had to be enabled

1/ to change nuclear structures of the existing matter transforming it into another substance: destruction of the poison, purification of the water spring

2/ to create the structured matter directly from the universal energy: multiplication of food and oil

3/ to control functions of a human body – to reverse disintegration: healing of the sick ones, and to initiate disintegration: sending disease (leprosy) on the corrupted and sinful ones

4/ to restore the set of the energy fields, which accommodates existence of a living human being at the specified time–space point of the Universe: reanimation of the dead

5/ to manipulate the forces of the Nature: to bring down rain and fire from the skies

6/ to manipulate the energy fields, which control the force of gravity: water was parted to let the Prophet cross the river

7/ to ascend to the level where the time–space–complexity limitations do not exist: the abilities to see the Future, to know intentions of the people, and to know that what they have done or said.

Perhaps, the technical side of the abilities of the prophets might be at least partially understood with the systems concept of the Universe.

For example, the healing power of the prophet is the consequence of the ability to control transformations of the universal energy. Every living being exists within the focus of the energy fields. These fields accommodate the purposeful wholeness of specific cycles of energy transformations. The results of these transformations are the energy formations, energy–information, and energy–information matter, which compose a particular system and maintain its existence in a form of a purposeful and evolving being. If the transformations of energy are consistent with the universal law, the system/being functions properly and achieves the state of optimum – develops and realizes own maximal potency. If the transformations of energy deviate from the universal pattern, they produce the energy forms with insufficient complexity, and the consequent intra–system processes become distorted or insufficient: the system becomes unable to scan and to embody/materialize the universal code adequately. The insufficiency has the domino effect, which results in subsequent distortion of other processes and culminates in the perversion of the system’s nature. The perversion of the nature triggers alteration in the parameters controlled by the energy fields. Change of the controlled parameters triggers the unspecified response of the energy fields, which activates the system’s self–annihilation. In the apparent stage of self–annihilation, a human being might experience lethal physical illness (e.g., leprosy so many times mentioned in the Holy Scriptures) or serious mental disorders (e.g., “possession with unclean spirits” and spirit of divination, insanity, hallucinations, etc.). The healing of diseases is possible through the correction the intra–system processes, which results in subsequent adjustments of the parameters controlled by the energy fields. Thus, when the prophet heals the sick, he works as the transceiver–transmitter of a specific form of the universal energy with the highest levels of complexity sufficient for restoration of the normal energy regime of a sick being/insufficient system. At the level of the matter, restoration of the normal energy regime might be detected as restoration of the normal behavior, correction of DNA, dissolution of tumor, unexpected recovery of patients with incurable diseases, etc.

However, the power over the energy of the material world is not the main feature of the prophet. The transcendent abilities and control over the forces of the nature are the auxiliary features: they accompany a prophet as the special extraordinary being — in fact, just a normal being who lives in accordance with the original nature created by God in His image and likeness — whose life is focused on God, who loves God, and who lives by the law/will of God.

The phenomenon of the Hebrew Prophets confirms that a human being was created to be the temple–dwelling of God, and when the Holy Spirit descends unto the mind, it comes to Own house. It means that

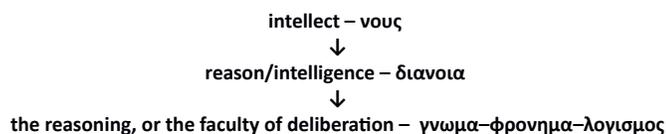

- there are no limits for a human being created in the image and likeness of God
- we, the ordinary people, have distanced ourselves from our Father and Creator in such a long way that our own normal abilities became the unbelievable phenomenon; we even the special term invented – “supernatural abilities”
- each of us might become the member of God’s household, receive our divine inheritance, and the innate abilities manifested by the Hebrew Prophets, Apostles, and other servants of God.

22 The Christian Concept of man:

During the earthly phase of existence, a human being is a temporal life–carrying unity of spirit–flesh, or soul–heart–mind–body, or energy–matter, accommodated within the realm composed of the units of the structured matter, which are the energy derivatives created/arranged at different levels of complexity.

The essence of man — the inner man, of whom St. Peter the Apostle and St. Paul the Apostle write: ο κρυπτος της καρδιας ανθρωπος – the hidden heart of man (in: 1 Peter 3:4), and the inner man who is being renewed – ο εσωθεν ανακαινιουται – day by day, while the outer man (body of flesh) is being decayed (in: 2 Corinthians 4:16) — is the soul–heart–mind, which carries the image and likeness of God. St. Paul the Apostle refers to such a new [[renewed]] creation of Christ and in Christ as to the one who is enabled to act as the co–worker of God – Θεου γαρ εσμεν συνεργοι {1 Corinthians 3:9}, who is the God’s field and God’s building/construction – Θεου γεωργιον, Θεου οικοδομη {1 Corinthians 3:9} – the space prepared for the works of God.

The Greek theologians discerned three parts/components [[subsystems]] of the human essence, or it might be said that they assumed that the soul–heart–mind operates at three levels of complexity [[that is with different derivatives of the Divine energy: wisdom, knowledge, information]]:

The intellect – νοϋς is the highest level of human essence, or “the depths of soul” or the core of “the heart” in different works of the theologians, or, in the contemporary terms, the cognizing core/center that carries life – the power (received from God) to initiate and to control/maintain operations of a system.

Through νοϋς, the mind knows God – λογος – and receives from the Creator the spiritual knowledge – γνωσις – and wisdom – σοφια. Γνωσις and σοφια both are the gifts of God.

The spiritual knowledge – γνωσις – might be envisioned as a result of silent contemplation of God by νοϋς – the core/essence of soul–heart–mind. During this state, the mind accesses the divine energy of creation, which sustains life.

Hence, wisdom – σοφια – might be described as the state–condition–being–existence of being connected with God and absorbing the power/energy, or the state of being empowered with the Divine Energy (as it is said in: Psalms 17(18):2 – Κυριε ισχυς μου – the Lord my strength/power/might), which is coming from God and which is enabling the human reasoning. During this state, the mind accesses the divine energy of creation, which sustains the mind’s life, while wisdom empowers the reasoning and makes possible cognition of God’s creations.

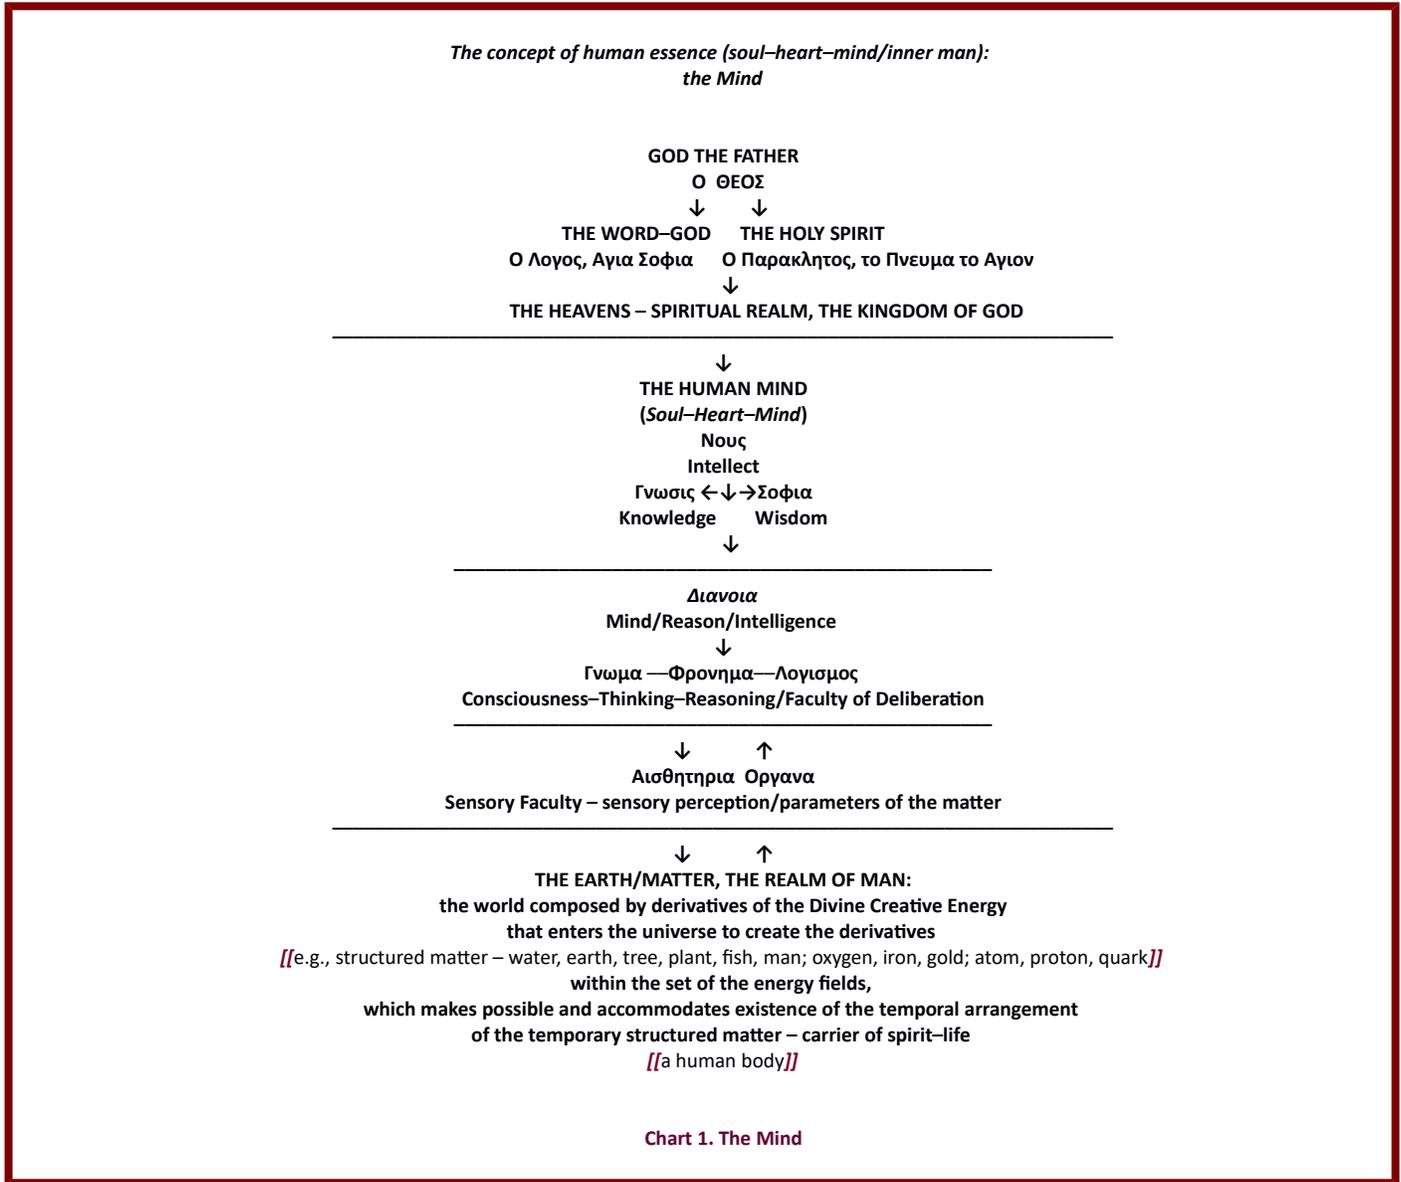

The Reason/Intelligence – διανοια is the state–being of cognition, in which the divine energy of creation received from God is transformed into the human thoughts and human knowledge. Διανοια is translated as the mind {e.g., in: Matthew 22:37}.

Hence,

1/ the heart is a definition for the spiritual center, the essence of a human being, the singularity, in which the union between the divine and the human is consummated, or in which the divine becomes thoughts, words, and deeds of man

2/ cognition is the state, during which the divine energy of creation is transformed into the thoughts and knowledge.

See the following Chart 1. The Mind [[reprint from The Mind]]:

Four Greek and Byzantine theologians developed the Christian concept of man in relation to God – St. Maximus the Confessor, St. Gregory of Nyssa, St. Basil the Great, and St. Gregory Palamas [St. Gregory Palamas (1974) 121–122; St. Maximus the Confessor, St. Gregory of Nyssa, and St. Basil the Great, ref. in: St. Gregory Palamas (1974) 122]:

1/ when the Word of God lives and acts within man, the man is unified with the grace of Lord God Jesus Christ; this incomprehensible grace illuminates the human nature and elevates it above the natural laws: man becomes uncreated as the grace of God is uncreated

2/ everything that is moved by the Holy Spirit becomes alive, eternal, and sacred: through Lord God Jesus Christ, man (who before was dust, the human clay) receives the anointment of the Holy Spirit to become “the child of light” destined for the eternity

3/ when the Holy Spirit dwells in man, the man oversteps the limits of his temporal worldly existence: from the mortal he becomes immortal, from the temporal becomes eternal; he receives the dignity of prophet and apostle and, through Lord God Jesus Christ, he becomes a child of God endowed with the potency to create.

St. Gregory Palamas (1296–1359) considers the act of creation as the only moment when a human being discovers the image of God within own soul/mind, and actualizes own essence (through the act of creation).

Therefore, the essence of a human being unfolds as the dwelling and the rest of God within the created by God Universe.

A human being exists to accomplish the following purposes:

- to receive the Spirit of God during the earthly existence
- to abide in love and light
- to fulfill the will of God at the Earth
- to dwell with God throughout the eternity.

Other theologians, philosophers, and researchers invented additional definitions for the mind–intellect–heart–soul–spirit, mostly, as for the different facets of a human being; for instance, — the heart is the spiritual center of man – the temple, in which the Divine is united with the human

— the intellect is the “eye of heart” or the faculty of contemplation by which man perceives God and learns the knowledge given by God

— the intelligence is the operating faculty of the intellect

— the reason or mind is the center responsible for logic, conceptualization, and discourse – all the functions, which manifest the main human ability – reasoning that defines purposeful behavior within the world of the temporary structured matter, and so on [e.g., St. Diadochos of Photiki On Spiritual Knowledge §§9, 79, 88, and Glossary 362–365, and the others in: Philokalia, v.1–4].

The fruitful imagination of the generations of theologians and use of different terms for definitions of the same phenomena, sometimes, initiated theological disputes as St. Paul the Apostle warned {for instance, in: 1 Timothy 6:20–21; 2 Timothy 2:16–17}, and therefore, brought forth discord and facilitated rising of heresies.

In general, if the one has understanding of the words of Lord Jesus Christ {in: John; Matthew, esp. 5; 6; 7; Mark; Luke, esp. 6; 12} and perceives God as the Perfect Love without fear and suffering, as the Absolute Good of man and for man, all human inventions–doctrines and verbal embellishments–classifications–definitions–etc., are not needed.

When the theological subtleties are not a subject of consideration, I use a brief contemporary and all–including (because a human being is the wholeness) definition – “the mind.”

Ξ3 Wisdom is the power of reason/intelligence, with which a human being survives and evolves into a child of God. This power is given by the Holy Spirit Who comes because of the Word–God, the Holy Wisdom of God – Λογος/Αγια Σοφια – to the one who has faith in Lord Jesus Christ, the Word–God, who loves God, who accepted the knowledge of God, and who proved his love to God with observance of His commandments and with the deeds of good {John 14:14–26; 15:10–17; 17; 1 John 3; 4}.

In 1 Corinthians 2:6–16, St. Paul the Apostle writes of the Holy Wisdom given by the Holy Spirit, of the power of God, which is the foundation of faith, and of intelligence, reason, mind of those who just/exactly follow the reasoning of Christ {δε νοου Χριστου εχομεν – 1 Corinthians 2:15–16}.

Human wisdom is the state of empowerment, when a human being, who has been receiving the Divine Energy and knowing the Law of God, becomes the co–worker of God and creator of works that actualize the will of God within the world given into the dominion of man {John 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 Corinthians 3:9}.

Wisdom might be also defined as comprehension of the Law of God and the subsequent ability to observe the Law: to live according to the Law of God, to embody the Law of God into daily life – the reality of own existence. As such, wisdom initiates and sustains human evolution, which is the process of transformation into the immortal child of God prepared for the eternity in the presence of God.

At the level of the human mind, wisdom is the power that enables the mind

a/ to comprehend the Law of God that controls existence of the world and to exist in compliance with the Law of God

b/ to create invincible establishments/systems for achievement of the purposes that actualize the will of God within the human world

c/ to accomplish own evolution, for instance, as development–achievement of the maximal potency of reasoning, comprehension and creation of knowledge.

In brief, wisdom is the power that secures existence, evolution–development of the highest potency, and accomplishment of the purposes for the sake of which a human being has been created.

In the systems terms, wisdom defines the ability to operate with the knowledge that sustains the highest level of complexity, to which the mind might be empowered to evolve at the earth.

In general sense, complexity is the universality of knowledge, which is embodied/actualized into the entirety of processes defining life of the world; hence the one might envision wisdom as

1/ the power to act in compliance with the law of God that controls life, the human nature, and the nature of the world that accommodates life and evolution of the human reason

and

2/ the power to evolve for the next phase of existence – eternity.

Consequently, at each level of complexity, the meaning of wisdom is inseparably linked with the abilities to complete the life–cycle according to the nature and to evolve

[[e.g., a human being evolves into the immortal child of God]]

for achievement of purposes at other levels of complexity

[[e.g., the state established with the purpose to secure existence of a small nation evolves into the mighty empire;
a small business enterprise evolves into the multinational corporation]]

For instance, for three levels of complexity — the human mind → a human being → a human establishment — the meaning of wisdom is preservation of life↔existence↔process of accomplishment of purposes at the time–space–complexity settings a human mind, human being, and human establishment are accommodated, and evolution/development of potency to accomplish the purposes at another level of complexity:

a/ at the level of human mind, wisdom is the power that enables and sustains survival and evolution of the human mind and makes possible successful accomplishment of purposes, for the sake of which the mind creates systems – societies, kingdoms, states, empires, civilizations

b/ at the level of a human being, wisdom is a component of human nature created in image and after likeness of God, the state/condition of intellect, which reveals itself through the ability to accept the life–sustaining energy and power from God and to embody them into own actuality; for instance, to accept, to absorb/assimilate, to create, and to use knowledge necessary for creating, maintaining, and using systems and establishments, with which a human being sustains life, accomplishes purposes, and evolves for the next phase of existence; in other words, wisdom is an ability to accomplish the will of God and the works, for the sake of which a human being has been created

c/ at the level of human establishment–system, wisdom is the synergy of the forces that maintain the system’s existence and development according to the creator’s design, and secure accomplishment of the purposes for the sake of which the system has been created.

Wisdom has the greatest significance for the one's life and well-being, because it defines the main factors controlling human existence and leads to accomplishment of the main purpose – obtaining life everlasting in the presence of God:

Sometimes, words wisdom and knowledge are used as synonyms; however, there is a difference.

Knowledge is the power to think, to speak, to act reasonably, for achievement of a purpose. The essence of true knowledge – the knowledge given by the Word–God, Lord Jesus Christ Who is the Truth {John 14:6} – is the Divine energy of creation embodied into the human reasoning–mind, which brings forth the fruits: thoughts that are created on the foundation provided by the knowledge of God.

Only if the mind comprehends the law that controls the nature (the nature of man, the nature of the world that accommodates existence of man, and the nature of events and things that might be a subject of interest), the mind obtains the actual power to act and to achieve its purposes. If human knowledge is true (adequate to the actuality), it gives the actual power to act purposefully, efficiently, and successfully.

Only if the mind comprehends the law that defines and controls the nature [[the nature of man, the nature of the world that accommodates existence of man, and the nature of events and things that might be a subject of interest or are needed for achievement of purposes]], the mind obtains the actual power to act and to achieve its purposes.

From the practical point of view, human knowledge is true – adequate – reflection of the complete reality of human existence and comprehension of the laws that sustain and control the world of men, only if it gives the actual power to act purposefully, efficiently, and successfully; all these in compliance with the laws that control a/ the world and b/ the reality, within which the knowledge is applied for accomplishment of some purposes.

For instance, a human being obtains everlasting life – enters the reality of eternal kingdom of God, only if he has true knowledge of God and lives in compliance with His law/commandments {John 14; 15; 16; 17}.

Hence, the knowledge of truth is the knowledge of God Who created the Law, and the knowledge of Law, on which the world is built. Sin is violation of the Law, therefore, an inability to accomplish the purposes man was created to accomplish. Sin as failure to accomplish purposes of creation of the good always is based upon false knowledge.

General inference: knowledge is associated with the abilities to act consistently with the nature of the world, or at least, a part of it, to which the mind is related by the nature and purposes of its activities.

There are plenty of definitions of knowledge; usually, they reflect the purposes of the researchers.

For instance, knowledge is defined as — the systematized concept of the world determined as an objective truth, or the actual world itself as it is unveiled to the self–consciousness mind [Harris, 243]

— causal revealed by “universals” [Daston, 40].

In my works, knowledge usually denotes the state of knowing as readiness/having the power for reasoning, creation of thoughts, devising of purposes, and accomplishment of actions: knowledge sustains the power/potency to think, to speak, to act reasonably, for achievement of a purpose.

The mind exists and accomplishes its purposes by operating with knowledge [[see The Mind]], through cognitive activities, perception, absorbing–learning, creation, and dissemination of knowledge.

Knowledge is the central stratum of the logical reality that consists of wisdom, knowledge, and information.

Wisdom, knowledge, and information belong to the different levels of complexity.

For instance,

– information is a set of data – quantitative parameters, simplified verbal descriptions, and definitions of a particular event, phenomenon, action, of everything consumed by the mind for the purposes of self–orientation, for making decisions, and for preparedness to act or to refrain from actions

– knowledge is a set of assumptions created by the mind from the analysis of information and data; possession of knowledge signifies cognition of the reasons and laws, which make possible existence of facts, events, systems and understanding of their origin, co–relations, and the results/end; as such, knowledge is seen as the state of preparedness to act accompanied with the justifiable expectations of the definite outcome, for instance, a particular Future

– wisdom is the power that secures the mind's existence, operations, development of the highest potency – evolution, and accomplishment of the purposes with the means that include creation and application of knowledge and use of information.

In theological interpretation, wisdom is the gift of God bestowed upon the mind that serves the purposes of God. Only the normal mind that operates in compliance with the law of God – according to its nature and the nature of the world – may obtain wisdom, firstly, as understanding of the nature of the world and all its components, and then, as the power to apply this knowledge for achievement of the purposes.

With each day, the world becomes hungrier for information and knowledge identified with the foundation of the technical progress and seen as the source of elimination of all problems of mankind. Books, magazines, media, all nodes of the world–wide web – all of them are about information and knowledge: knowledge–based societies, information infrastructures, data centers, knowledge creation, data–knowledge–intellectual property transfer, protection, availability, limitation, etc., etc., etc.

The information streams sustain (and mirror), feed, empower/deprive of power, enable/disable to function, and create/destroy the financial, political, social, religious, scientific, and educational establishments.

The political, social, research, educational, and other systems have accumulated data, information, and some kinds of knowledge in the scales unimaginable for the previous generations.

Everything is immersed and entangled into the information flow: everything consumes information, generates additions to existing streams, and arranges–intertwines them into the information webs and networks.

Information and particular kinds of technical knowledge have grown into the most valuable and most sought after assets. Seemingly, information underwent transformation into the meaning of reasoning, into the main currency, and into the main weapon of destruction. Unauthorized access, use, and theft of data and information became the most dangerous [[after total physical annihilation]] threats to the wealth and well–being of the states, nations, societies, markets, corporations, and people.

However, the skills to describe the streams of information by physical parameters and by the terms of quantity and directions of movement, to accumulate multitudes of the sets of data and to arrange interactive databases, to apply the primitive language of mathematical symbols for description of mental processes during the work with information, – all these accomplishments do not result in creation of true and comprehensive knowledge, which is necessary for decision of the current problems.

For example, cyber crimes, unauthorized access and use of digital information confirm insufficiency and inadequacy of the existing knowledge of the cyber realm.

Another problem: is mankind happier, or more intelligent, or more humane today than it was, for instance, three thousand years ago? The increased scale of information and its fruit – technical progress – have not exterminated suffering, hunger, poverty, diseases of mind and body, crimes, wars, inhumane laws, persecutions of the different-minded, environmental pollution, which plague the entire world without discrimination. Now, the richest countries began to experience the same set of problems as the poorest countries have, although some of them, still, in the lesser scales. The spiritual life of the contemporary societies is not different from, for instance, the Phoenician civilization: the different appearance of idols and rituals of idol-worship, interpretation of symbols, and dream worlds does not mean that the essence has been changed.

The ocean of data has not increased the inner good and has not improved the disposition toward neighbors – those living next door and those living behind the sea.

The current common perception of knowledge and information and their correlation is based upon two assumptions:

1/ this something that now is referred to as knowledge demonstrates the complete cognition of the laws stipulating origin, existence, development, and termination of phenomena, events, conditions, systems, which in the entirety of their co-relations compose the mankind's universe

2/ accumulated mega-collections of metadata will eventually [[somehow, with some magic intervention, perhaps, or, as the Marxist logic postulates, because of the "law" of transformation of quantity into quality]] become knowledge needed for advanced security, improvement of life, and desirable social and cultural progress.

These assumptions are wrong. If to judge by the contemporary conditions of life, levels of development of states, societies, and nations, wars, violations of the basic human rights, problems with health, education, quality of life, safety, children, families, investments, integrity of information – with everything, which defines the meanings of happiness and might cause sorrow, the only logical inference could be made that the true knowledge of actuality (as well as the archaic wisdom, which the sages of the Past named the source of knowledge) seems to be not the actual possession of — those who control–rule–govern–maintain–guard–educate the contemporary societies, states, and nations

— the ordinary people, who allow the ignorant ones and the hypocrites to stand at the place of the wise and to deprive all the others of the knowledge of God, who allow the blind leaders/rulers to lead the blind followers/subjects into the pit {Matthew 15:14} of poverty and destruction, and who allow the propagandists fighting for access to the power of coercion and self-enrichment to treat people as the human herd–slaves without the faculty of deliberation by defrauding them with false praises, false promises, slogans, and words empty of reason.

In summary, possession of information does not mean possession of knowledge, and possession of knowledge does not mean that it may be used wisely.

24 The Christians are the small group of the ones who know and worship the Triune God, the only One True God, and who live, or at least attempt to live, by His commandments/law – by love and mercy to the others. Presently, some of them are identified as the Orthodox Christians: they have accepted the original Christian Teachings given by the Word–God – Lord God Jesus Christ, and they keep the traditions established by the Apostles of Lord God Jesus Christ.

Hence, the Christians are the ones who – accept The Ten Commandments and commandments of Lord Jesus Christ as the law of God the Creator {Matthew 5:17–20, 21–48; 6; 7; 19:16–26; 22:36–40; Mark 12:29–34; Luke 10:27–37; John 13:34–35; 15:12, 17; Exodus 20:1–17}

– believe in Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Word–God Who gives knowledge that is the everlasting life {John 3:16–21, 31–36; 6:28–58, 63–69; 11:25–26; 17:3, 6–26}

– live by the words–commandments–law of God and accept the Word–God and His words as the Absolute Truth {John 14; 15; 16; 17}

– worship the Triune God, the only One True God in Spirit and Truth {John 4:23–24; 10:30; 12:44–50; 14:6–28; 15; 16; 17}

– love Lord Jesus Christ and accomplish the will of God by observing His commandments–words–law and embodying them into own daily life {Matthew 7:21–23; John 14:15–17, 23–24}

– confess the Christian faith according to The Nicean Creed, which defines the essence of the monotheist Christian religion; The Nicean Creed was composed in 325, by The First Ecumenical Council of Nicea.

The Nicean Creed

"I believe in one God, the Father, Almighty, Creator of Heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father before all ages.

Light of light, true God of true God, begotten not created, of one essence with the Father, through Whom all things were made.

For us and for our salvation, He came down from heaven and was incarnated by the Holy Spirit and the Virgin Mary and became man.

Crucified for us under Pontius Pilate, and He suffered and was buried, and on the third day He rose according to the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.

And He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead. His kingdom will have no end.

And in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the Giver of life, Who proceeds from the Father,

Who together with the Father and the Son is worshiped and glorified, Who spoke through the prophets.

In one, holy, catholic, and apostolic Church.

I acknowledge one baptism for the remission of sins.

25 See The Law of God – Supplement 1 to this file.

The Holy Scriptures speak of the law of God – the law on which the universe is established, and according to which a human being was created, lives, and dies as of the main definition of life. According to the law, all things come into being, exist to accomplish the will of God, and then, either complete/end/exit their time–range of existence or evolve (develop and reach the higher complexity – the potency to accomplish other purposes of the Lord).

Knowledge of the law of God enables the mind to compose own knowledge of the world and to cognize the nature of things, which God created for man: as the prophet says: Αποκαλυψον τους οφθαλμους μου, και κατανοησω τα θαυμασια εκ του νομου σου – unveil Thou my vision, and I shall perceive the wonders out of Thy law {Psalm 118(119):18}.

As soon as the mind comprehends the law of God, it becomes able of foreseeing the future of those things that are open for its observation, analysis, and cognition. In a process of cognition of the law of God and analysis of things out of the law (εκ του νομου – out of the law: the law is the reason why the things came into being), the mind creates new knowledge, which it uses for own development, for comprehension of the world, and, if it is empowered, for control and improvement of things that compose the world given into the dominion of man {Genesis 1:26–28; 2:7–8, 15, 19–20; 9:1–7}.

The common view is that one of the most valuable (because it is the most sought after) results of knowledge of the law of God is knowledge of the future.

So, what is the law of God? Then, how the mind that is devoted to God and is seeking knowledge of His law could be enabled to know the future?

Only God the Creator knows the future of the world He created and the future of His creation – man whom He made for accomplishment of His purpose. The chosen ones, the prophets – messengers of God and the apostles of Lord God Jesus Christ, received revelations of the future, so, they conveyed the particular knowledge – prophecies forewarning of the future things to come, particularly, if some ways and conditions of life are not changed [[for instances, warnings, “curses,” and signs of Moses {Deuteronomy, esp. 28:45–47}; prophecies in the Books of Prophets {Isaiah, Jeremiah, Hosea, Malachi, and other Old Testament prophets}; and then, culmination in the times of The New Testament {Matthew; Mark; Luke; John; Epistles of the Apostles; Revelation}]].

With this knowledge, the mind received the guidance, became capable of evaluating own progress/failure, and, by learning the consequences of violations of the law of God, was enabled to perceive the future as the outcome of thoughts, words, and deeds of men who act according to their knowledge, for achievement of their purposes, and within limits of their potency.

[[For instance, if to accept that everything within the world perceivable by the mind is embodiment of knowledge of the good and of the evil, it could be acknowledged that a/ the mind works with two sets of possible futures: development/evolution, and collapse/disintegration

b/ the future is a definition of a particular state of a particular human being and his creation(s) – system(s)/establishment(s) into which he embodied the knowledge of the good/evil he obtained and which he made for accomplishment of some purpose(s) c/ the future is the open system, which, although has the universal law as the definition of the nature (creation, existence, evolution, termination, maximal time–range of existence, maximal potency, etc.), might evolve/collapse differently, reaching the different levels of complexity/simplification, because the operating knowledge (operating knowledge, or the power to act, is the summary of cognized/absorbed knowledge of the good and the evil that the mind uses for embodiment into words, actions, systems, establishments), which it applies for own works and conveys to the others, is defined with many variables. The variables include parameters of the time–space–complexity point at which the mind came into being, exists, and evolves or degenerates. The main factor is complexity defined by knowledge of the good and the evil, which the mind cognized/absorbed/created.]]

In brief, knowledge of the law and consequences of its violations sustain survival of men and define the meaning of the proper life leading to achievement of the main purpose of existence – accomplishment of the will of God.

The significance of the law can be inferred from the dogma that everything in the world came into being, exists, and comes to the natural completion according to the will of God the Heavenly Father.

Thus, the human mind comprehends the will of God as the being/life consistent with His purposes, consummated/evolving according to His plan/design issuing from and accomplished through manifestation of the Uncognizable Absolute – the Unity, from Whom the Almighty Divine Power, Divine Energy, and the Divine – Universal – Law come to create, to sustain, and to lead to completion the world perceivable by man. Anything that deviates from the way consistent with the will of God (violates the law of God) comes to the unnatural and violent end – deprivation of reason, insufficiency, hunger, suffering, collapse, annihilation, death; all these evils come through corruption, immorality, wars, unrest, revolutions, crimes, lethal diseases, natural disasters (drought, flood), perplexity and darkness, fearful, weak, and debilitating heart–mind that worships visible perceivable idols because it is unable to perceive God (cf.: Deuteronomy 28:15–68; Isaiah 5:24–30).

The law out of which the world is (the universal law) reveals to the human mind the way through which the will of God the Father is accomplished within the world of men. This law is definition of the nature, and its revelation to man is manifestation of the Perfect All–forgiving Love of God (cf.: Deuteronomy 4:13, 39–40; 6:1–9, 13–19; 7:7–15; 30:1–20; Matthew 22:36–40; John 3:16–18; 6:38–40; 1 John 4:16–21):

a/ knowledge of the law (therefore, cognition of the good, and comprehension of the nature of things, through which the mind cognizes the good and the evil and into which it embodies knowledge created as the result of cognition of the good and of the evil) triggers the human evolution at the earth as the process of obtaining the life everlasting (e.g., Ezekiel 33:8–20); this evolution is completed when a creature of dust becomes a child of God born of God (cf.: John 1:12–13; 3:5–7; 1 John 5:1–4)

c/ the purpose of observance of the law is development of the ability to perceive the Absolute Good – the attribute of God, which man has to imitate through imitation of mercy and perfection of God {Matthew 5:44–48; Luke 6:35–36}: cognition and observance of the law is cognition of the good that is necessary for transformation into the embodiment of the good of man capable of dwelling with God – the living temple into which the Holy Spirit comes {John 7:37–39; 14:15–17, 23–26}; without such a transformation – birth of God the Spirit, a human being is not able to obtain the everlasting life in the presence of God (cf.: John 1:12–13; 3:3–7; 4:24)

d/ man enters the life everlasting only accepting and accomplishing the words of Lord God Jesus Christ Who came to fulfill the law revealed through the prophets and Whose earthly life is manifestation of the Absolute Good – the Perfect Love of God: He committed His Soul [[“την ψυχην αυτου τιθησιν” – John 10:11; τιθησιν from τιθημι (also θη – John 15:13) – put, place, offer, commit; the primary word is either ancient Θεω – to run or Θεο – complete, as the root of words defining Θεος – God]] for salvation of man and declared knowledge of God the Father that is the everlasting life {Matthew 7:21–27; 18:11–14; Mark 10:45; Luke 6:46–49; John 1:1–18; 5:24–25; 10:11; 15:13; 17:1–3, 23–26}.

In the very beginning, when the law was given, man learned that God instructs and corrects man as a man instructs and corrects his son, and that God has pity on man as a merciful father has pity on his son; so, man shall keep the commandments of God and walk in His ways, and to fear Him {Deuteronomy 8:5; Psalm 102(103):8–13}.

With coming of Lord Jesus Christ, the Word–God, the Savior and the Redeemer, man was given the authority to become a child of God born of God; he also learned the meaning of the perfect law of freedom and perfect love in which there is no fear {James 1:25; 1 John 4:14–21; 5:1–4}. After the one has learned the commandments/words of God and began to embody them into own thoughts, words, and actions, he become able of comprehension the true meaning of freedom – freedom from evil and sin. Along with evil and sin, fear vanishes, and the one dwells with God and in the love of God according to the promise of the Word–God {John 8:31–36; 1 John 4:7–21}.

In summary, one of the interpretations of the law of God, which assists in comprehension of the Perfect Love of God, is fostering of development/evolution of the creations of God: any human being is expected to evolve into a child of God capable of withstanding the presence of God during the eternity. Such development (or evolution) begins with observance of the law – commandments of God {Matthew 19:16–19; Luke 10:25–37}, proceeds through imitation of perfection and mercy of God {Matthew 5:36–48; Luke 6:27–36}, and is completed with development of the ability to love the others as God loves His creations {John 13:34}.

In conclusion, as it can be inferred from the Books of the New Testament, the purpose of the law is to secure the normal growth of the seed planted by God (the Word–God accepted by the human soul–heart–mind) into the mighty tree (a child of God destined for the eternity with God) with the great branches under the shadow of which the birds of heavens are able to roost or, in other words, to transform the dissipating structure of dust into the indestructible temple of God built on the precious Stone and destined for the eternity

{cf.: Mark 4:2–33; Luke 17:20–21; John 1:12–13; 14:23; James 1:18, 21; 1 Peter 2:4–10; 1 Corinthians 3:16–17}

As soon as the most visible consequences of violations of the law of God are suffering and death, some theologians came to the blasphemous doctrines, which portray God as the source of the evil [e.g., Thomas Aquinas Summa Theologica I Q.48 a3; Q.49 a1 ro1, a2, a3; Q.103 a7; I–II Q. 93 a3 ro2, a4; III Q.6 a1 a; Truth Q.3. a4 ad7, ad8; Q.5 a2 r, ad4; Summa Contra Gentiles III 4, 6, 7, 10, 11]. They not only absorbed heathen philosophy and practices of the heathen diviners: they invented heresy that is much worse than the ancient heathenism is. They asserted the rights of man to overthrow the law of God with own decrees, to usurp the place of God in His temple, and to modify the meanings of the good and the evil transforming freeman–creation of God into a slave of worldly corrupted establishment striving for the world domination. Ultimately, they began to persecute the true (Orthodox) Christians and burn at stake the different–minded (“heretics”). They have lost the remnants of understanding of the nature of the good and the nature of the evil and, therefore, became incapable of discerning the embodiments of the evil within the world of men. As Isaiah the prophet has foreseen {Isaiah 59:3–15}, their ways became crooked ways of wickedness, bloodshed, and iniquities.

However, God did not create death, and the evil does not exist in the presence of God. By committing himself to the evil – that is by violating the God’s law–commandments, man commits himself to death {cf.: Isaiah 28:15–19; Ezekiel 18:31–32; Romans 6:23}. The direct connection between sin and death is the meaning of the law for the unrepentant sinners who

- 1/ do not believe in Lord God Jesus Christ
- 2/ do not observe the commandments of God
- 3/ do not cease doing the works of the evil.

The law of God is the universal law: it controls the nature of the world, including the human nature, because the law enables the direct connection between the good and the continuing life for accomplishment of the will of God

and
between the evil and annihilation/death

It means that within the world created by God, only a being that accomplishes the will of God (therefore, exists and evolves in compliance with the law) enters the next phase of life: only the one who lives by observing the commandments of God and doing the works of God, becomes the child of God and enters the life everlasting.

The power of law could be inferred from the words of Lord God Jesus Christ Who came to fulfill the law revealed through the prophets according to the will of God the Father:

everything exists for the sake of accomplishment of the will of God the Father
all those who accomplish His will are connected into the multitude serving God the Father
everything will be accomplished in full compliance with the will of God the Father, and in the time allotted by God the Father {Matthew 5:17–18; 24:33–51; 26:38–39, 42; Mark 3:34–35; John 4:34; 6:38–40;
Daniel 7:9–10, 13–14; Revelation 21:1–8; 22:1–5, 12–15}

Furthermore, the power of the law over the creations out of the law is absolute, because only this something that is in full compliance with the will of the Creator and that works according to His purposes is empowered to complete a natural phase of existence and to reach the fulfillment according to its nature. God warned His followers that the earth and the heavens will cease their existence, yet the entire law shall be fulfilled – He himself came to fulfill the law and the prophets (through whom the law was revealed), not to annul it {cf.: Matthew 5:17–18}.

Consequently,

– in the world of man, whoever violates the law, therefore deviates from the human nature, is doomed to disorder (mental and physical abnormalities, ills, diseases), and premature death (annihilation), because he has no power to complete existence according to his nature and to reach the level of development needed for the next phase – the kingdom of God – in the world, which accommodates existence of mankind, is the similar setting/pattern: whatever deviates from own nature loses the abilities of normal functioning and normal reproduction, and perishes.

In the contemporary terms, law might be defined as the main code for creation, maintenance, control, and annihilation of purposeful developing entities–systems–living beings.

The Universe is an embodiment of the creative energy of God. At the levels accessible for the human mind, the divine creative energy is the source of the universal energy: this energy is available for creation and maintenance of existence of realities and systems within the world perceivable by human senses.

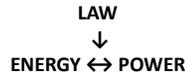

The universal/main pattern–code of energy transformations – the law – defines the nature, time–range of existence, way of disintegration, and other parameters of the universe composed of the energy and its derivative – the matter structured at the different levels of complexity.

The law might be envisioned as the main code according to which, within the chaos/pool of reserves, the purposeful system–reality–universe is arranged/comes into being. The chaos/pool of reserves consists of the derivatives of universal energy: the energy forms, reversible units energy←→matter, reversible and irreversible structured matter – elements, force fields, and other components necessary for creation and sustaining of life.

Life is the purposeful cycles of transformation of the divine energy of creation/universal energy at the different levels of complexity; these cycles of energy transformation are completed with creation of purposeful developing wholenesses/living beings accommodated within time–space–complexity settings.

The unity of three inseparable correlated components is needed for any act of creation [[creation is actualization of the law–code]], including creations of a living being:

- 1/ law→code that is defined by the will→purpose and accomplished with power↔wisdom↔energy
- 2/ energy→source of all forms of the energy and its derivatives, such as energy fields and energy–information–matter, from which the perceivable visible universe/world consists having been created according to the will→law and by the power→wisdom
- 3/ power→force→will→wisdom→ability to transform↔apply↔use energy according to the law/code:

The law controls the nature of each wholeness/system/reality/living being that exists for a purpose; a purpose is to actualize the set of transformations of the universal energy at particular level(s) of complexity. The essence and meaning of purposes, conditions, and results of energy transformations define the system's nature.

In general, the law has three main functions:

1/ creation of a purposeful wholeness

2/ maintenance of the compliance–harmony–compatibility of all components of a system → reality ↔ universe ← wholeness to the conditions, which sustain life and make possible development → evolution of the system → reality ↔ universe ← wholeness

3/ annihilation of the system → reality ↔ universe ← wholeness, which deviated from the law and became incompatible with the (super)system ↔ (super)reality ↔ (super)universe that has accommodated its creation and within which it was intended to accomplish the purposes for the sake of which it was created.

When a being/system deviates from the main pattern/code/law that describes the meaning, conditions, and results of its existence, it perverts own nature and becomes unable to access the energy that otherwise would sustain its existence. Hence, the main pattern/code/law stipulates not only the life–sustaining processes; it carries the program of annihilation, which is activated when the being/system perverts own nature and becomes incompatible with the supersystem that accommodates its existence. Therefore, the universal law defines life and death of each being/system:

The universal law also is referred to as the universal law of perfection, because it defines the optimum – e.g., the highest potency of creation of the highest good – of each system/being and directs each system/being toward the optimum; it provides one universal standard – the pattern of perfection as a derivative of the Absolute Good for each level of complexity [for instance, for a human being: to be perfect, as heavenly God the Father is perfect {Matthew 5:48}] defined by the Word–God, Λογος/Αγια Σοφια {Matthew 5:17–19; 22:37–40; John 14; 15; 16; 17}.

Consequently, the meaning of universality and perfection is compliance with the commandments–words of Lord Jesus Christ, the Word–God Who is the only Truth, the only Law, and the only Way of reasoning and fulfilling the law for the human mind that aspires to enter the eternity in the presence of God {2 Peter 1:2–11; 1 John; Ephesians 1; 2; Colossians 1; 2; 1 Corinthians 2:16; Revelation 22:1–5}.

Σ7 In general sense, for the mind, complexity is the universality of knowledge, which sustains the entirety of processes defining life of the world. Life then, might be seen as the totality of cycles of transformations of the divine/universal energy of creation at the different levels of complexity, while process of growth–evolution is purposeful change of the complexity levels; for example, development of the mighty tree capable to produce fruits with seeds from the smallest seed {Matthew 13:31–32}.

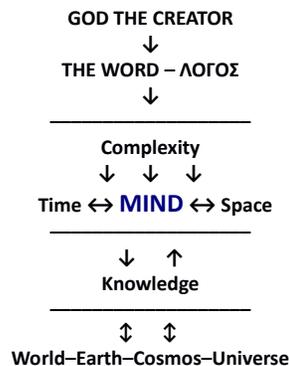

Complexity is the general setting correlated to Λογος – the universal code of creation: increase of complexity [advancement in knowledge: learning, creation, dissemination] signifies advancement of the evolving system – a human being – toward the desirable ultimate parameters, within which the being will be empowered to enter the next phase of existence – eternity.

The mind increases its complexity by creating knowledge of the actuality–truth – the knowledge adequate to the actual settings and parameters, with which the mind perceives–identifies–comprehends

— the reality–world–cosmos–universe that accommodates existence of the mind

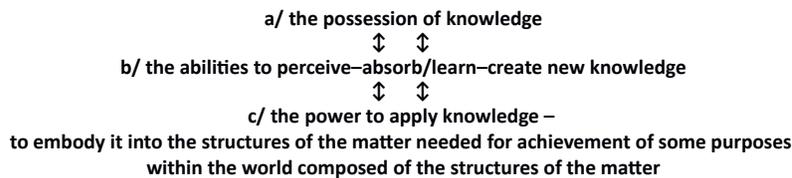

— the laws that control the reality–world–cosmos–universe that accommodates existence of the mind.

In general, the reality of the mind might be conditionally described with the following chart

For the mind at levels of consciousness and faculty of deliberation [see Chart 1. The Mind in Note 2 to this file], complexity is the universality of knowledge, which sustains the entirety of processes defining life of the world. Life then, might be seen as the totality of cycles of transformations of the divine/universal energy of creation into creations of man similar, for example, to development of the mighty tree, which can bear the fruits (with seeds) from the smallest seed {Matthew 13:31–32}.

For the mind as for an evolving system, complexity might be envisioned as the unity of three co-related and mutually enhancing phenomena, which (the unity) sustains the abilities to choose/set and to accomplish a particular purpose:

The ancient philosophers came to the conclusion that the world of living beings should be described in the terms of time—space—complexity—bound singularity: positions within dimensions of time and space and possession of the knowledge of life – complexity stipulate the Past, Present, and Future of any purposeful system. This world was created by God for a specific form of life initiated and accommodated within the vortex of the energy fields, which the human mind perceives through their manifestations—settings: time, space, complexity.

Within the settings, the divine energy issuing from God creates temporary structured matter, which is temporarily enabled to carry the eternal indestructible energy – the breath of God that makes the living soul of a body formed of dust (Genesis 2:7; Job 33:4).

Time and space are the temporary settings, which are not the part of the eternity: they accommodate temporary maintenance of the mind as the system evolving for the next phase of existence – the eternity.

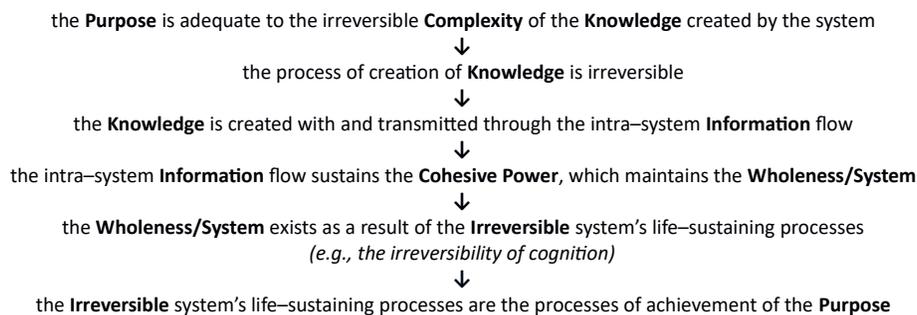

In the terms of systems—complexity theory, time might be defined as the system, whose essence is described with the correlation among the purpose, information, complexity, and irreversibility. This correlation not only constitutes the meaning of time; it determines the range of existence and the meaning of time for any system/reality within the time—bounded Universe.

Any hierarchical level/system/reality has own duration of time, as a period of movement from the point of creation for achievement of specific purposes through the accomplishment of purposes and to the consequent transformation or destruction.

As soon as the purpose exists, exists the time: the systems/realities advance by the irreversibility of cognition throughout their dimensions of the time toward their finite states, which had been designed as καίρος – completion achieved with accomplishment of purposes of their existence.

The purpose, knowledge, complexity, and irreversibility of cognition determine the essence of the dimension of time and constitute the nature or essential properties—features of any reality/system within the dimension of time.

The evolution, as an increase of complexity of the world of the matter, can be realized only within such a setting as the dimension of time, and only under the law of irreversibility of cognition. Irreversibility unifies a purpose, knowledge, and complexity in the logical chain:

Concerning irreversibility and the law of irreversibility of cognition:

— Irreversibility is impossibility to stop, decelerate, reverse, or interrupt the interminable purposeful transformations of the energy and processes of cognition governed by the universal law. Irreversibility in its exact meaning – impossibility to reverse a process – manifests itself when the structured matter is enabled to carry and to absorb the purposeful information.

In other words, irreversibility is the inseparable feature of the matter, which was structured for the achievement of a purpose

— the law of irreversibility of cognition controls the dimension of time; without irreversibility of cognition, the optimization and development as the increase of mind’s complexity are not possible (the increase of complexity is the development, also referred to as optimization and evolution).

— the law of irreversibility determines the possibility to accomplish the purposes, thus to achieve finality—definiteness of the results consistent with the system’s nature and assumed—created—conveyed knowledge.

Some researchers attempt to disprove the permanent character of irreversibility. For example, they refer to experiments with thermodynamic equilibrium in limited portions of the space, where elementary processes involving elementary particles can be reversed under specified conditions [e.g., Prigogine and Stenger 301]. Such property of quanta as existence in two forms – energy and matter – or discernible ability of transformation of the energy into the matter and the matter into the energy (...wave → particle → wave → particle...) confirms that reversibility is the natural property of the energy, which is the source of the matter.

The living wholeness, which is our time—space—complexity—bounded earth—universe composed of the infinite multitude of the energy—information—matter systems and realities, indeed, should have reversibility of the elementary components because the components of this wholeness undergo countless transformations in the constant (constant within the temporary singularity – time—space—complexity—bounded world) cycle of ... creation → transformation → disintegration → creation → transformation → disintegration → creation → ...

In general, reversibility should work only at the levels of complexity where the purposeful structures of the matter do not exist yet, or where reversibility is the natural property of energy, which has been transformed into the energy derivative ready to participate in creation of the matter. Perhaps, at the lowest level of complexity, reversibility is correlated with timelessness and therefore, with inability to serve any definite purpose within the world of the structured matter [see Concept of Time in The Invincible Empire, Chapter 2; or reprint in Note 20 to Introduction to the Systems Logic].

Two laws of irreversibility control the processes of evolution →development and stagnation →degeneration →collapse →ruin of civilization and any other system/establishment:

— the law of irreversibility of cognition

and

— the law of irreversibility of the matter, which has been structured (arranged into the purposeful system) for achievement of a particular purpose.

The law of irreversibility of cognition controls the dimension of time; without irreversibility of cognition there is no possibility to have

1/ arrangement of the time as the division between the Past and the Present, and between the Present and the Future

2/ the optimization and development as the increase of mind's complexity: increase of complexity is the result of accumulation–learning–cognition–absorbing life–sustaining knowledge; the increase of complexity is the development, also referred to as optimization and evolution.

The law of irreversibility determines the possibility to accomplish the purposes, thus to achieve finality–definiteness of the results consistent with the system's nature and assumed–created–conveyed–disseminated knowledge.

In accordance with the law of irreversibility of cognition, once learned knowledge does not perish; it sustains expansion: the knowledge of the good leads to the optimization–perfection–evolution; the knowledge of the evil results in stagnation–degeneration–collapse–ruin; with each new generation, the knowledge of evil demands more sacrifices and consumes more lives and resources.

Within the wholeness of the human mind, knowledge, complexity, and time–space dimensions are unified by the law of irreversibility of cognition, which sustains advancement of the mind – either on the way of development–evolution (cognition and actualization of the good) or on the way of degeneration–perversion/anti–evolution (cognition and actualization of the evil).

The law of irreversibility of cognition and the law of irreversibility of the matter are the laws, with which the temporal world of men is built: within the wholeness of the human mind, knowledge, complexity, and time–space dimensions are unified by the law of irreversibility of cognition

Furthermore, when the mind perceives, creates, or learns knowledge and accepts it as truth, it absorbs knowledge like soil/dust absorbs water; then, this knowledge a/ becomes the part of the mind — one of the components, from which the fabric/substance of the mind is arranged

b/ defines the subsequent thinking–cognition–creation–learning–disseminating of knowledge.

If the mind rejects the knowledge offered as the true knowledge, because it judged such knowledge to be false [[for instance, to be heresy]], the rejected knowledge does not influence the core knowledge – the knowledge of the Absolute – the knowledge of God, upon Whom the mind exists and by Whom it lives; however, the rejected false knowledge becomes the part of knowledge of the potency of the evil that facilitates survival within the world of the material things controlled by the evil.

In accordance with the law of irreversibility of cognition, once learned knowledge does not perish; it sustains expansion: the knowledge of the good leads to the perfection; the knowledge of the evil with each new generation demands more sacrifices and consumes more lives and resources. Within the wholeness of the human mind, knowledge, complexity, and time–space dimensions are unified by the law of irreversibility of cognition, which sustains advancement of the mind – either on the way of development–evolution (cognition and actualization of the good) or on the way of degeneration–perversion/anti–evolution (cognition and actualization of the evil). Once accepted as truth, false knowledge does not vanish: it penetrates all creations of the mind and sustains irreversible process of degeneration →perversion →collapse →ruin

The law of irreversibility of cognition and the law of irreversibility of the matter are the constant part of the laws with which the temporal world of men is built: within the wholeness of the human mind, knowledge, complexity, and time–space dimension are unified by the law of irreversibility of cognition.

When the ancient heathen philosophers encountered the phenomenon of irreversibility, they invented a special deity: the inexorable Fate, the embodiment of the power that keeps everyone in his very own inferno of fixed destiny as a slave is kept in fetters by his ruthless owner.

In the heathen world, the destiny is inexorable indeed, because, if there is no knowledge of the Law of God – the main Law that defines the human nature, each thought and each action might violate the Law. The violations of the Law lead to the perversion of the nature, that is to suffering, mental and physical illness, disorders of all kinds, and premature death. The way of the evil is the same for everyone and it has the same stages and the same end: nothing can be changed, because the main pattern of the evil always is unvarying:

degeneration→disorder→collapse→death→disintegration

In summary,

the time is the developing supercomplex chaotic reality/dimension

– where the universal law governs transformations of energy, which accomplish the purposes of evolution

– that accommodates system–creative and system–driving forces, which sustain existence, development, and optimization of the world of the matter – that consists from the infinite multitudes of derivatives of the universal energy – systems, realities, and supercomplex chaotic realities in pursuit of the maximal potency and the state of optimum – where each purposeful system/reality has three subsystems – the Past, the Present, and the Future. All three subsystems are formed by the energy transformation codes, by energy itself, and (at the discernible by the mind levels) by the products/results of energy transformations: energy–information and energy–information–matter – where the law of irreversibility secures existence of the Past, Present, and Future and determines their correlation

– where information is the carrier of irreversibility, which supports continuity of existence, interconnections, and interactions among three subsystems (the Past, Present, Future)

– that accommodates any purposeful system/reality and provides the settings for realization of the universal pattern of creation for any purposeful system/reality.

Therefore,

– three main features of finite and definite material structures, which come into being for a purpose, describe the nature of the world and all its inhabitants

[[a purpose is accomplishment of a particular cycle of energy transformation→manifestation→release]] – time, space, and complexity: time–space–complexity dimension/point(s) accommodate(s) existence of any being/reality/system created/arranged for a purpose(s) within the temporal world of mankind – complexity might be envisioned as perception/identification/reading of the energy fields that sustain life and operations of the mind within time and space.

28 For the Christians, “fear of God” is the fear to violate the Law of God by own thoughts, words, and deeds. God is love, and the one abiding in love abides in God, and God in him. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear, because fear has punishment, and the fearing one has not been perfected in love {1 John 4:16, 18}.

For a Christian, God is perfect Love; fear does not co-exist with perfect love, because perfect love casts out fear. Fear is linked with punishment: those who have fear have not been perfected in love, yet, those perfected in love have confidence in the Day of Judgment {1 John 4:16–18}.

If the one loves God and loves his brother, he fulfills both main commandments of God and becomes the dwelling-temple of God: on love to God and on love to brethren all the Law and the Prophets are hung {Matthew 22:37–40; John 14:23}. For such a man, the Day of Judgment will be the day of joy, because for him it will be neither fear nor punishment – he is protected and saved by the perfect Love that is by God.

The teachings of love is the cornerstone and the essence of Christianity; it is the foundation of freedom granted by God to all who accepts His Word and comprehends His truth {John 8:31–35}. To the contrary, the world, which rejected God and hates His followers {John 15:18–19, 23–25}, has another foundation: slavery with its inseparable companions fear and hatred. The world founded on slavery perceives freedom – and especially, freedom of the fearless spirit – as the greatest threat to its very existence: fear makes possible enslaving and sustains slavery. There is no possibility to conquer the world without fear, and those who have no fear cannot be transformed into – in Aristotle’s definition – human chattel or social animals–property–slaves of their own creations: political, religious, and social institutions.

Consequently, the greatest attack on Christianity began with modification of the teachings of perfect love that has no fear. In the third century, heresy of Origen initiated the open introduction of fear into the Christian theology [[see Origen]]. Following Gnostic traditions, Origen asserted existence of the secret knowledge hidden within Christianity – the knowledge intended only for the saints and for the mature, fearless, and bold souls of “guardians,” which have to supervise the “small and undeveloped souls” of the ordinary believers.

Origen’s perception of other men essentially, does not differ from Plato’s vision of his contemporaries: all the others are the inferior creatures, which need supervision.

Consequently, “the enlightened philosopher” Plato designed the Nocturnal Council – pre-cursor of the Inquisition to supervise the others’ beliefs and behavior and to punish for deviation, for instance, to imprison and to execute atheists and heretics: the heathenism also has its very own heresies, for instance, freedom of spirit and free thinking such as those for which Socrates was executed.

Origen introduced division into the Christian communities – the elite/guardians and the others; he implied necessity of a new kind of treatment: the others (the brethren whose sins were expiated by Lord God Jesus Christ) comprise the flock of “small and undeveloped” souls, which should live under supervision of the guardians – “doctors of the church or angels.” Moreover, a “small and undeveloped soul” should not be nourished with the words of God. The “small and undeveloped” souls must be kept in fear as children; the mystery of all-forgiving love of God should remain hidden, and they must be “fed on images” – the “spiritual milk” of images created for them by their guardians – theologians and “doctors of the church.” Such feeding makes the soul acquainted with “a taste of greater things” because anyway, the soul cannot desire something it know not [Origen God IV.953–958 342–343; Spirit III.638 240].

Consequently, if all-forgiving perfect love of God must remain mystery, the small souls should be kept in obedience through fear and firstly, through fear of punishment. Punishment and suffering occupy the special place in the Origen’s world. With the unhealthy lust, he discusses the intensity of pain and the Future of sinners. Concerning punishment of “the impure,” which as Origen believes would be “something worse than hell,” he commands to St. Paul the Apostle: “Name it, O Paul! Say what the punishment is!” [Origen God IV.912–919, 962 332–333, 347].

In fact, Origen created his own god: his god “torments the wicked,” but like a devoted father, “mitigates the torment with mildness” [Origen Soul I.54 51; Spirit III.448 185; God IV.919 333]. The Origen’s description resembles fantasies of the heathen philosophers who knew and judged their gods and who exalted themselves as “the tutors of humankind” [e.g., Seneca in: The Wisdom of Stoics 27]. Origen’s image of the punishing and torturing god and Origen’s self-mutilation are consistent with mentality of the ancient heathens–authors of Greek and Egyptian myths, yet they are not compatible with Christianity.

If to compare the Origen’s image of his god and his assertion of the necessity of fear [Origen God IV.912–919, 952–954; 962 332–333, 342, 347] with the texts of the New Testament, it is evident: Origen does not comprehend the essence and meaning of Christianity. His perverted concept of god who punishes and tortures his creations is completely incompatible with the Gospels and evidently has the roots in the heathenism. Origen’s thought operates within framework of Gnosticism, which conveyed many heresies into Western theology and facilitated advancement of the mentality of the inquisitors (for instance, the Plato’s second death of heretics and Cicero’s double punishment imposed by gods – mental tortures during life and such ignominy after their death that people joyfully approve the extermination of criminals [Cicero De Legibus II. xvii.44]).

Origen’s version of the Platonic–Gnostic doctrine of secret knowledge of the initiated and the assertion of necessity to conceal all-forgiving love of God, because the ordinary people must be kept in constant fear before the punishing and torturing god, inspired the consequent generations of “guardians” of the “small and undeveloped” souls. Origen’s adaptation of the heathen concept of torturing god not only facilitated incorporation of the heathen doctrine of fear and punishment into the teachings of the Western Roman Church; it began a new stage of degeneration of human societies, which initially had been granted the freedom of Christianity. Fear became the comprehensive foundation of all spheres of religious, social, and political life: heads and leaders of communities, churches, societies, and states kept the “small and undeveloped” souls of their subjects in constant fear before physical punishment and death of body in this world and in fear of eternal punishment and suffering in the after-life’s inferno governed by the sadistic “god” invented by Origen and embellished by his followers. Generally speaking, Origen and his followers deprived of true knowledge of God all those who had no other source of knowledge: the heathen teachings of fear took the place of Christian teachings of love.

As the history illustrates, interpretation of the fear to violate the law of God as the fear of God Himself [[Who was portrayed by some heretics as a punishing dreadful Superbeing]] became the root from which the worst heresies sprung. One of them is the infamous doctrine Compelle Intrare devised by Augustine the former Manichean who became the bishop of Hippo and one of the “fathers” of the Western theology. Augustine’s Compelle Intrare [[see Works of Augustine of Hippo]] contributed into the foundation, upon which the special institution – the papal Inquisition was created. The papal Inquisition [[during many centuries, the popes had the title of the Prefect of the Inquisition]] unleashed unspeakable evil upon the earth because of terror by persecutions, tortures, and executions of the heretics, the different-minded, and the Christians [[e.g., such as Ian Hus the priest]] who rejected the heresies of papal theologians, did not recognize the papal faith as Christian teachings, and did not accept the pope as vicar/substitute of God at the earth

For the Christians, reference to the “fear of God” – the fear to violate the Law of God by own thoughts, words, and deeds – is the reminder that a human being should always be very discreet and cautious in his thoughts, words, and deeds, especially concerning the others. Conscience and issuing feeling of responsibility for own thoughts, words, and deeds might facilitate development of the ability to foresee the consequences of own words and actions.

The fear of God is, in fact, the fear to violate the law of God by own thoughts, words, and deeds to become unable to live in the free world of Love, Wisdom, and Light to take the path into the eternal darkness of separation from God – into the realm of eternal death

{Deuteronomy 28; 29; 30:10–20; 32:8–42; Isaiah 59:2; Matthew 25:31–46; John 3:16–21, 36; Revelation 22:14–15}

Such fear, in fact, is the means of self-preservation, because any violation of the Law of God inevitably is followed with the distortion/perversion of the human nature, then, degeneration → perversion, and untimely death.

Σ9 See meaning of life as wholeness might be explained with the terms of systems theory.

Any living being is wholeness – a system with components/subsystems that came into existence for the sake of accomplishment of some purposes. The original name of the general systems theory [[1930s, creator – Ludwig von Bertalanffy (1901–1972), Austria–born researcher; Austria–Canada–USA [von Bertalanffy (1968)]]], from which systems logic has been derived, is the science of wholeness (see Introduction to the Systems Logic).

What then, is the wholeness/life, what is needed to live – that is to sustain/maintain the wholeness/life?

The Old Testament provides a hint that could lead to understanding how life is maintained and what does it mean to live.

It is written in the Book of Daniel {Daniel 12:10}: και ανομησων ανομοι, και ου συνησουσι παντες ανομοι, και οι νοημονες συνησουσι — the lawless ones shall stay lawless, and none of the lawless ones shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

Therefore,

The mental powers defined with words understanding → comprehension → being wise/prudent have the common feature, which, in Greek, is conveyed with word συνεσις/συνεσεως – reasoning, understanding, knowledge, common sense/sound judgment (also φρονησις).

This common feature is ability to perceive → synthesize → create a system/wholeness from the identified–perceived elements/pieces/parts/subsystems of the reality, within which the mind exists. This ability is manifested with

In Greek, all mentioned above words referring to wholeness have the same source of origin: the Minoan symbol V.

Probably, in the very beginning [[when the memory of knowledge that existed before the Babylonian confusion {Genesis 11:1–9} still lived, and the heathenism did not ruin minds of all thinkers yet]], the Minoans created the peculiar system of communication: the set of symbols intended to convey the fundamental blocks of life – in the contemporary terms, systems and realities, with which the world was arranged into the living perfect wholeness {Genesis 1; 2}. With this set of symbols, the Minoans attempted to convey comprehension of the super–complex reality capable of sustaining multitudes of living wholenesses created, unified, and controlled by one Law, sustained by one Power, and evolving into completeness of perfection according to the One Absolute Standard – the Absolute Good of God the Creator.

However, the main legacy of the Minoans became the false knowledge – the heathenism. Similarly to destiny of mysterious Σοφ, which was located on the island in the entrance of the sea and perished in the heart of the sea, and the prophecy concerning the prince of Tyre who set himself as god {in: Ezekiel 27; 28}, they took pride in their wealth and beauty, accepted dreams of imagination as truth, deified their kings, and thus, destroyed wisdom for the sake of the vanity. Then, the fire came from their midst, their mountains were moved into the hearts (depth) of the sea {similarly to as it is said in: Psalm 45(46):3; Ezekiel 27:26–27; 28:15–19}, and their civilization was annihilated.

The Minoans who survived destruction of their civilization [about 1100 B.C.] settled in different lands of the Mediterranean region, including Samos and Khios and in a coastal strip in West Asia Minor, where they fostered development of the Ionian civilization. The Ionians – Ιωνες, one of four ancient Greek tribes, were named after ιωνια – a field covered with lov/luv – dark–navy flowers (probably, violet); it is held that their civilization existed from 1150 B.C.; the end of it is not known.

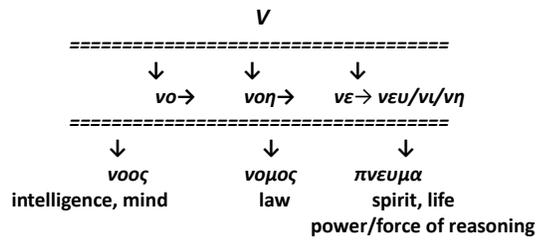

The Minoan–Ionian language became the language of Homer’s poems {Iliad, Odyssey, and Hymns}, and ultimately, formed the Alexandrian dialect and the Koine.

The Alexandrian dialect was the common version of the Greek, through which the diverse population of Alexandria (the city was founded in IV B.C., after the Alexander of Macedonia’s conquest of Egypt, and named after the conqueror) communicated, and into which the Old Testament was translated to become the Septuagint.

With the Koine – the common Greek, the New Testament was written down.

The traces of Minoan language of the realities still can be found in the original language of the Septuagint and the New Testament.

So, the Minoan symbol V signifies the unity of three most significant inter–connected concepts (intelligence/reasoning ↔ law ↔ spirit/life) that define the fundamentals of human life conveyed by the first tier of words derived from this ancient root:

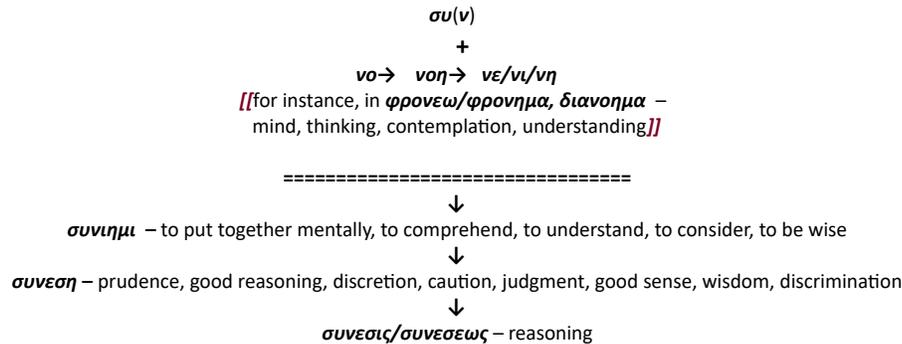

[[The consequent tiers of words that belong to the same reality include, for instance, νο-μευω – to shepherd/pasture sheep → νομη – grazing land, grazing flock, food, distribution, part → νομευσ – shepherd, giver; the frame of ship νο-μαιον – common tradition, custom → νομαιος – something customary, common → νομιμος – set by the law, observing the law νε-μω – to distribute–allocate–ascribe and to shepherd–guide–propel → νεμησις – distribution–assignment → Νεμεσις – goddess of just retribution.]]

Therefore, the Minoan reality conveyed with symbol V encompassed all relevant to law, reason, and life elements/parts of life, which were indicated with words derived of the same root: V → νο → νοη → νε → νευ/νι/νη.

Συνεσις is a compound word, which consists of

– συ(ν) – union, being together; as a part of compound words, συ(ν) – carries the meaning of completeness

– the derivatives of the mentioned above ancient root [[Minoan symbol V]] that originates words, which convey meanings of mind/intelligence/reason, law, spirit/life:

Thus, the law, the intelligence/mind, and the spirit/life are the components of the wholeness – reality, which the Minoans conveyed with the symbol V: the reality of life.

Consequently, the one could assume

1/ life as the wholeness might be envisioned as the unity of the intelligence, law, and spirit

2/ if

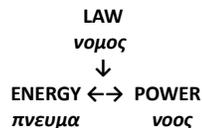

νομος – law – is the main code that defines the wholeness: its elements, operations of the elements, terms and parameters of operations – the range, conditions, and terms of life [[see Note 5 to this file]]

πνευμα – spirit – is the life-giving and life-sustaining energy νοος – intelligence/reason – is the force that sustains the wholeness–system arranged into the interactive unity of elements/components/subsystems, — then, wholeness/life is created by the energy πνευμα with the power νοος according to the law νομος

3/ creation of life is actualization of the interactive unity of

So, the one might comprehend the general idea of the inevitability of the choice between life and death in the warning that Moses {Deuteronomy 26:16–19; 28; 29; 30} gave to his tribesmen:

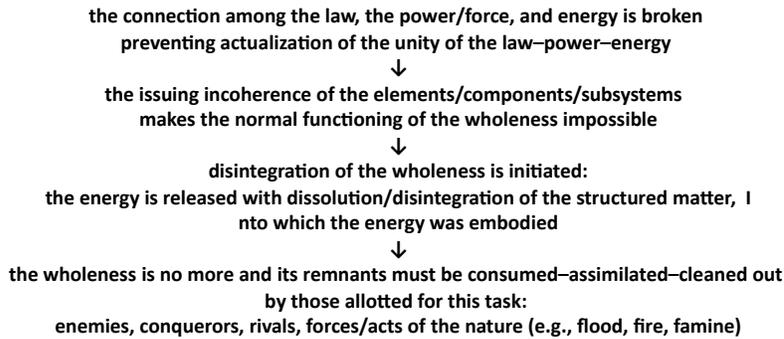

either

“blessing” — life–abundance–prosperity–peace–protection from the enemies, because of adherence to the law

or

“curse” — insufficiency–suffering–plagues–dishonor–slavery, because of violations of the law

Indeed, if the wholeness/system/being [[e.g., a human being]] does not use/apply its power/force [[intelligence/mind]] according to the law [[the law of God by which the mind should live]],

The precise moment of disintegration of a wholeness/system is defined by the time–space–complexity parameters, which determine the range–limits–meanings–terms of life/functions/operations/achievement of purposes. The ancient thinkers invented a special term to identify such moment: καρπος.

[[Καρπος is the moment–state–condition of actualization of the Law of God – the completeness either of evolution or destruction:

a/ the point, at which the system reaches the maximum either of its potency or of its weakness, which both result in impracticality/inability to exist at the present conditions and at the present level of complexity

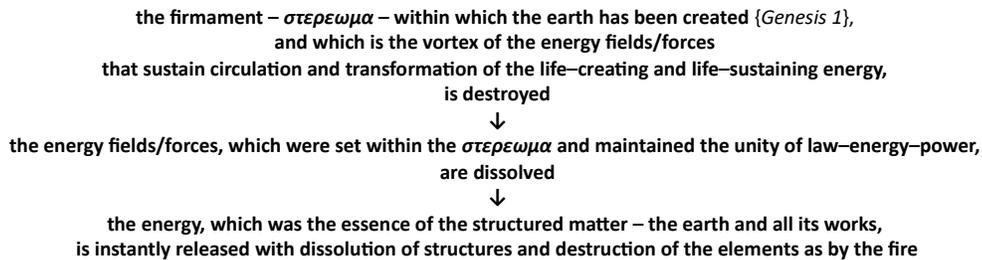

b/ the moment, when the system achieved all possible results it was capable of achieving within the allotted to it time–space–complexity settings, with the resources it was enabled to access, and through material things it was enabled to create–use–modify–consume–destroy

c/ the moment, when, within the present settings, further existence of the system is inconsistent with the purposes of the Creator.]]

It was told from the beginning: violation of the law (ανομια) burns as fire; because of their transgressions, people would be as those burnt by fire, and the earth would be set on fire {Isaiah 9:18–19; Malachi 4:1}.

The warning of St. Peter the Apostle concerning the end of the earth {2 Peter 3:10–11} explains the meaning of the “burning fire of iniquities” and illustrates the process of the release of the energy during disintegration of the wholeness that has broken the law, therefore, has to be destroyed: the heavens with rushing sound will pass away, the elements having burned will be dissolved, and the earth with all its works will be burned up.

Such end is possible if

In general, στερωμα is the framework or foundation for the set of energy fields made for transformations of the divine energy into a particular structured matter (e.g., water of the sea, dust of the land): the components of the world accommodating existence of mankind. Within the στερωμα {also called the Heaven – ουρανον in: Genesis 1:6–10}, the evolving world came into being {Genesis 1}.

So, στερωμα might be envisioned as the framework–firmament–heaven, which embraces the totality of time–space–complexity entities/networks composed with the energy fields controlling the cycles of energy transformation: life is a purposeful cycle of energy transformations. These settings or specific networks of the energy fields might be seen also as the unity of the interconnected worlds, which accommodate the developing totality of the cycles of creation {John 5:17} and sustain life of different kinds of living beings–embodiments of the divine energy accomplished according to the universal law and with the universal power. The unity of energy–law–power maintains the Heaven and the world of men.

From another angle of consideration, the one could envision the στερωμα of this world as a particular manifestation of the universal order/arrangement, or the reading of the Universal Code of creation – Λογος – on the particular levels of complexity. This reading of the Universal Code defines, creates, and sustains the arrangement of the energy fields allotted for the cycles of energy transformations, which create the perceivable structures of the matter at different levels of complexity. Life of particular beings – inhabitants of the world created because the Word–Λογος was spoken by God – is accommodated under the Heaven: within the στερωμα – fixed arrangement of the energy fields with the limits, which humans could perceive, for instance, with such parameters as pressure, temperature, light, darkness, radiation, and so on.

The connection between the law and normal operations of the establishment/system, which the law controls, is known from the beginning: all establishments/systems (e.g., empires, states, societies) of the Past and the Present have enabled at least some maintaining–defensive–protecting subsystems (e.g., services, armies, departments) charged with responsibilities

a/ to control significant (or even all) operations, behavior, transactions, and interconnections of the members/subjects, subsystems

b/ to conduct comprehensive surveillance

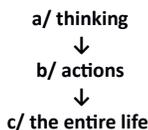

c/ to initiate the preventive, correcting, and punitive actions.

So, the ruling authorities/centers/leaders have understanding that the main laws, which secure survival and development of the establishments/systems they control, must not be violated, if disintegration of the establishments/systems is undesirable and has to be prevented.

If so, the strange puzzle comes to the light: why Homo sapiens – the crown of creation, the man of reason, assumes that he can violate the law of God the Creator *[[especially, the source/main law, on which all the Laws [The Ten Commandments] and revelations of the prophets hang {Exodus 20:1–17; Matthew 22:37–40; Mark 12:29–31; Luke 10:27–28}]* and still have happy–healthy–wealthy life of dignity in abundance of all things?

Then, if the first book given to a child is the book that explains the Law of God, and the main course in all educational institutions is the study of the Law of God, from the beginning, the mind is introduced to the actual reality of life – the reality of inseparable connection of the cause and the consequences, of the thoughts–words–deeds and responsibility for their results, for instance, impact onto the others.

bestowing upon the one, who is in the state of complete cognition, all of life and godliness – that is firstly, the power to think, speak, act according to the Truth and to accomplish the words of Truth making them the essence–fabric of own

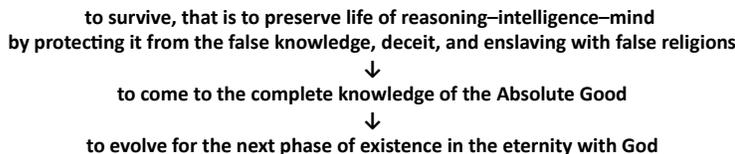

The one could comprehend the meaning of complete knowledge by reading the Second Epistle of St. Peter the Apostle also mentioned and explained by St. Paul the Apostle {2 Peter 1:2–11; Colossians 1:10–23}.

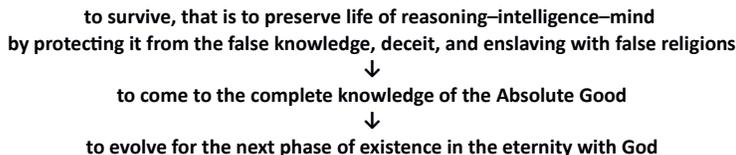

Complete knowledge might be envisioned/explained as the state of complete–abundant–carrying consequences cognition: the state of having been empowered to think, to speak, and to work according to the will of God that is with the knowledge of the Absolute Truth Who is the Word–God, Lord Jesus Christ the Redeemer and the Savior {2 Peter 1:2–11; conf. in: John; esp. in: John 14; 15; 16; 17}.

Thus, the essence of επιγνωσεως – complete knowledge of God, is manifestation of the Divine Power bestowing upon the one all of life and godliness {2 Peter 1:3–4; Colossians 1:10–23}.

Επιγνωσεως reveals itself [[or might be identified]] as possession of the mental power to achieve the purposes, for the sake of which the one has been born:

If the one’s mind obtained the complete knowledge–επιγνωσεως, επιγνωσεως reveals itself [[or might be identified]] as possession of the mental power to achieve the purposes, for the sake of which the one has been born:

The mind that has obtained επιγνωσεως or, in other words, entered the state of complete knowledge of God, receives from the Word–God – Λογος/Αγια Σοφια and from the Holy Spirit the special power: wisdom {John 14:1–27; 15:1–17, 26; 16:7–16; 17; Colossians 1; 2; Proverbs 2:3–12; Wisdom 1; 3; 6; 7; 8; 9}.

Σ12 The teachings concerning the Holy Trinity is given in the Holy Scriptures: initial or introductory knowledge – by the Books of the Old Testament, and completed knowledge sufficient for preparation for the eternity – by the Books of the New Testament.

The first Ecumenical Councils (431–870) composed The Nicene Creed and established it as the Absolute dogma of Christianity – confession of the Christian faith, which is the unchangeable and which is forbidden to assail by human modifications.

The Nicene Creed conveys the foundation of the monotheist Christian religion as it is revealed by Lord Jesus Christ, Who spoke of the only One True God {τον Μονον (only one) Αληθινον Θεον – John 17:3; Κυριος ο Θεος ημων, Κυριος εις (one–only/unified) εστι – Deuteronomy 6:4–5; Mark 12:29}, and as it is written down in the Holy Scriptures. The Nicene Creed reflects the following perception of the universe that embodies the unity of God with His creations granted through Lord Jesus Christ, accommodates existence of mankind, and reveals the wholeness of life:

THE ONLY ONE TRUE ALMIGHTY GOD THE CREATOR Ο ΘΕΟΣ ΠΑΝΤΟΚΡΑΤΩΡ ΠΟΙΗΤΗΣ

Lord Jesus Christ explained {John} the Only One True God as the Triune God, the inseparable indivisible Unity of – the Word–God begotten by the Father and working the works of the Father: the Word–God, Λογος, Who is the Glory and the Absolute Power of God the Father, Who is One with the Father, carries out the Law/will of God, and has everything that the Father has – the Holy Spirit, by Whom the word lives, Who dwells with and within the children of God empowering them to accomplish the will of God and to live by God and in God: the Holy Spirit takes from the Word–God, because everything that the Father has is His

– God the Father, from Whom the Word–God and the Holy Spirit come.

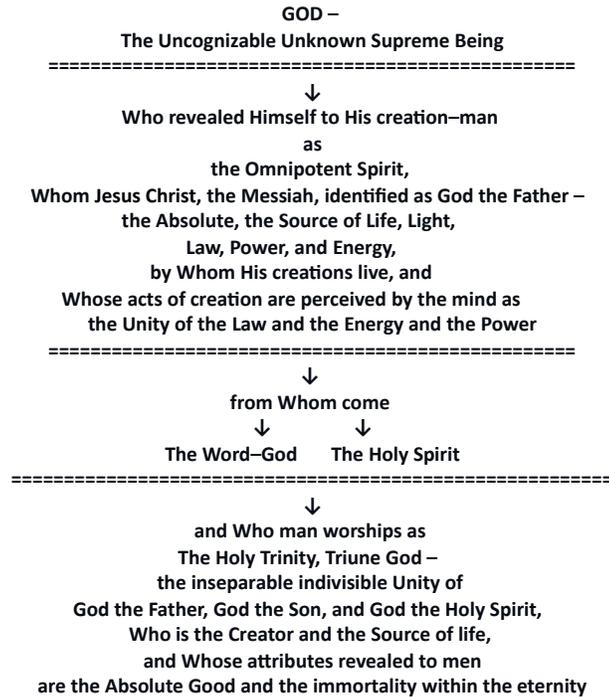

The act of accomplishment of the will of God is synergism – manifestation of the unity of the Law, the Power, and the Energy, when, according to the will of God the Creator, the Power applies the Energy to actualize the Law. As the result, new universe, new world, new living being, new life comes into being {Genesis 1: 2; Psalm 146(147):2, 3, 4; John; esp., John 1:1–18; 3; 4:23–24; 6; 10; 14; 15; 16; 17; James 1:17–18; Ephesians 2:10}.

The nature of human mind created by Lord Jesus Christ and living by the Holy Spirit is the unity with God the Creator {cf.: John 17}, and only with God, the mind finds wisdom, completeness and happiness of accomplishment.

Hence,

– Christianity is knowledge of the Triune God, the only One True God, given only to those who accept the commandments–words–law of the Word–God, who are empowered to receive the Holy Spirit, who live by the words of the Word–God by embodying the law/will of God the Creator into the actuality of their life – the ones who worship God in Spirit and Truth {John 1:1–18; 4:23–24; 6:28–63; 10; 12:44–50; 14; 15; 16; 17}

– Christianity is the realm, in which a human being breathes by the breath of life and lives by the Divine Law, Divine Power, and Divine Energy Whose Unity transforms the mortal creature of dust into a new being capable of everlasting life in the presence of God:

The inseparable unity of the Word of God, the Spirit of God, and God the Father Whose Law is the Perfect Love {Matthew 22:36–40; John 13:34–35; 15; 17}, creates and sustains existence of the world, in which the human mind has to mature–evolve: to cognize love and mercy of God, to acquire wisdom, to comprehend the Absolute Good, and to fulfill the will of God. By the Word of God the human mind is fed, by the Spirit of God it exists, and by the Law/Love of God it matures {John 6:28–63; 14:15–17; 15:26; 16:7–16; Luke 12:49}: reaches the perfection–optimum–readiness for immortality that is for the next phase of existence in the eternal kingdom of God.

The omnipotent almighty Power – Law – that is Love of God, sustains life–existence of the world and all created by God. This Power–Law–Love creates the wholeness of the mind and its world by giving the abilities to imitate love and mercy of God, therefore, to live, to survive, and to accomplish the purposes for the sake of which a human being exists. Without the wholeness of the undivided in its righteousness heart/mind, which knows and loves God and lives by His Law – the Law that opens the eternal life {Deuteronomy 30:11–20; Malachi 4:4–6; Matthew 5:17–18; Luke 1:17; John 5:38–42, 46; 12:44–50}, the mind is not able to accommodate the words of God and therefore, is not empowered to become the temple–dwelling of the living God {John 14:15–23}.

Consequently, without the Word–God,

the mind has no power to acquire wisdom in its Present

the mind does not have the Future – the life everlasting
{John 12:46–50}

Σ13 Sin is a violation of the law of God {1 John 3:4}: the lawlessness, the failure to achieve the purposes, an inability to create the good that is to fulfill the Law/will of God; thus, sin is an inability to accomplish the mission of man.

In Greek, sin is αμαρτια – missing the mark, inability to get something needed or desirable or proper.

Any violation of the law of God by thought, by words, or by actions is a perversion of the human nature [[e.g., idol–worship, assassination, adultery]], therefore, the crime against God, own nature, and other human beings. The law of God is the essence of the human mind–heart; thus, sin as ανομια – lawlessness, iniquity, illegality, wickedness – is anomaly or perversion inconsistent with the human nature: the one who is able to intentionally commit sin is not of God {1 John 3:8–10}.

Consequently, the sinner's own mind becomes his judge and executor: violation of the Law of God initiates the disorder or illness (mental or physical), which leads to degeneration, further perversion, impairment and collapse of the immune system, abnormal offspring, premature death.

The mind of a sinner, who violated the Law by the actions/words/thoughts inconsistent with the human nature, triggers off the abnormal mutation, which may result not only in lethal illness of the sinner himself: it may be transferred to his children. This simple link is known since revelation of the law [[The Ten Commandments]] accompanied with Moses' warning to his tribesmen concerning life—blessing to those who live according to the law of God and curse—death for those who disregard the law of God. Only mercy and all—embracing Perfect Love of God annihilates sin/evil and restores health of the sinner {Exodus 34:6–7; Deuteronomy 30:11–20; also cf. in: John 9:1–41; 1 Peter 2:1–10; 1 John 2; 3; 4; 5}, if he comes to understanding that he has committed sin, repents, and turns to God asking for forgiveness and healing. If unacknowledged, forgiven not, and unhealed, sin multiplies and the measures of the evil are filled by each consequent generation until the καρπος of the reality, in which the sinner lives, or which he has created and filled with his sin, comes before God {e.g., see: Isaiah 6:8–13; Matthew 13:10–16; 24; Mark 4:11–12; John 12:37–43; Genesis 6:12–14; 15:13–16}.

Sin also might be envisioned as the conditions of life, which make thoughts, words, and actions sinful [[or, from another angle of consideration, insufficient – giving no chance to achieve perfection, which is achievable only if a human being evolves according to the human nature: by accomplishing the law of God]] that is committed in unrighteousness, immorality, with evil intentions.

For instance,

– in the terms of immorality, sin signifies intentional disregard of knowledge of the virtues [[e.g., for media spreading corruption, perversion, and violence, which are inconsistent with the law of God]]

– in the terms of evil intentions, sin is any act — whichever justification their originators assert and in the name of whichever deity they commit it — leading to detriment, deprivation, and injury of any kind, which could result in depriving of the others of well—being, possessions, good repute, life.

Everything and anything that contains the seed of the evil, for instance, false assumption, becomes the evil and leads to the evil by making someone to sin.

Sin also might be identified as an illusion of own righteousness, self—identification as the one above the laws of men, indifference to the others and disregard of their needs and misery – physical or spiritual, and self—attributing possession of abilities to achieve the purposes when there are none.

The thoughts, words, and actions are sinful, if they are not originated by love to God, because of love to the others, and upon knowledge of God; then, they are lawlessness, and the one who creates—does them either has no knowledge of the law or disregards the law. Hence, the one who has such illusions is a dreamer [[e.g. as dreamers in Jude 8: ενυπνιαζόμενοι – the ones giving the power of life to the dream/spirit of night]], the one with the dreaming mind that creates phantasm and fantasies – figments of imagination, and lives by them.

For instance, the dreamer assumes that he is rich and powerful while he is poor and weak {e.g., in: Revelation 3:14–21}; he assumes that he would be able to survive, to live in prosperity and abundance, and to accomplish his purposes without observance of the law of God within the universe that was created according to the law/will of God.

Such assumptions are illusion, dreams, figments of imagination. Their creator and their consumers are sinners who operate with false knowledge, live by non—existing artificial worlds, and therefore, fail to achieve the purposes, which determine the meaning of human existence.

In other words, a sinner escapes into the imaginary world because either of his ignorance or of his unwillingness to accept the responsibilities before God and before His creations.

Ignorance of the mind makes the one insufficient that is capable of sin: insufficient knowledge, deprivation of the truth and insufficient love [[as well as open hatred]] to the others are the roots of sin [[sin is any evil thought, word, action]].

Lord God Jesus Christ {John 8:31–36} equated sinners to slaves:

everyone doing sin is a slave of sin

{John 8:34}

Hence, according to the words of God {in: John 8:31–47}, those accustomed to sin are the slaves of sin: the ones who live by the evil, who do the works of the evil, and who are controlled by the evil, because, within their mind, they do not have place for the words of God [[see Concept of Slavery – Supplement 3 to Selections_&_Reprints]].

Sin is a disease of the soul, which wastes soundness of body; only after man acknowledges his sins before God (that is after he comprehended the reasons of his failure and imperfection), he receives forgiveness, and then, he might be cured {Psalms 31(32):3–7; Luke 5:17–26, 30–32}.

Furthermore, the sins of our ancestors, for which forgiveness of God was not sought, as well as our own sins {Genesis 3:1–14; Exodus 34:6–7; Psalm 105(106):6} are the reasons of our misery: we eat the spoiled fruits, grown by all those who lived before us, as well as those, which we ourselves have brought upon the earth.

The Greek theologians considered sin as a state of the freely chosen death – death of the soul, which rejected God: although the soul is immortal, without God it does not have life, because if it does not live in God, it dwells in death [St. Maximus the Confessor 34 in: The Philokalia 2:244; St. Gregory Palamas §8 in: The Philokalia 4:295].

In general, the essence of sin is a failure to create or to cognize or to do good.

Sin also is making—giving place to—assuming—doing the evil

instead of creating—doing the good

¶14 The sad ending of the life of Moses whom God did not admit into the Holy Land, because he disobeyed His instructions {Deuteronomy 32:48–52}, should convince those who claim their way to God that exact following the instructions/commandments/words of God is the best way to arrange own life and to maintain the world (cosmos/universe) or a part of it given into own dominion.

In the New Testament, in 2 Corinthians 2:17, St. Paul the Apostle says: “we are not as many adulterating the word of God (εσμεν ως οι πολλοι, κατηλευοντες τον λογον του Θεου) but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, in Christ, we speak.”

Greek word κατηλευοντες is a derivative of κατηλευω – to be engaged in petty cunning trade, to adulterate, to corrupt, to cheat, to swindle; to distort, to pervert, to misrepresent.

Similar thought is in 2 Corinthians 4:2: “we have renounced hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor adulterating the word of God, but by the revelation of truth...”

Deceit, perversion, misrepresentation and other kinds of adulteration of truth – lies – are the deeds of the arch—evil that is a liar and the father of it {John 8:44}.

If the soul had rejected the arch–evil, learned to live by the law–words of God, it becomes the temple of God. Such soul became incompatible with the evil: it has cognized Truth, it is unable to spread lies, it has rejected hierarchies of the world without God, and it obtained freedom promised by God {John 8:31–32, 34–36; 14:15–17, 26–27; 16:13–15; 17; 2 Corinthians 3:17–18}.

Indeed, for any Christian who loves God as it is stated by the first greatest commandment, who accepted God as the Highest Holiness, Light, and Life of own soul that is the temple–dwelling of God, any adulterating, modification, misrepresentation, perversion of the words of God is impossible, and not only because it is the heresy, blasphemy and unforgivable sin: words of God are revelation of the will of God the Father carried out by the Word–God and by the Holy Spirit Who proceeds from God the Father. Then, sin against the Holy Spirit is unforgivable {cf. in: John 3:31–36; 5:63, 68; 14:26; 16:13–15; Matthew 12:30–36; 1 John 5:16}.

“The Lost Worlds

...Go up to the mount... and die in the mount whither thou go up...

...because you disobeyed My word...

...because you sanctified Me not among the sons of Israel...

...thou shall see the land, but thou shall not enter into it...

{Deuteronomy 32:48–52}

It happened after the chosen nation received The Ten Commandments. The people came into the wilderness of Sin, and it was no water to drink for men and for their cattle. So, again, as it happened many times before, the congregation rebelled against Moses and Aaron (Aaron was brother of Moses and the anointed priest). The people reviled Moses and rebuked him saying that he brought them, the “congregation of the Lord,” from Egypt [where – as they lamented – they ate flesh, bread, fish, onion, garlic, etc. – {Exodus 16:2–3; Numbers 11:4–20}], into the wilderness without fruits to eat and without water to drink. Moses and Aaron came to the doors of the tabernacle to meet the Lord. Lord God commanded Moses to take his rod (the rod of shepherd, with which Moses led the people from Egypt, was kept in the tabernacle; it was the symbol of authority given by God) and to call the assembly. Then, Moses and Aaron shall speak to the rock before them, and the rock shall give forth its water: they will speak and they will bring forth water out of the rock and give drink to the people and their cattle {Numbers 20:1–8}.

Moses took the rod; he and Aaron assembled the congregation before the rock, rebuked the disobedient people; and asked: “must we bring you water out of this rock?” Then, Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock with his rod twice; then, water came out of the rock, so the people and their cattle had water to drink {Numbers 20:9–11}.

However, Moses and Aaron did not follow the instructions of Lord God: the Lord did not say “strike the rock with the rod”; He said “speak to the rock.” The word spoken by the prophet and by the anointed priest had to bring forth water out of the rock, not action. Why Moses and Aaron did not follow the instructions of God? According to the Holy Scriptures, Lord God said to Moses and Aaron that they did not believe Him; they disobeyed His word and did not sanctify Him among the people. For this, they will not lead the people into the Promised Land {Numbers 20:12}.

This particular event has the special significance, because it reveals the responsibility of those who have to convey knowledge of God to His people.

This event had – to sustain faith in invisible, yet Omnipotent, God–Spirit – God–Creator Whose Word creates the world {Genesis 1:1–31; 2:1; John 1:1–3}

– to reveal the power of God–Spirit beyond the world of the matter – to foretell the coming of the Word–God Who would give His followers the living water of everlasting life {John 4:14}

– to sanctify God among the people, which He chose to carry His Law, to preserve it for the entire world, and to become the seed of His kingdom on the earth.

This event had to become one of the first revelations of the Word–God, for Whom the holy nation and the kingdom of priests was to be established. This was an opportunity at the very beginning {Deuteronomy 29:2–6} to engrave into the human mind the crucial knowledge which defines the evolution of mankind: the power of the Almighty God–Spirit is the Absolute power that, in the world of men, comes through the Word {Exodus 19:1–6; Psalm 147:15,19–20; 148:4–5; Zacharias 4:6; John 4:24}.

To the contrary, Moses made physical move and acted with a material object – with his rod. This rod was well known to the people. When God charged Moses with the task to bring out His people from slavery, He gave Moses the power to use the rod to demonstrate the power of God:

1/ to ignorant people who did not know their God yet, and who did not begin their road to the kingdom of priests yet

2/ to the ignorant idol–worshippers who worshiped material objects (statues made from wood, clay, stone, etc.) and used sorcery and magic to deceive. As a result of actions of Moses and Aaron in Egypt, the people could assume that the rod reveals the abilities similar to the skills of the Egyptian sorcerers. At their disbelief, at their level of perception and knowledge of God {Deuteronomy 1:26–33; 29:2–6}, they, obviously, did not take into consideration the facts that only through Moses’ prayers to God and communications with God (invisible to the people), the Egyptians’ sufferings were relieved, the Egyptian army was exterminated, and then, water and food were given in the barren and scorched wilderness {Exodus 4:1–5; 7:8–12,14–22; 8:5–15,28–31; 14:6–16,28–30; 16:11–15; 17:1–7; Numbers 11:1–32; Deuteronomy 29:2–6}.

Therefore, the actions of Moses intervened with the will of God: they opened a possibility of doubt, because they re–focused the attention from the power of the word to the power of action with the material objects.

For instance, the people could assume that it was a hidden reservoir within the rock, and Moses’ rod destroyed the obstacle – stone or even clay mass, which prevented water from flowing and kept it hidden under the rock’s surface. Then, even if it was no hidden reservoir, this miracle could sustain the authority of mortal men – Moses and Aaron, whose power would be gone with their death; it did not reveal the power of eternal God, therefore, did not sanctify the Lord among His people. The world, which would come into being if Moses and Aaron follow instructions of God, never happened. Now it is possible only to ask:

— did the Moses’ strikes destroy the wholeness of foundation on which the kingdom of priest would flourish?

— did one act of disobedience and disbelief bring forth the flow of acts of idol–worship and other violations of the Law {e.g., those described in the Books of Kings, Isaiah, and Jeremiah}?

The end of this story is very sad: Aaron died on the top of Mount Or; then, the time of Moses' death came. As the Lord God commanded him, Moses claimed the Mount of Nabau and the Lord showed him the Promised Land, yet, Moses was not allowed to enter into it, because he disobeyed the word of God and did not sanctify Him among the people {Numbers 20:23–29; Deuteronomy 31:14; 32:48–52; 34:1–5}.

There was no more prophet like Moses whom the Lord knew face to face and spoke apparently (not in a visions or in sleep as to the other prophets), who was faithful in the house of the Lord, who has done great wonders and revealed the mighty hand before all Israel {Numbers 12:5–8; Deuteronomy 34:10–12}. Even so, for his disbelief and disobedience Moses never entered the beautiful land – the world promised by God, the world in which the holy nation was given the chance to emerge, to live according to the Law of God, to evolve, and to reach the zenith of wisdom, spiritual power, and happiness.

And I think of the worlds that are lost when disbelief in God and disobedience to God's commandments close the possible Futures, in which something good and beautiful was expecting those who believe, who dare to have the power to enter the new world..."

Σ15 Conscience is the natural attribute of the soul–heart–mind: the sense–perception of the good/right and the evil/wrong based in the law of God, which defines the meanings of the good and the evil and the meaning of human nature.

The essence of conscience is the pursuit of good and avoidance of evil accomplished through the unity of coherent correlated interactions among the following elements, on which the mind, especially the faculty of deliberation, operates:

Conscience focuses the reason of man on the truth, therefore, on the main purposes for the sake of which a human being was created: accomplishment of the will of God – creation of the good. Right (clean, peaceful) conscience confirms that the mind still is a being created in the image and likeness of God.

Sometimes, conscience is identified with the heart that knows the truth – the knowledge with which man evaluates his thoughts, words, and actions; for instance, St. John the Apostle's words {1 John 3:19–21} lead to the inference that the heart's judgment diagnoses the action's compliance with the truth.

In other terms, it might be said that

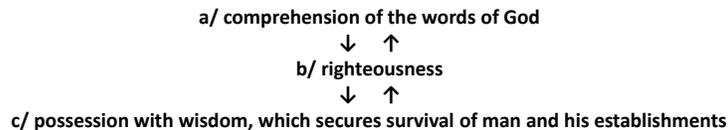

1/ conscience is the controlling system that

- a/ monitors evolution of the mind (development of the ability to create the good) and identifies the failure, which could start the processes of collapse
- b/ either confirms compliance with the Law of God or identifies violation of the Law of God
- c/ either rewards the mind with peace (the state identified as happiness) or devoid the mind of peace, and therefore, signalizes necessity of correction

2/ conscience is the security system that

- a/ debilitates the evil mind and makes it unable of achieving the purposes
- b/ intervenes with the mind's ability of survival
- c/ triggers self–annihilation of the mind, which became incapable of creation of the good, inclined to evil, chose the works of the evil and, therefore, developed into the threat to well–being of other creations of God.

It is not possible to rebel against own conscience and to force it to change its conviction. The only way to remove conscience from own life is to silence it: to make it irrelevant by renouncing God, therefore, by transforming the inner self into the living dead – a material being living only by the matter and for the sake of the matter. Then, such lawless deeds as murder, deceit, injustice become the daily routine, and men turn themselves into the beasts incapable of three main interconnected virtues that define the human nature:

Without these three components, man is worthless predator who is capable only of devouring other living beings: he is an embodiment of arch–evil/death and all his actions result in destruction and death; he has no value even for those who control him and, with the power of coercion, force him to act according to their interests.

Such a phenomenon explains the most widely used practice of corruption: silencing and re–programming the conscience, so the good is turned into the evil and the arch–evil is accepted as the highest good. The history provides plenty of examples how such re–programming is accomplished and what are the results (e.g., totalitarian states, oppressive regimes, religious hierarchies, political parties, criminal organizations, politicized religions, propaganda, ideologies of death).

The Law of God

ANCIENT WISDOM

THE LAW OF GOD: THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

And the Lord spoke all these words saying:

I am the Lord thy God, Who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.

Thou shall have no other gods beside Me

Εγω ειμι Κυριος ο Θεος σου, οστις εξηγαγον σε εκ γης Αιγυπτου, εξ οικου δουλειας.

Ουκ εσονται σοι θεοι ετεροι πλην Εμου

Thou shall not make to thyself an idol,
nor likeness of anything, whatever things are in the heavens above,
and whatever things are in the earth beneath, and whatever are in the waters under the earth.

Thou shall not bow down to them, nor serve them,

for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God,

recompensing the sins of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation to them that hate Me, and bestowing mercy on them that love Me to thousands, and on them that keep My commandments

ουδε παντος ομοιωμα, οσα εν τω ουρανω ανω, και οσα εν τη γη κατω, και οσα εν τοις υδασιν υποκατω της γης.

Ου προσκυνησεις αυτοις, ουδε μη λατρευσεις αυτοις,

Εγω γαρ ειμι Κυριος ο Θεος σου, Θεος ζηλωτης, αποδιδους αμαρτιας πατερων επι τεκνα, εως τριτης και τεταρτης γενεας τοις μισουσι Με, και ποιων ελεος εις χιλιαδας τοις αγαπωσι Με, και τοις φυλασσουσι τα προσταγματα Μου.

{Exodus 20:4-6}

Thou shall not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain,
for the Lord thy God will not cleanse him that takes His name in vain

ου γαρ μη καθαριση Κυριος ο Θεος σου τον λαμβανοντα το ονομα αυτου επι ματαιω.

Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

Six days thou shall labor, and shall perform all thy work.

But on the seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord thy God;

on it thou shall do no work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy servant nor thy maidservant, thine ox nor thine beast of burden, nor any cattle of thine, nor the stranger that sojourns with thee.

For in six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and the sea and all things in them, and rested on the seventh day;

therefore, the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it

Μνησθητι την ημεραν των σαββατων αγιαζειν αυτην.

Εξ ημερας εργα, και ποιησεις παντα τα εργα σου.

Τη δε ημερα τη εβδομη, σαββατα Κυριω τω Θεω σου;

ου ποιησεις εν αυτη παν εργον σου, και ο υιος σου, και η θυγατηρ σου, ο παις σου, και η παιδικη σου, ο βους σου, και το υποζυγιον σου, και παν κτηνος σου, και ο προσηλυτος ο παροικων εν σοι.

και παντα τα εν αυτοις, και κατεπαυσε τη ημερα τη εβδομη;

δια τουτο ευλογησε Κυριος την ημεραν την εβδομην, και ηγιασεν αυτην.

{Exodus 20:8-11}

Honour thy father and thy mother, that thou may be established and originate, and that thou may live long on the good land, which the Lord thy God gives to thee

Τιμα τον πατερα σου, και την μητερα σου,

ινα ευ σοι γενηται, και ινα μακροχρονιος γενη επι της γης της αγαθης, ης Κυριος ο Θεος σου διδωσι σοι.

{Exodus 20:12}

6

Thou shall not kill

{Exodus 20:13}

7

Thou shall not commit adultery

{Exodus 20:14}

8

Thou shall not steal

Ου κλεψεις.
{Exodus 20:15}

Thou shall not bear false witness against thy neighbor

Ου ψευδομαρτυρησεις κατα του πλησιον σου μαρτυριαν ψευδη.
{Exodus 20:16}

Thou shall not covet thy neighbor's wife;
thou shall not covet thy neighbor's house, nor his field, nor his servant, nor his made, nor his ox, nor his beast of burden, nor any of his cattle, nor whatever belongs to thy neighbor

Ουκ επιθυμησεις την γυναικα του πλησιον σου;
ουκ επιθυμησεις την οικιαν του πλησιον σου; ουτε τον αγρον αυτου, ουτε τον παιδα αυτου, ουτε τον παιδισκην αυτου, ουτε τον βοοσ αυτου, ουτε τον υποζυγιου αυτου, ουτε παντος κτηνους αυτου, ουτε οδα τω πλησιον σου εστι.
{Exodus 20:17}

Summary:

in the Old Testament:

The Lord our God is One Lord.
And thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and all thy strength

Κυριος ο Θεος ημων, Κυριος εις εστι.
Και αγαπησεις Κυριον τον Θεον σου εξ ολης της διανοιας σου, και εξ ολης της ψυχης σου, και εξ ολης της δυναμεως σου.
{Deuteronomy 6:4-5}

...thou shall love thy neighbor as thyself;

I am the Lord

...και αγαπησεις τον πλησιον σου ως σεαυτον,
Εγω ειμι Κυριος.
{Leviticus 19:18}

in the New Testament:

You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind.

This is the first and the greatest commandment

Αγαπησεις Κυριον τον Θεον σου, εν ολη τη καρδια σου, και εν ολη τη ψυχη σου, και εν ολη τη διανοια σου.
Αυτη εστι πρωτη και μεγαλη εντολη.

And the second is like it:

you shall love your neighbor as yourself.

In these two commandments all the Law and the prophets hang

αγαπησεις τον πλησιον σου ως σεαυτον.
Εν ταυταις ταις δυσιν εντολαις ολος ο νομος και οι προφηται κρεμανται.
{Matthew 22:37-40}

The New Commandment given by Lord Jesus Christ the Savior,
The Son of God, the Word-God

I give a new commandment to you, that you love one another as I loved you, that also you should love one another.
By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love among one another

Εντολην καινην διδωμι υμιν, ινα αγαπατε αλληλους καθως ηγαπησα υμας, ινα και υμεις αγαπατε αλληλους.
Εν τουτω γνωσονται παντες οτι εμοι μαθηται εστε, εαν αγαπην εχητε εν αλληλοις.
{John 13:34-35}

This is My commandment,
that you love one another as I loved you

Αυτη εστιν η εντολη η Εμη, ινα αγαπατε αλληλους καθως ηγαπησα υμας.
{John 15:12}

...And where I go you know, and the way you know ...
...I am the Way and the Truth and the Life...

{John 14:4, 6}

It is the final hours before Lord God Jesus Christ completes His will at this world and gives it a chance of salvation: He is going to leave the world, to come back, to the Father, from where He – the Word–God – came. Everything had been said, and everything had been explained {Matthew; Mark; Luke; John}; now, it is the time of departure. Again, He reminds His disciples and through them all generations of His followers: you know the Way, you have the Door, follow Me, observe My commandments, and you enter the life everlasting {John 5:24–30; 6:28–58, 63; 8:31–36, 51; 10:1–18, 27–30; 12:44–50; 13; 14; 15; 16; 17}.

The main purpose of each human being born into this world is immortality with God: we all are created and born in the Earth to evolve into the children of God and to go further, into the Kingdom of the Father; we are destined to claim our divine inheritance and to dwell with God in His world forever. Those who want to accomplish the purpose of existence at the Earth and to live, have to overcome the difficulties of the road (that is hostile conditions, darkness of ignorance, predators seeking to enslave the mind and body and to kill the soul, and other dangers) and to reach the destination – the Kingdom of God.

God provided us with the guidance and knowledge, which is intended to facilitate our sometimes intolerably difficult journey: with His help, we learn

— where we can find the Light that would illuminate darkness in which we all have to make the first steps

— the means of protection from the predators

— the rules, which we have to observe if we want to protect our mind and body from diseases, corruption, degeneration, and avoid failure (the failure is the state of being lost in the endless darkness without God).

Any traveler begins his journey with preparation: he has to know how to reach his destination successfully. So, he collects knowledge of the road and how to pass it safely and timely (e.g., location of airport or train station, schedules, ticket prices, luggage requirements, and so on), he knows his own condition and the supplies needed (the traveler's guide, food, water, etc.). In general, the wise traveler is prepared to overcome all difficulties and obstacles he might encounter: he has knowledge of the road, the main points he has to come through, and what he needs to accomplish everything desirable.

So, what are the main points, the main realms, which we have to pass through during our travel? Moses named two of them when he received the Law – The Ten Commandments. The essence of them, or the two greatest commandments on which the Law and the Prophets depend, are love to God and love to the neighbor {Leviticus 19:18; Deuteronomy 30:19–20; Matthew 22:36–40}. It means that, firstly, we have to cognize two states and to make them the reality of our existence: love to God and love to other creations of God.

The third is given by Lord Jesus Christ: faith in (that is acceptance of) the Word–God and observance of His commandments make a human being the dwelling of God, and we must love each other as God loves us {John 13:34–35; 14:15–27; 15:9–17}. Again, the basic condition – love to God and love to each other – opens the final realm in which we discover the Kingdom of God within our soul–heart–mind and learn to imitate God {Matthew 5:48; Luke 17:20–21}, firstly, by loving the others as God loves us. In this realm we are re–born and regain our original divine nature – the image and likeness of God. Coming into this state is the successful completion of our earthly journey.

In brief, faith and adherence to the Word–God, observance of His commandments, and love to Him and to all His creations open the mind for knowledge of God; the knowledge of God is the eternal life {John 17:3}.

To love something means to know this something we love. The first step to the Kingdom of God is knowledge of God.

Is it possible to know God?

Many centuries theologians asserted that faith is above reason; the logical inference from this assertion is impossibility to know God.

In fact,

1/ faith¹ is the optimal state of human reason, the natural condition in which human being receives guidance and assistance of God–Creator

2/ knowledge of God is the foundation of human reasoning, life of the mind, the essence of conscience, and the source of human wisdom.

Lord Jesus Christ, our God, Savior, and Teacher, tells: you search the Scriptures, and all of them are about Me; all will be taught by God {John 5:39, 46; 6:45–46; 14:26}. From the beginning, those who are to become the children of God come to understanding that search for the knowledge of God is the first sign of wisdom to come, and the knowledge of God is the most precious possession of a human being, more precious than life of a human body {Deuteronomy 6:4–9; 30:10–20; Proverbs 2:1–9; Ecclesiastes 8:5–7; Matthew 10:28; John 17:3}.

So, God already provided us with the source of knowledge, which is the guidance to life: this knowledge was written down with the simple language of nomads, fishermen, and shepherds, yet, it enables generations to accept the most precious gift: the ability to cognize God. Our ancestors had the special name for the Holy Scriptures, the Holy Bible – the Book of Life; indeed, this Book contains the knowledge of life; it gives knowledge of the Light that darkness is not able to overcome {John 1:1–5; 3:16–21; 9:5; 12:44–46}.

Although those who open the Holy Bible first time might not believe yet, and might not comprehend the meaning right now, if they want to obtain the life everlasting, for the beginning of their journey to God, they need two things:

— the first, to ask God (Who they do not know, yet Who they want to find) to give them understanding — the second, to continue reading until the words of the Book of Life fill the mind, become the contents of the memory, the foundation for judgment, and the light for discerning the true meaning of things². God promised that all those who ask will be given, and to all those who knock will be opened {Matthew 7:7–11}.

The truth is that a human being lives by the Word–God, by knowledge of God, in the same manner as a human body lives by bread and water {John 6:32–58, 63; 17:3–8}. Knowledge of God is the foundation of the world in which we live, the essence of the nature, the contents of the human heart–soul–mind, and the state in which all those who want to live must dwell.

Many reject this truth because they are unable to reconcile evil we see around us with the foundation of our faith – knowledge that God is the Absolute Good and, in the presence of God, evil does not exist. However, they do not take into consideration the purpose of this world into which first human beings were exiled after the original sin³ – rejection of the warning of God that the price of the forbidden knowledge is death and the choice to accept lies of the brute as the truth {Genesis 2:16–17; 3}.

This world is similar to the classroom, to the training ground on which a human being has to accomplish his intention: to cognize the good and the evil. It means that we all are free in our search of the meaning of existence:

— some of us see it as acceptance of the good, create the good, and benefit the others

— some of us see it as acceptance of the evil, commit crimes, deceive the others, and bring evil upon the others

God does not intervene with our freedom of choice. If He wills, He assists those who ask His help and firstly, beg for the complete knowledge and wisdom⁴ to overcome the power of the evil, to cognize the good, and to choose the good as the only way and the means of existence, so, they would be able to come into the Kingdom of God after completion of earthly life as those who completed training/battle come home.

The First Stage

There is no possibility to enter the world of God, His kingdom, for those who are not prepared {Revelation 21:1–8; 22:14–15}; observance of God's commandments—law makes His creation ready for His Kingdom.

The First Commandment

The first step, the beginning of preparation, is simple: it is acceptance of the first commandment, which should become the foundation of perception, reasoning, memory, imagination, consideration, contemplation, making opinion, judgment, and all mental processes, which have the collective name of intelligence—thinking and which are the basis on which the greatest gift of God – wisdom – comes.

For all those who want to live, the first step into the life everlasting is acceptance of the first truth:

“I am the Lord thy God, Who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.
Thou shall have no other gods beside Me”
{Exodus 20:1–3}

The current inhabitants of the Earth live in other conditions: in many countries physical slavery became the shameful memory of the barbarian Past; the land of Egypt is different; many people are convinced that they are free to live their life according to their choice. However, the bondage of ignorance and sin and subjection to the evil still are the destiny of those who live in darkness, without God.

The main obstacle at the road to any knowledge is inability to believe that this knowledge might be needed. Probably, inability to believe is the real meaning of terrifying warning of God: many are called, but the chosen are few {Matthew 22:14}.

So, the first step at the road to God is taken if we learned the first of The Ten Commandments {Exodus 20:1–3} and accepted as the absolute truth that — there is One God – our Creator and Almighty God Who released us from the bondage of sin, ignorance, and evil

— only our Almighty God has the absolute power and authority over the world and over us, the creations of God; we have only One God, and we have no other gods beside our Lord and Creator. There is no one else who would have any authority over the world and over us.

Acceptance of the first commandment opens an entrance into the world in which a human being lives by each word from the mouth of God, in which perfection and mercy of God are the highest manifestations of the Absolute Good and therefore, the Highest Ideals, which a human being created in image and after likeness of God should imitate.

In this world, the physical life, life of human body, is not the main value; life of the human spirit is the only true actual life worthy of living.

In this world, a human being becomes the child of God born of the Spirit of God, the candle ignited by God Who is the Fire, the vehicle for carrying the breath of God, and the temple—dwelling of the Triune God {John 14:15–17, 23; 17:17–26}. In other words, in this world, the initial bond between God—Creator and Father and a human being, His creation and child, is re—established: a human being re—discovers God and His Kingdom within own soul—heart—mind, and God admits a human being home.

The Second Commandment

Those who chose to continue the road to God, should perceive, comprehend, and accept the second of The Ten Commandments as the way of living:

Thou shall not make to thyself an idol,
nor likeness of anything, whatever things are in the heavens above,
and whatever things are in the earth beneath,
and whatever are in the waters under the earth.
Thou shall not bow down to them, nor serve them;
for I am the Lord thy God, a jealous God, recompensing the sins of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation to them that hate Me, and bestowing mercy on them that love Me to thousands,
and on them that keep My commandments
{Exodus 20:4–6}

The second of The Ten Commandments opens the ability of differentiation between the actual absolute power of the Almighty God and the power, which exists only in human imagination, yet, which men made the actuality of daily life. This imaginary power has a name: “idol.” The idol—making activities are the features of the mind, which does not believe in God; they either indicate latent processes of perversion or point out to existing degeneration and abilities to commit crimes. Crimes, degeneration, and perversion are inalienable properties of the world built by evil imagination and living by false and deceit.

All living beings and other creations and creatures are made by God, and their powers are conditional, allotted to them in accordance with the will of God, for accomplishment of their purposes. Their properties, features, and manifestations (e.g., energy and power of the Sun, life—sustaining property of water, air, plants, life—sustaining or destructive power of elements, etc.), their powers to sustain or to terminate beneficial conditions of life (e.g., subtle wind that refreshes stale air or tornado that destroys houses and kills their inhabitants), the consequences of their existence and influence on other creations are the properties of their nature – that is for what they have been created. Everything in the world is created by the divine energy of God, lives by the energy received from God, and dies, if either the energy of God is withdrawn or the ability to perceive and to utilize the energy for continuation of existence is no more.

In other words, the Universe, which is opened for our perception and cognition, has only One God Who is the only authority, center, focus of life, and source of energy, power, and life for His creations. All creations of God exist by the will of God: we all

— breathe, think, create, and live by the will of God

— are empowered by His energy, and accomplish the purposes of existence because He gives the energy of life, the will, abilities, and wisdom to live

— have nothing of our own or our making; we even create by “the borrowed spirit.” It means that the human mind is able to actualize its nature – to create – only if it lives by God. Mind is able to create something good and anew only if it receives from God the energy—power—wisdom to perceive—comprehend—know – that is perfect—complete and might be unconditionally accepted

and

– that what is insufficient and how to make it complete, perfect, and beneficial for itself and for the others

Those, who have no God, live by imagination²⁵; they amass images—dreams, ascribe to them the features and powers existing only in their imagination, and accept them as reality. Then, they call the mass “knowledge,” while it is collection of irrational figments of imagination, embody it into their laws, politics, culture, education, and attempt to live by it. However, false knowledge leads to perversion, degeneration, and ultimately, death — all of them, indeed, are the actuality of current existence.

- In brief, the first commandment leads to the comprehension that
 - our God is the only God and the Almighty God
 - only God possesses the absolute power – the power of life
 - in the world created by God, nothing has divine or any other true power.

The second commandment elaborates the knowledge, which must become the foundation for perception of the nature of things and entire world around us, for thinking and judgment:

- a/ there is only One God
- b/ idol-making and idol-worship²⁶ lead to slavery, suffering, disasters, diseases, and death of the mind and body.

The ancient pagans deified everything and sacrificed living beings, including humans, to everything – the sun, the stars, the rivers, the ocean, the stones, the trees... However, the worst kind of idols is the invisible, yet, the most blood-thirsting ones: phantom of absolute power, wealth, any kind of superiority over the others, and deification of those who have access to the power of coercion. Worship to these idols are behind mighty empires, wars, heresies, the Inquisition, totalitarian states, atheism, Marxism, Bolshevism, Communism, Nazism, all other “isms” and ideologies of death, crimes, deceit of all kinds, and other evils, which humans commit against humans and against the nature...

Knowledge of the first two commandments opens understanding of the world in which we live:

a/ understanding of the first commandment removes the obstacles for many of those who seek God. Especially for those who ask: how the world might be so evil and men commit so vicious crimes against humanity, if the world is creation of God? One of such obstacles is impossibility to reconcile seeming contradiction between

- the faith in exclusive and unique – absolute – authority of good and perfect God
- the very foundation and the daily life of all human establishments based on idol-worship and false knowledge

b/ the second commandment places the human establishments constructed with human imagination at the right place, out of the actual reality by which the human soul-heart-mind should live.

Indeed, it looks like the foundation of the world is the hierarchy²⁷ of power-authority over men. Kings, rulers, party leaders, popes, heads of imaginable and unimaginable political, social, religious hierarchical establishments, and all other pretenders justify their claims on the authority over their subjects—members—admirers—etc., by ascribing to themselves possession of the absolute power²⁸, which often is elevated at the rank of the divine power with consequent deification of those who are able to exercise it. The highest point of this authority is the power to murder, that is to deprive of life.

However, there is nothing “divine” in this kind of the authority: it is based on the access to the power of coercion, on the power of the matter/flesh over the matter/flesh. The power of coercion is exercised with weapons, media, forceful regulations of the manner of life, through armies, police, surveillance, media, education, civil and religious establishments, etc.; there are legions of them. All of them have coercion and deceit as the main weapon; all of them have similar patterns of influence: modeling of thinking, behavior, and perception by coercion and deceit.

- They might act through
 - direct physical impact
 - persuasion

— propaganda²⁹, especially with intentionally crafted false “scientific” knowledge, which, in fact, is figments of imagination – the lies intended to deceive and to subdue the mind and to force people to act in the way beneficial for the deceivers

- social or religious beliefs, norms, rules, laws, criteria of evaluation, official and unofficial values intended to influence opinion-making,
- education, etc.

The power of coercion is imposed by political, law-creating, religious, social and other official and unofficial hierarchies of power, authorities, and values. False values and the entire culture of idol-worship that is death might be forced upon the people through habitual respect and imitation of behavior and thinking of the elder members of the family and people recognized as wise benefactors of mankind, celebrities, and models for imitation – politicians, philosophers, researchers, educators, priests, artists, etc.

Any kind of coercion implies the ability to enslave and to make human beings physically obedient through fear of deprivation of the life-sustaining resources, freedoms and liberties, dignity, good repute, social or political status (place at the hierarchies of power and authority), family members, friends, and ultimately, life.

Each level of hierarchy has its limits of abilities of deprivation, or it might be said that those under its authority live within a particular range of insufficiency based on the power to deprive of life-sustaining knowledge, means, and possessions.

The most advanced (by the abilities of enslaving) establishments pretend on possession of the comprehensive or absolute power – over body, mind, and soul, which keeps a human being in their claws even after death. Such kind of authority demands deification of the head of the hierarchy with inseparable pretenses on the divine status that is on the place of God. Historically, this kind of authority was ascribed, for instance, to the “sacred” kings—priests of the heathen antiquity, to the “divine emperors” of pagan Rome, and to the popes—prefects of the Inquisition.

Our Lord God and Savior Jesus Christ commanded the Christians to separate the power over human body from the power over human mind-soul-heart living by God, and be not afraid of physical death {Matthew 10:28–31}.

So, what gives a Christian the power to discriminate between the absolute power of God and the pretenses of those who are able to kill a body, yet who are incapable of creating life and have no real power over the human spirit? The power that enables a Christian to retain the freedom of spirit, freedom of thinking, and freedom of choice between the good and the evil, is in knowledge and observance of the commandments of God.

Those, who comprehend the meaning of the first and second of The Ten Commandments and who believe in the unique almighty and absolute power of One God, are ready to make the next step: they must confirm their comprehension by their actions. The second commandment names the actions, with which a human being confirms understanding that our God is the only One God and there is no other gods beside Him. These actions should prove that the foundation of the reasoning is the knowledge that

- there is only One God
- there is no other gods
- idols are figments of corrupted and evil imagination, which must be avoided by any means, even for the price of own life.

And I think of incompatibility of two worlds – the world living by God, and the contemporary world of daily life through which I have to pass to reach home:

- around is the heathen – idol-worshiping – world, which is destined to vanish in the fire of annihilation, and which might be described with one phrase summarizing the heathen Greek theological thought: the world is full of gods
- within is the world in which the Lord my God is the only One God, and there is no other gods.

Those, who make the first steps at the road to God, encounter the uninterrupted war between these two worlds: the battlefield is the human mind, and the price of failure is death for the defeated ones and for their children up to the fourth generation {Exodus 34:6–7}. If a human being wants to live and to give children a chance to life, the second world full of idols must never be accepted as the possibility of existence; its foundation within the human mind — idol-making and idol-worship²⁶ — must be annihilated...

The Third Commandment

The third of The Ten Commandments:

...Thou shall not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain;
for the Lord thy God will not cleanse him that takes His name in vain...
{Exodus 20:7}

After learning of the first and the second of The Ten Commandments, the mind is prepared to comprehend the meaning of the prohibition: do not take the name of the Lord God in vain.

What is the name of God – το ονομα Κυριου του Θεου?

The Greek word ονομα is a compound word: it contains roots/parts of at least three words: ον, or οντος — being, νομ — law, ομαδα — group, cluster, knot.

If applied to God, the meaning of ονομα exceeds the usual function of “name” – the human identification. The logical block “the name of God” refers to the Being/living Law that originates the particular group/cluster/unity (e.g., the universe, the earth, mankind) existing because of this Law. The name of God refers to the entirety of the attributes of God, including the Absolute Good, the Absolute Power, Omnipotence, the Highest Holiness, the almighty and all-forgiving and perfect Love, the Source of life, the Highest Wisdom, the Glory of God, the Light of the world, the Fear and the Sanctification, the Sanctuary, the Father, the Teacher, the Supreme Judge, the consuming Fire, the Beginning and the End {Exodus 3:13–14; 19:18–24; 33:18–22; 34:5–7; Deuteronomy 4:24; 32:3–4; Psalm 144(145); 145(146):5–10; Proverbs 2:6–9; Isaiah 8:13–14; 40:10–26; 66:1–2; Matthew 10:28; 23:8–10; Luke 12:49; John 1:1–18; 11:25–42; 17:4–6; 1 John 4:8–19; Hebrews 10:30–31; 12:18–29; Revelation 21:5–7; 22:13}.

For those who believe in God and who belong to His kingdom, the name of God is sacred, because it is the reference to the greatest Holiness recognized as the Absolute. The Lord’s Prayer {Matthew 6:5–13; Luke 11:1–4} tells: αγιασθητω το ονομα σου — the name of God is hallowed {Matthew 6:9; Luke 11:2}.

The name of God must be mentioned only in the prayer, with faith and love, when a human being

- asks God’s help
- expresses love to God by thanksgiving and praise for all blessings and gifts received from the Creator
- worships God in spirit and truth.

Any other forms of reference to God are in vain: the mentions, which do not express the love and faith in God, are empty and disrespectful; they are abomination to God. Those who take the name of God in vain are condemned: they will not be cleansed of their sins and iniquities; consequently, they will remain under the power of evil and perish with the evil.

Since the first time, when Enos, the grandson of Adam, began to hope to call upon the name of the Lord God {Genesis 4:26}, the mind has been striving to obtain the highest state of perfection. Although it was destined to live within the world of the matter, in the world that exists because of the human choice to cognize the good and the evil, the good-loving mind began the road back, to the house of the Father, from which human beings have been exiled. Knowledge of the name of God allows finding of this road and secures the safe passage through the difficulties and obstacles. The name of God not only reminds us Who is God; the calling on His name initiates connection with the Creator: it works as the password opening the closed door.

Within the mankind’s universe, the highest state of perfection is imitation of God. This state comes when

- the name of God fills up the mind
- the heart is the vessel that carries the law of God
- the soul is taught by the Holy Spirit
- love to God and love to the others became the meaning of existence
- observance of the commandments of God is the manner of daily life
- a human being discovered the Kingdom of God within and became the living temple of the Living God {Matthew 5:21–48; 22:37–40; Luke 6:36; 17:20–21; John 13:34–35; 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 John 2:1–6; 3; 4:7–21; Deuteronomy 30:10–14; Psalm 104(105):1–7; Isaiah 51:7–8}.

The entrance into this state is opened when the mind comes to understanding that the greatest reward of righteous life is the ability to call upon the name of God incessantly, when it perceives the name of God as the highest treasure, when it unconditionally accepts that the name of God

- is holy because He, Who man calls by this name, is the Holy Life that creates, bestows, and sustains life
- is sanctified, worshiped, and glorified because He, Who man calls by this name, is the Holy Lord of hosts Whose creations proclaim His glory
- is loved because He, Who man calls by this name, is the almighty life-creating Love of God, the Absolute Good, and the Light without darkness
- is blessed because it refers to the Perfect Righteousness, Highest Justice and, in the same time, the Highest Mercy
- is horrifying because it refers to the omnipotent Law that creates life and annihilates the evil in all its embodiments and manifestations including living beings, which became the servants of evil and inflict the evil on the others
- is terrifying because of the omnipotence of Him, Who man calls by His name {Exodus 3:13–15; 20:7; Deuteronomy 30:15–20; 32:3–6; Psalms 98(99):1–5; 102(103); 144(145); Isaiah 6:3; 40:10–26; 45:18–25; 46:8–13; John 17:6; 1 John 1:5}.

God protects those who have known the name of God and learned to call upon the name of God with love and faith. God hears them and delivers them; He saves them and gives them life everlasting even if they must go through suffering, humiliation, poverty, lethal man-made diseases, persecutions, condemnation, capital punishment, and other horrors, which human beasts devised and apply to subdue, enslave, and murder those destined to live under the authority of evil establishments.

So, what awaits those who call upon the name of God with faith, love, and reverence, who have confidence in the promise that they will be heard and hope that they will be saved? They are loved by God as His children and as His Own possession; they receive knowledge and understanding that

- they belong to the Lord God, and their place in the House of the Father is prepared for them
- they know the name of God
- they are purified and illuminated and completed by God, because they received from the fullness of God
- they comprehend the meaning of the good, justice, and mercy
- they are heard in their prayer, because God is with those who call upon Him in truth
- God is with them in the time of suffering and affliction
- their sins are forgiven, they are cleansed of their iniquities, and they have the promise of salvation
- they are saved in the time of disaster and trouble and they are comforted in their needs
- they are given life everlasting, although they have to come through death of a body
- they become able to create the good and to do everything – by thoughts, words, and deeds – in the name of God {Exodus 3:14–15; 34:5–7; Psalm 51(52):8–9; 53(54):6–7; 78(79):8–9; 90(91):14–16; 99(100):3–5; 108(109):21–22; 112(113); 123(124):6–8; 142(143):11; 144(145):18–21; Malachi 3:17; John 1:12–18; 14; 15; 16; 17; Acts 2:21; 1 Peter; 2 Peter; 1 John; Romans 8; Ephesians; Colossians; other Epistles}.

For those who believe in God and follow His Word, it is impossible to mention His name in vain, because they love God and know the omnipotence of the Absolute Power that might come to their rescue when they call upon the name of God. They know also that even if it is no chance to avoid suffering and death now, if it is the God’s will to test them by difficulties and grief, ultimately, God will deliver them and recompense their suffering in His Kingdom. Then, their faith will be fulfilled and they come to the completeness of perfection {Matthew 7:7–11; 10:28–31; Luke 18; 1 John 4:16–18; Hebrews 11; Revelation 21:3–4; Psalm 90(91):14–16}.

Today, within the world that worships false gods and which is filled with physical and spiritual pollution produced by the servants of evil and their ungodly establishments, many lost faith and with it, understanding of the name of God and that what it signifies. Moreover, many people developed hatred to God; they attempt to eradicate His name from daily life.

It looks like a historical trend:

— in the beginning, in the time of Moses, it was forbidden to mention the name of God in vain

— then, during the course of history, along with progressing dehumanization of the societies, many totalitarian regimes made any mentioning of the name of God forbidden

— now, in so-called “democratic” societies, the reference to the name of Christian God is “politically incorrect,” that is unwelcome. For instance, — the display of The Ten Commandments is forbidden in the courts of justice

— the references to God are “politically incorrect” for the politicians, trigger persecution of the journalists, and are avoided by the media

— the new heathens seek all possible means to make the Bible forbidden book. They attempt to forbid mentioning of the Holy Scriptures, and, until they succeed, they “edit” the Bible’s texts, especially, those with definitions of sin and perversion and references to gender, as well as with mentioning of the destructive power of the Law, which annihilates servants of evil and perverts. It looks like they are inspired by the accomplishments of a/ the papal Inquisition: in 1229, the Inquisition of Toulouse made the Bible forbidden book for the Catholic laity; the Bible was replaced by prayer books and images created by the papal theologians; many centuries, the laity (papal subjects) had to obtain special permission to read the Bible

b/ the Bolsheviks–Marxists–communists: in post–1917 Russia, the Bible was forbidden, many Christians and priests were executed, exiled in Siberia, and placed in concentration camps – Gulag; reading and possession of the Bible was a crime.

Well, at least today, the contemporary heathens – spiritual heirs of the Inquisition/Bolsheviks–Marxists–communists/pagans of Rome have some work to do before they eradicate the Bible and knowledge of God from life of those under their control: still, the Christians and Bible–readers are not — publicly burned alive as William Tyndale was in 1526, for translation of the Bible in English — placed into concentration camps or executed as in the time of Bolsheviks

— crucified as they were in the pagan Roman Empire.

And I think of the consequences of the processes of misinterpretation and eradication of the Christian teachings, therefore, rejection of the greatest remedy available to those who would like to be cleansed of evil and to be healed of the most lethal disease – the slavery of sin: calling upon the name of God in prayer for deliverance.

If to evaluate the progress of mankind by embodiment of the good, it becomes evident that the proper definition would be irreversible dehumanization.

If to judge by the results — general conditions of existence, quality of life, and overall health of mankind, it becomes evident that the proper definition would be degeneration, or anti–evolution. To make things worse, not many are aware of the unlimited possibilities, which the greatest power of the Lord God–Creator of the universe opens to those who beseech His help and call upon His name in disasters and troubles.

With each day and with each new disaster, the contemporary societies look more and more like the dying of thirst man in the desert. He came close to the oasis, yet, he fell on sand because he has no power to move forward; he does not believe that water exists because he forgot its taste. In his pre–death delusion, he had chosen death as the only way to stop suffering and accepted death as the reality and as the only possible future; he does not want to believe that it is possible to reach life–giving water, although it runs before him.

For some people, false pride makes impossible to admit own errors and recognize that they followed delusion covered under the mask of knowledge. Ultimately, the human mind, which rejected God, comes to the point of no return: it becomes unable to think about God and to call upon the name of God. Such a mind loses the innate ability of right judgment, because due to the preferences and frequent choices of the evil, it has lost ability to differentiate between the good and the evil. This loss makes impossible to surmount the committed evils and to turn to the good, because there is no comprehension of the consequences of own actions and therefore, the mind is unable to acknowledge the detriment inflicted on the others and to repent. What then, expects those who lost abilities to call upon the name of God and to seek His help?

There is a horrifying logic behind the power of annihilation, which is the fate of the evildoers – those who rejected the Law–commandments of God and who, thus, decided to live by the lawlessness of beasts: the logic of death, the mystery of lawlessness {2 Thessalonians 2:7–12}...

The Fourth Commandment

The fourth commandment completes the responsibilities of a creation–man before the Creator–God:

...Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy...
...For in six days the Lord made the heaven and the earth, and the sea and all things in them, and rested on the seventh day;
therefore, the Lord blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it...
{Exodus 20:8, 11}

With the fourth commandment, positioning of the human universe within the realm of God is completed.

On the Sabbath day, any kind of work was forbidden; even the manna had not to be collected, food must not be prepared, fire must not be burnt in dwellings, fruits must not be harvested. By the fear of death this commandment was enacted; for instance, for gathering of the sticks in a desert, a man was stoned {Exodus 16:4–5, 14–31; 34:21; 35:2–3; Numbers 15:32–36; Deuteronomy 5:12–15}.

The fourth commandment became one of the main identifier of the Hebrew’s manner of life: wherever the Jews lived, in all countries into which they were exiled, they were known by their observance of the Sabbath day (as well as by avoidance of swine meat).

Strangely enough, but the ancient Jews observed the law of Sabbath more strictly than other commandments, especially, concerning idols, otherwise, they would not be made servants of the enemies (the nations whose idols they worshiped) and exiled from the Holy Land {Deuteronomy 28:36–68; 29:22–28; Isaiah 1; 2:6–9; Jeremiah 7; 8:1–3; Zacharias 7:11–14; Wisdom 1:16}. Probably, because the evident physical rest was the easiest way to exhibit adherence to the Law and to accentuate own righteousness.

Then, the fourth commandment became the manifest reason of the opposition of the Pharisees to the teachings of Lord God Jesus Christ: they blamed God for healing His creations on the Sabbath day, and they wanted to kill Him for His works of mercy {Matthew 12:1–14; Mark 2:23–28; 3:1–6; Luke 14:1–6; John 5:1–27; 10:32}.

So, if God–Creator established the seventh day as the day of complete rest, and it was later connected with deliverance from slavery in Egypt {Deuteronomy 5:12–15}, why His Son — the Word–God Who has the absolute authority over the world, Who is the One with the Father, Who came to accomplish the will of God the Father and to fulfill the Law and the prophets, and Who is the Master of the Sabbath {Matthew 5:17–18; 28:18; Mark 2:28; John 4:34; 10:30; 12:49–50} — heals a man and tells him to take his bedding and to carry it home on the Sabbath day?

The Ten Commandments were given to the nation, which lived in Egypt almost four hundred years, in the midst of idol–worshippers who deified figments of their corrupted imagination (idols) and sacrificed humans to idols made of stone, wood, silver, and gold. The people lived in physical slavery – under the authority of idol-worshippers, and in spiritual slavery – in ignorance, lawlessness, under the power of false knowledge and sin. They did not know their God-Creator. They did not believe the words of truth, because they did not know the truth.

For those who live by the matter-flesh, only the material means of persuasion would work. So, to become the holy nation of priest, the “stiff-necked” and disobedient people with ruthless heart, “wicked...evil congregation” had to be forged and cleansed by the fire, hardship, and death of those who rebelled against God and openly violated the Law until they learn to observe the Law and prove by their behavior that they are ready to proceed with accomplishment of God’s will; then, they will be come into the new land where the new covenant may be established {Exodus 32:22–28; 33:1–4; Numbers 14:27–45; 15:29–41; Deuteronomy 7:6; 8:2–18; 9; 10:20–22; 11:16–19; Mark 10:5; Luke 1:26–79; 2:25–32}.

Consequently, the people have to be convinced by physical manifestations of the power of God; for instance, such as — wandering in the desert in thirst and hunger until, by the words of God, they would be given food and water, so they would discover that man lives not only by bread but by each word from the mouth of God

— fear to come close to the mountain, which was set on fire because God decided to make His presence observable for the people who before then lived under the influence of sorcery and magic of Egyptian diviners and believed in false gods

— instant extermination by the fire and plague of those who rebel against God and disobeyed His prophet — and so on {Exodus; Numbers; Leviticus; Deuteronomy}.

All that has been done to make people to understand that the Law of God is the life of man: the Law defines the human nature and the terms of human existence; the Law carries blessing and life for those who live by the Law and curse and death for those who rejects and violates the law {Deuteronomy 11:26–28; 30:15–20}.

The observance of the Law (that is life according to the human nature) purifies the body – house of the spirit; it clarifies perception, gives wisdom and understanding of righteousness with which man is able to discern the image and likeness of God-Creator within himself; it enables the mind to perceive knowledge of the created things and comprehend their nature. The observance of the Law is so important for the mind and body that those who turn away from hearing the Law make even their prayer abominable {Proverbs 2:1–9; 28:9}.

The seventh day, the rest of the Lord, came after God-Creator’s works were completed and He saw that everything He created is good {Genesis 1; 2:1–3}. Physical rest, the rest of the body in the day sanctified by God, introduced the meaning of completion; it was needed to open the heart for understanding of the spiritual foundation of the Law and to prepare to worship God, Who is the Spirit, in spirit and truth {John 4:23–24}.

At due time, when the chosen people evolved and became ready to perceive the knowledge of God, which is intended to transform a human-beast into the human-child of God, the meaning of the Law was revealed at the higher level. Those who accept the Christian teachings understand that the Word-God is the beginning and the end – everything for His creations: Lord God Jesus Christ is the Beginning of life, the Law that lives in the heart of man and speaks through mouth of man, and the summary of all written by the prophets; He – the Almighty, ο Παντοκράτωρ – is also the End-Fulfillment of the Law {Deuteronomy 30:11–14; John 1:1–4, 16–18; 5:39; Romans 10:4, 8–13; Revelation 1:8; 21:6; 22:13}.

So, the mandatory rest of a body on the Sabbath day prepared the human mind for ascent at the higher level, at which the spiritual Sabbath would become the most desirable state of the human spirit.

Now, the Sabbath lives within the soul-heart-mind of the Christian-child of God. Although someone might have to work physically in all days, including the seventh day (that for the Christians is Sunday, day of resurrection of Lord Jesus Christ), the spiritual Sabbath is the holy rest of the human spirit. As any aspect of the spiritual life, the Holy Sabbath is the ultimate freedom and joy of heart abiding in God; it is the inalienable possession of man, which none of earthly authorities is able to take away.

The spiritual Sabbath unfolds as the quietness (or stillness) of the soul-heart-mind in God, when there is nothing to seek, and nothing is wanted, because everything is given and accepted and completed; it comes with understanding of the perfection of God, comprehension of the consummate completion of His creations, and acceptance of the peace given by God.

The meaning of the peace of God is unity with God. Unity with God is life in God, by God, and with God, when God Who we know as the Holy Trinity – God the Father, the Word-God, and the Holy Spirit (see The Creed, in Folder The Foundation) – comes to dwell with His creation 210. Such life is the true meaning of the Sabbath, the accomplishment of perfection, which might be obtained only with God. The Prophets foresaw this coming of God when they wrote about the life-giving water in desert, the blessed bread of life rained from the heaven, the rain that animates and feeds the human soul-mind-heart (that is awakes the scorched earth and gives it life), and the river of the living water — fulfillment of all and everything is in Lord God Jesus Christ {Exodus 16:4; Deuteronomy 32; Psalm 62(63):1; Hosea 6:1–4; Zacharias 10:1; John 6:27–63; 7:37–39; 14; 15; 16; 17; Revelation 21:6}.

And I think of the end of earthly existence, which many identify with the physical death, when the human spirit returns to God Who gave it. In this new phase of life, would we not discover that we just took another turn, made one more step, and still, are going through the never-ending way of cognition that awaits those who are God’s Own? Indeed, would the Omnipotent and Absolute Power of life-creating Love that is God ever cease to create the good in its highest manifestation: life?

Could it be then, that the spiritual Sabbath, so desirable now, is a rest on the long way, similar to the life-sustaining slumber during which the health is restored and the new power for the next days of life is given?

Yet, all that is possible to know today is written by St. John the Apostle: the Word-God still works as His Father does, and the new world will come soon {John 5:17; Revelation 21:5; 22:1–13}.

The First Stage: Summary

The first four of the Ten Commandments define the attitude and the responsibilities toward God. However, they are more than stipulation of proper behavior. They define the only state of human soul-mind-heart, which is natural for a human being-creation of God: this state is love to God. The summary of the first-fourth Commandments penetrates the Holy Scriptures – they all about God {John 5:39}:

— in the Old Testament

thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and all thy strength {Deuteronomy 6:5}

— in the New Testament:

You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all you mind:
this is the first and the greatest commandment.

And the second is like it: you shall love your neighbor as yourself.
In these two commandments all the Law and the prophets hang...

{Matthew 22:37–40}

St. Matthew the Apostle uses the word κρεμαντα, with the root κρεμ-, which originates meaning to hang, to depend, and to execute by hanging. This word visualizes the actual connection of the commandments with their Source – Almighty and Perfect Love Who is our God and Who is perfected-accomplished-competed in us {ο Θεος αγαπη εστιν ... τετελειωμενη εστιν – 1 John 4:8, 12}. Then, referring to the Perfect Love, St. John the Apostle uses the word τετελειωμενη with the roots τε(λ) (the end, ending) and λε(ι) (polished, completed, accomplished by action/work/deed). The same roots are in the last word, which Lord Jesus Christ spoke in the end of His earthly suffering — τετελεισται – “completed” {John 19:30}: the will of God–Father, the salvation of the world, has been completed.

So, the texts of the Gospels point to the Perfect Love–Source of the Law and revelations given through the prophets: this Love would be hung on the cross for the salvation of the world; the Perfect Love, God, Who is the Beginning and the End, Who gave the Law, accomplished it for the sake of salvation of His Own fallen creatures, and made His followers acceptable (completed and perfected them) for the dwelling of God revealing to them and explaining the Triune, the one Only True God.

If we learn to observe the commandments, we might come to understanding of the words of Lord Jesus Christ in His last hours at the Earth:

— If anyone loves Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him, and We will come to him, and We will make an abode with him {John 14:23}

— they may be one as We are One: I in them and You in Me, that they may be perfected – τετελειωμενοι – into one... that the love with which You loved Me may be in them, and I in them {John 17:22–26}.

Love to God enables us to observe His words—commandments; love to God begins transformation of a human being into the dwelling–temple of Living God {John 2:19–21; 1 Corinthians 3:16; 6:19–20; 2 Corinthians 6:14–18; Ephesians 2:18–21}; love to God leads us from the death, which is the only just judgment we deserve for all that we have done to the others, to the world, to ourselves, and to our God

to the life that began on the cross on which the Perfect life–giving Love is crucified–hung, so we shall not die, but enter the life everlasting

Love to God is the beginning of the way, in the end of which we become that what we have been created to be – the children of God...

The Second Stage

...and thou shall love thy neighbor as thyself...
{Leviticus 19:18}

With observance of the first four from The Ten Commandments, we learned to love God. Now, we are ready to continue the journey home, to the Kingdom of God. The second stage we have to pass, the second realm we have to make our own, or the second state which we have to enter, is love to a neighbor.

Who is a neighbor?

In the Old Testament, it is τον πλησιον — someone near, near by, close to (the root πλησι– originates cluster of words with the meanings of contact, proximity, similarity, immediate, approach). Consequently, Moses speaks of “thy people” and “children of thy people” {Leviticus 19:18}: the “neighbors” or “thy people” include

– the sons of Abraham

– the fellow tribesmen who live near by – people of another nation who would accept the laws of Moses (in the current terms, immigrants assimilated into the society and living by the laws of the society) and then, would be permitted to live among the chosen people or even would be allowed making sacrifice and be admitted to the assembly of the Lord {Numbers 15:13–16; Deuteronomy 23:3–8}.

The definition of “neighbor” was given in the time, when the chosen nation expected fulfillment of the promise of God to accommodate them in the land of Canaan. The meaning of accommodation included gradual extermination of the native inhabitants. Definitely, Moses did not include in category of “neighbors” the people of idol–worshiping nations. Moreover, their establishments and customs had to be discarded, their daughters had not to be taken as wives to sons of Abraham, idols and places of worship had to be ruined, gold and silver counted as accursed and not coveted or taken. Moses conveyed the will of God: prohibition of all contacts with the doomed humans who with their abominations defiled the face of the Earth: idol–worshippers who sacrificed own children to stones, sorcerers, diviners, mediums who pretend to contact with the dead and other spirits, perverts, etc. This prohibition was intended to preserve health of the chosen people, so, God would sanctify them, and they would not become infected with the evil – poisonous knowledge¹¹ of the heathen nations {Exodus 23:23–24; 34:11–17; Leviticus 18:3–30; 20; Deuteronomy 2:31–36; 4:37–38; 7; 9:3–6; 29:16–29; 32; Psalm 90(91):13; 139(140):3; Isaiah 2:6–9; 59:2–5; Romans 3:13}.

The meaning of any evil is deprivation and insufficiency. Consequently, as a brief introductory statement, it might be said that prohibition of any kind of deprivation is the core of – the Law that regulates interrelations among people

– the issuing laws of Moses, rules and norms that regulate the life of the tribe.

The fifth–tenth Commandments {Exodus 20:12–17; Deuteronomy 5:16–21} and their explication in the laws of Moses are intended to exclude evil from the daily life of the chosen nation: they prohibit any kind of deprivation, and any action, which would result in deprivation of the neighbor of any of his possessions, therefore, which would lead to insufficiency. Life, good repute, property of any kind, honor, respect – everything that is of value for the neighbor must not be taken away from the neighbor.

In the New Testament, the meaning of “neighbor” becomes all–inclusive: we must love all, including enemies and those who hate us, those who sin against us, and those who deprive us of something valuable. We must help, assist, and alleviate the burden of needs, suffering, and grief of all who we encounter – in the same way we ourselves wish to be assisted and loved. By non–discriminating benevolence, kindness, willingness to help, and mercy we must imitate perfection and mercy of God the Father {Matthew 5:21–48; 7:12; Luke 6:27–36; 10:25–37; 14:12–14}.

Consequently,

— it is not proper to stone the woman taken in adultery – only someone who is without sin would cast the first stone, yet, there is none without sin {John 8:2–11}

— it is not proper to divorce the wife who lost love of her husband: Moses gave a commandment concerning a letter of divorce because of the ruthless heart of men (σκληροκαρδιαν); everyone who dismisses his wife (if not for her adultery) makes her to commit adultery, and anyone who marries divorced woman, he himself commits adultery; it is not proper to set apart that God yoked together {Matthew 5:31–32; Mark 10:2–12}

— it is not the business of man to judge the others; firstly, we must judge ourselves and to purify own heart, mind, and hands; then, no sinners would exist, and no judgment would be needed {Matthew 7:1–5; Luke 6:37–42; Isaiah 1:2–20}.

With a few words of the Word–God, the entire edifice of human justice is overthrown. Those who love the others are not able to sin against the others: they became unable to inflict harm, to betray, to deprive of anything of value, to humiliate, to ridicule, to make suffer. Then, if there is no sin and evil, no judgment is needed.

Indeed, love is the fulfillment of the law {Romans 13:10} and therefore, the ultimate freedom from evil and sin...

...Honor thy father and thy mother,
that thou may be established and originate (σου γενηται), and that thou may live long on the good land,
which the Lord thy God gives to thee ...
{Exodus 20:12}

The first of the Commandments, which define relations among the people, is devoted to the parents. Life begins with parents, family is the natural foundation of the society, and obligation to father and mother is the starting point of any civilization, which accommodates normal human existence – that is existence in accordance with the human nature. God establishes the direct connection of “honor thy father and thy mother” with a/ life–sustainability – γενηται (the ancient compound word that conveys very complex meaning including abilities to be born/established, and to originate–create; seemingly, close to the current meaning of sustainability), which English translations of the Bible either miss or mention as “it may be well with you”

c/ dwelling on the good/beneficial/profitable land.

Other texts of the Holy Scriptures elaborate the fifth Commandment:

– whoever smites his father or mother must be put to death {Exodus 21:15–16}

– to be obedient to father and do not despise mother because of her old age {Proverbs 23:22}

– to sneer at mother is sign of folly {Proverbs 15:20}.

Lord God Jesus Christ reiterates the responsibilities before the parents: “honor your father and mother,” and “the one speaking evil of his father or mother, by death let him die.” The Lord also rebukes the Pharisees and scribes that they annulled the commandment of God by their own tradition, when the people tell their parents “Gift [to God] is whatever you would gain from me,” they avoid responsibility to sustain them. So, they honor God by their lips, yet, their heart is far from Him {Matthew 15:3–8; Mark 7:9–13}.

If applied to the parents, the meaning of “honor,” includes respect, devotion, obedience, loyalty, concern for well–being, sharing possession, and above all, support in the time of need and any kind of assistance, which would be beneficial to the parents, especially in their old age. It is not enough to love father and mother from a distance, or in the depth of heart; God’s Law requires definite behavior: respect, politeness, and material support in all needs. The consequences of such behavior also are definite: life–sustainability, longevity, and life “on the good land” {Exodus 20:12}.

Why the Law connects honor and love to the parents with the ability to sustain life, longevity, and prosperous and comfortable life “on the good land”?

Parents – father and mother – start a family: they not only become one flesh {Genesis 2:23–24} from which the new life emerges; they are the wholeness, which must not be put apart by men {Matthew 5:31–32; Mark 10:2–12}, because the family secures continuation of existence of mankind. A family is the core of the society, the seed of civilization, and foundation of the state and social order. In the parents’ house a child should come to understanding and learn

— meaning of the good and evil

— how to discern the good and the evil

— criteria of judgment and evaluation, firstly, own words and actions

— such irreplaceable features and virtues as love, faith, ability to evolve, human dignity, individuality, free and independent judgment, the meaning of responsibilities for own behavior, respect to the others (starting with own parents), loyalty, concern for the others, ability to share the very own possession with the others, and other kinds of behavior, which compose the meaning of the all–encompassing word “humaneness.” The child’s abilities to discern good and evil and to choose the good, understanding of the meaning of responsibility, and ability to assume responsibility for own thinking, words, and actions would summarize the parents’ efforts and determine preparedness of a child to enter the social life.

In general, any society is a reflection of the family values. If a family fails to bring up a human being, the society receives a human beast.

It is not a coincidence that — the totalitarian regimes (which build own foundation from the slaves who betray and kill without hesitation and who serve any power without any reservation) consider family as the worst enemy and attempt to break the parents–children ties with all means possible

— the worst crimes against humanity are committed by those who were deprived of family, were abused and mistreated by parent(s), were neglected or lived in orphanages and other charitable institutions with the abusive and ruthless personnel

— the weak families produce consumers–beasts incapable of development. Yet, a society with majority of consumers–beasts is doomed to degeneration and decay.

Now, it is particularly clear that the contemporary societies filled with crimes, heresies, religious, social and political corruption reflect the degradation of the main human institution: the family. This might be confirmed not only by increase of teenage out–of–wedlock pregnancies, sky–rocketing rate of divorce, quantities of single–parent families, plagues of abortions, STD, crimes, suicides, violence, political and civil unrest and cynicism, and overcrowded nursing houses and charitable institutions for the elders filled with unwanted and forgotten parents. In fact, many traditional social, religious, and political institutions came to the verge of collapse because of their own degeneration as well as because of corruption of those who they should serve, educate, protect, and defend.

This degradation began in the antiquity, from Plato’s mind play named philosophy, and its continuation by Aristotle. The state politics devised by Aristotle on the basis of Plato’s speculations diminished the role of the family and introduced the mandatory public education with some definite purposes. Among them, for instance, are such as a/ to fashion social animals–men after the typical model convenient for control and usage

b/ to provide the polis (city–state) with obedient subjects, which are ready for manipulation and use according to the needs of the rulers

c/ to secure stability without any unrest, hostility, and civil/other disobedience threatening the rulers.

Consequently, in the Aristotelian establishment

— role of the parents is diminished and restricted to the biological reproduction

— the Absolute Good is labeled as impractical for men, therefore, as not wanted or non–existing, and replaced with the definite practical good at the αγορά – market place’s level, that is with the set of values, which reflect needs of the hierarchy of slave–owners

— the authority of the state is elevated at the highest rank; ultimately, the state becomes the main deity in the pantheon of idols designed to keep mind and body of subjects under the total control — responsibilities before the hierarchies of power take the place of the human virtues

— gods, rites of worship, and the meaning of good and evil are defined by the state

— mythical “democracy” (public gathering at αγορά, assemblies, show of elections of the representatives, councils, etc.) masquerades tyranny of the elite — and so on...

As any slave-owners, Plato and Aristotle assumed that the power of coercion, manipulation by opinions, and mandatory public education would fashion human beings into typical/standard replaceable manageable social animals—parts—property of the polis, therefore, would secure social stability and prosperity of the polis. However, the end of all political establishments built on the Plato–Aristotle’s model 12 was, is, and will be the same: destruction through degeneration, revolution, and assimilation by other states (that is defeat in war or other forms of assimilation).

The reasons of failure also are the same: destruction of family and substitution the slogans and lies for the family values and human virtues that are the foundation of morality 13 that defines life and evolution—development of human societies. Slaves and free men differ not by physical freedom and confinement, nor social or religious status, nor the place at the social and political hierarchies. Two inseparable sets of attributes differentiate a slave 14 and a free human being; both of them are the foundation without which the abilities to evolve and to create become unobtainable:

responsibilities for own thinking, words, and actions

There is no freedom without responsibilities for own thinking and actions; there is no possibility to actualize the nature – to create the good and the new without virtues—knowledge of good; there is no human being without freedom of conscience and without human virtue; there is no chance of survival for the societies and establishments which are not founded on righteousness and virtue 15.

Family is the setting allotted for nurturing the free thinking mind, independent spirit, and responsible behavior; family secures continuation of existence of mankind, and family values preserve the societies from unrest, violence, degeneration, and bestialization. If a child honors and loves his parents, he is able of learning to honor and love all the others. So, the child has a chance to come to the Love, on which all the Law and the Prophets hang { Matthew 22:36–40}: the road to the Love begins in the family...

The Sixth–Tenth Commandments

Thou shall not kill.
Thou shall not commit adultery.
Thou shall not steal.
Thou shall not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
Thou shall not covet thy neighbor’s wife;
thou shall not covet thy neighbor’s house;
nor his field, not his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his beast of burden, nor any of his cattle, nor whatever belongs to thy neighbor
{Exodus 20:13–17}

The sixth–tenth commandments define the relations among the people; their essence is love to the others: the one who loves other human being will not deprive him of any of his possessions, connections, anything that is dear to his heart and may define the meaning of his life.

The commandment “thou shall not commit adultery” crowns responsibilities before the family; the others define responsibilities before the neighbor. All of them name the reasons of all crimes and foretell their consequences – suffering, grief, distress, injustice, social and political unrest, corruption: they expose the points through which the evil enters the world of men.

From all the possible definitions, which would identify the utter corruption and hypocrisy of the Pharisees who were expected to observe the Law, yet, who in fact, substituted their lies and customs for the Law of God, became unable to recognize the Messiah, and wanted to murder Him — Lord God Jesus Christ has chosen “evil and adulterous generation” {Matthew 12:39; 16:4}.

So, why adultery is such a crime?

The marriage of man and women forms the wholeness, the unique setting for reproduction of the society, state, civilization. Dignity of marriage secures dignity of family’s derivatives – society, state, nation, civilization. By committing the act of adultery, people violate the marriage vows and commit the act of betrayal: adulterous husband betrays his wife, and adulterous wife betrays her husband.

Betrayal is abomination to God: betrayal is the worst sin from the sins against love. Even if the victim forgives the adulterous spouse and the family apparently still lives (for instance, “for the sake of children”), the original wholeness is broken and it cannot be restored. That is why adultery is the only acceptable reason of divorce {Matthew 5:31–32; Mark 10:2–12}.

Betrayal triggers the chain reaction of evil, which affects the entire society, nation, state, and civilization, because betrayal destroys the family. Destruction of the family culminates in the destruction of all its derivatives (society, nation, state, civilization) and everything with which the adulterer is connected. Betrayal annihilates the very ground for love and perfection. None of those who committed adultery and did not repent might ever be trusted: those who betray the family are well prepared to betray everyone and everything. Betrayal sustains the oppressive regimes; it is main component of foundation on which slavery and corruption flourish. In fact, betrayal is present in violation of any of The Ten Commandments: it indicates rejection of God and disregard of the interests and well-being of the others.

The Summary

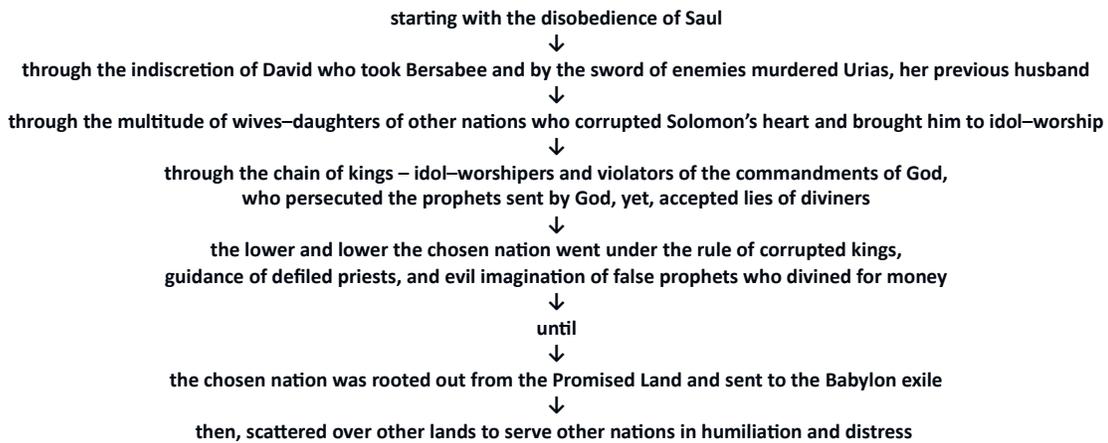

Generally speaking, the entire history of mankind might be seen as the description of violations of the Law of God and the consequences; for instance, – the destruction of all empires begins with the adulterous and covetous rulers; it moves forward through political assassinations, institutionalized deceit and corruption

– assassinations, false accusations of political and other competitors, thievery, fraud and deceit resulting in deprivation of the others, injustice, and fear to be deprived of life and life—maintaining resources sustain the power of coercion by which the oppressive regimes and tyrants live – from the very beginning, wars became the expression of envy of kings (and then, other rulers/leaders/heads of the hierarchies) and the means of acquisition of new lands, slaves, and other valuables stolen from the conquered nations.

The history of ancient Israel {the Books of Kings, Chronicles, Books of Isaiah, Jeremiah, Daniel, and Maccabees} reveals the corrupting influence of the ancient kings that violated the commandments of God and the consequences:

The history of ancient kings 216 confirms the warning of Samuel the Prophet, with which he attempted to prevent the ancient Israel from the deadly mistake to disregard God and to become as all other nations: to have a king, mortal man, who would represent them and to lead their battles { 1 Kings 8:4–22; 10:17–19}. With this choice, the original design of the holy nation of priest was abolished, and the hierarchy of earthly power became inevitable choice for all human establishments.

What is wrong with the hierarchy, if obedience and respect to the authorities are the Christian virtues { 1 Peter 2:13–25; Romans 13:1–10 }?

Slave by body might be freeman by the spirit { John 4:23–24; 8:31–36; 2 Corinthians 3:17; Galatians 5:13 }: until submission to the earthly authorities or “the masters/owners” requires violation of the Law of God, submission is not true slavery. The true slavery 214 is submission to sin and worship deified leader/slave-owner/idols; this slavery leads to death of reason and assassination of the soul.

With their choice to disregard God, the chosen people of the Past have discovered the main pattern of total ruin 217, and diligently applied it toward all and everything that they encountered in their religious, social, and political life.

All hierarchies of power by their nature act through the power of coercion, therefore, require submission of the majority to the will of the minority—ruling person/group. The earthly rulers always attempt to take the place of God in the heart and mind of their subjects and to become the main model for imitation, because the optimal state of any hierarchy of power is imagined as the absolute power: complete enslavement of all those who are the foundation of the hierarchy, which is accomplished through control of the behavior, thinking, conscience.

All hierarchies of power might be described with two main features: slave—owners and slaves; difference is in the details, particularly, in the limitations of liberties and rights of the subjects. For instance, “sacred kings” of the heathen Antiquity and the medieval popes pretended to possess the power over destiny of their subjects in the after—life; the manifest power of current presidents of “democratic” states, which do not restrict freedom of conscience, is limited to the power of deprivation of life and other material resources, for example, waging wars. However, the foundation is the same, and ultimately, democracies as well as tyrannies prepare ground for totalitarian establishments.

In brief, it might be said that the main purpose of any hierarchy of power is the absolute power; the absolute power does not exist without its foundation: absolute slavery. Slavery is abomination to God, because where the Spirit of God is, there is freedom { 2 Corinthians 3:17 }. It means, for instance, that when the slaves of Egypt freed by God and intended to evolve into the holy nation of priests, have chosen the mortal king instead of God, they, by their own choice, entered another form of slavery.

Then, crimes of the kings and crimes and suffering of the people were inseparably linked. With time, kings (and consequently, all heads of the hierarchies of the power) became the embodiment of the destiny of the state/system they ruled/controlled: the more iniquities and violations of the Law people committed the worst kind of rulers they received and the heavier the burden of their enslavement became. The more corrupted rulers the people had the more corrupted the people became and the more evil and crimes they committed. This infernal link began to define the very fabric of the society and eventually, formed common patterns of disintegration and collapse of the societies and states.

The contemporary history is not different. Gradually, the institutions of power, social and religious establishments aspiring for the absolute power have been transformed into the devices for corruption and extermination of men. The higher level of the hierarchy of power men occupy the more evil they commit, the more evil they plant in the mind of their subjects and servants, the more hatred they evoke, and the more crimes and suffering follow.

However, all hierarchies of power based on enslavement of men harbor within themselves the core of own annihilation: slavery. Slavery initiates destruction—ruin/death of any establishment, which it sustains, because a/ slavery is death of reason, therefore, any establishment founded on slavery has no chance to develop and prosper enough to sustain well—being of all its members/subjects, whichever money its accumulates and whichever weapons it produces b/ slavery is not consistent with the human nature: revolution or another kind of civil unrest/war is the natural end of all oppressive establishments.

The ancient empires and kingdoms knew the wrath of slaves’ rebellion: even the fear before idols of the Inferno was not able to curb hatred of slaves toward their owners – slavery and false gods are responsible for destruction of the heathen Antiquity. The similar processes are at work now.

The unspeakable evil and bloodshed of the relatively recent Past – religious wars, persecution of “heretics,” revolutions that thundered during last eight centuries in the countries, which supposed to live by the Law of God, because they identified themselves as the Christian nations, yet which have learnt the plague of the Inquisition and the power of the “hierarchical” papal church (England, France, Germany, and other countries), still live in the memory of people and in books and movies.

However, on the ruins of old kingdoms and empires the new ones were built and then, destroyed: totalitarian states of the twentieth centuries are the complete logical embodiment of the ideals of the heathen philosophy, starting with the phantom of “absolute” power of a ruler, within the settings known as “the Western civilization.” Their design is based on the patterns actualized by the following phenomena:

- the Inquisition
- the self—ascribed papal right to define the meaning of good and evil
- deification of the popes (and then, other heads of other hierarchies) as the “divine”/deified persons who are above human laws and, therefore, are entitled to overthrow the Law of God.

These establishments became the embodiment of denial of the Law of God. They grew into the greatest slave—owners in the history of mankind. Among their worst crimes are transformation of men into the slaves and establishment of total control and total surveillance based on betrayal. In an attempt to obtain the absolute power over their subjects and to deprive them of any freedom of conscience, thinking, choice, they fashioned the majority of population after Judas Iscariot and transformed it into the informers who without hesitation betrayed to authorities own parents, brothers, sisters, friends, co—workers.

The scale of their victims is unknown – even today: the precise number of men, women, and children murdered and tortured to death by the Inquisitors, Fascist, Nazis, Bolsheviks, Communists, and others of a kind is not known. In addition, the multitude of victims of the first and second World Wars are counted on millions estimated from 56 [Trager] through 80 [Wikipedia] million men, women, children.

The evil of these establishments is unprecedented, and the very fact of their existence signifies aggravating degeneration of mankind. Although some of them disappeared from the face of the Earth, their poisonous inheritance of the neo–heathenism, beliefs in racial/national supremacy, so–called “liberation” and other movements with underlying ideologies of neo–Marxism, Bolshevism, Communism, Socialism, etc., false ideals and slogans of beehive democracies, attractiveness of tyrannical oppression seen as an embodiment of the “absolute/world power” — still lives. On this ground, the institutionalized hatred to God and denial of His Law actualized through ecumenism and globalism movements penetrated many state and social institutions of so–called “free democratic” countries, and revealed the latent before, yet, irreversible processes of degeneration of human nature and destruction of the world, which humans were created to dominate and cherish in love and perfection.

The contemporary civilizations and countries in all continents and parts of the world are in the constant state of war – apparent (military) and hidden conflicts of interests fueled by the lust for power and riches, insufficiency of resources, pollution, overpopulation of some regions as well scarce population in other regions of the world, poverty, illiteracy, injustice, and other evils created by the previous and current generations. Everything became contaminated and defiled by human greed, vice, corruption, and degeneration in such a degree that strict observance of the Law of God is considered as mental disorder: the very mention of God the Creator became strange to the ear of God’s creations – men.

Erosion of faith and family values is accompanied with denigration of other traditional values, especially those, which unify the people into the self–sustaining system/wholeness – business enterprise, state, nation. Loyalty, devotion to the mutual purposes, mutual respect, patriotism, national pride, respect to those who serve in truth and dignity, who defend and protect, who fulfilled their duties of obedience to their rulers and died in the wars — all of them faded and disintegrated as the old pictures in family album forgotten in a damp basement.

In general, the current societies are well prepared for the unconditional acceptance of ideologies – the current version of the heathen cults of the arch–evil, which accommodate anger, hatred, violence, which cover crimes again peoples and societies by the names of their gods, and which places of worship spread evil, because they became the places where men contemplate death of other men and crimes against other societies and nations.

The establishments, which are intended for protection of the main human institution – family and its derivative – society, underwent transformation into the enemies of family and society. The political, social, and religious organizations, including schools and churches, the public officials, leaders of the different levels of hierarchies of power convey the messages of evil and corruption, because their policies, rules, norms, laws, words, and actions (in a course of their business, occupation, responsibilities, personal life opened to the public) are not founded on the Law of God.

In return, hatred, envy, betrayal, infidelity, and cynicism describe the feelings toward the rulers/leaders of all levels and all establishments – state, political, military, religious, social, commercial, etc. These feelings, ignorance in the matters of faith, lack of knowledge of the Law of God, and unfulfilled expectations explain anti–social behavior, mental disorders, and crimes of the ordinary members of the society.

Human and especially woman’s dignity, innocence of children, understanding of the uniqueness and preciousness of each person are forgotten. Value of a human being is measured in the terms of market; for instance, such as sources for organ–harvesting, buyers of IVF (artificial insemination techniques similar to those for the artificial reproduction of meat cattle intended for slaughter), consumers of the drugs, vaccines, and cosmetics developed on the rodents and other laboratory animals and on chimeras (e.g., human–avian, human–plant, human–swine cells), targets for applications of expensive medical tests and procedures, which are prescribed for the sake of profit, not because they would improve health and alleviate suffering of the sick, and so on.

Figuratively speaking, population of the developed countries is transformed into the cattle, which is produced, kept, and slaughtered for the profit: the people are formed into herds of consumers of all kinds of poison — spiritual, mental, and physical, which destroy conscience, mind, and body, and which are distributed through all channels, including entertainment, media, markets, commercialized medicine, politics, religions, education, science, commerce.

Deforestation and pollution have reached unprecedented scales. People have polluted and poisoned rivers, seas, oceans, lands, destroyed natural habitat of many living species; their crimes against the nature explain scarcity of plentiful before fishes of the sea and beasts of the land, plagues, abnormal mutations of the plants, insects, sea creatures, animals, and humans. All of them are the signs of the coming death: the Earth is dying along with her inhabitants, including degenerating mankind, and who can stop it, if men discarded the Law–foundation of life, lost wisdom and forgot its source – God?

Scientists, researchers, analysts in vain seek the reasons of the crises and explanation of the current world–wide economical downfall, impoverishment, and other problems in an attempt to prevent them in the Future, to stabilize the world economy, and to improve life and health of the world population. Until they recognize that all the current problems are the consequences of violations of the Law of God, they cannot be successful. Uninterrupted military conflicts, lack of reasoning, denigration of human values, false pride and hatred to other states and nations, and other consequences of violations of the Law of God – The Ten Commandments – formed the problems of the Present; they will result in annihilation of mankind in the Future.

Isaiah the Prophet diagnosed the current problems many centuries ago; he also warned of the end {Isaiah 1; 2:6–9, 12, 17–21; 9:18–20; 13:9–11; 59:1–18} and gave advice how to avoid it {Isaiah 1:16–20; 58:6–12}.

However, the time is different now: the violations of the Law, evil and iniquities of men overflow the measures and the end is determined, although only God knows the time of the Last Judgment {Matthew 23:34–36; 2 Peter 3:1–15}.

All that is left is a chance of salvation

for a chosen few (let it will be all of us!), for those human beings who during the last days left before the end would come to love and knowledge of God and would obtain their salvation yet
not for the entire world, which men transformed into the Inferno for humans, animals, and all living creatures, into the edifice of evil built on the ruins of the temple of God {Matthew 24:1–44; Mark 13; Luke 12:22–40; 17:26–30; 21:5–36; John 12:46–50; 2 Peter 3:1–15}

Although the people and especially their rulers, habitually disregard Moses’ warning given in the times of the Old Testament {Deuteronomy 28; 29; 30}, and the reminder given by Lord God Jesus Christ {Matthew 5:17–18; Luke 16:17}, the Law, by which the world lives, has not been canceled. The current state of the world affairs — poverty, diseases and plagues, military conflicts, social unrest, religious, social, and political corruption, crimes against men and against the nature, chain of man–made and natural crises — might reveal the powers of annihilation at work to those who seek understanding of the Present and knowledge of the Future.

I give a new commandment to you,
that you love one another as I loved you, that also you should love one another.
By this all will know that you are My disciples, if you have love among one another
{John 13:34}
This is My commandment,
{John 15:12}

The third stage of the road to God unfolds as cognition of the Christian love; this is the last stage of the earthly journey, the last realm we have to pass, and the ultimate lesson we have to learn, if we want to become the children of God and to return home, into the Kingdom of God.

The two greatest commandments of love are well known: with them, the human civilization began. In the time of the New Testament, God again tells us about love {John 13:34–35; 15:12–17}.

Why God speaks of a “new commandment,” what is the difference, and why this love distinguishes the followers of Lord Jesus Christ from all other human beings?

To love a neighbor as we love ourselves is not enough. Our love to the others must be perfect in its completion: we must love each other in the same way as God loves us {John 13:34; 15:12}.

How God loves us? He lays down His life for our salvation {John 3:16–18; 10:11, 14–18; 12:23–26; 15:13–14}.

God explains us the meaning of the perfect love:

— the one who loves his enemies, he imitates mercy and perfection of God the Father {Matthew 5:44–48; Luke 6:27–36}

— he who loves Lord God Jesus Christ, keeps His words and observes His commandments {John 14:15–17, 21}

— the one who lays down his life for his friends has the greatest love {John 15:13}

— he who loves God and observes His commandments, dwells in love of God the Son as He, God the Son, dwells in love of God the Father {John 15:10}

— love to God gives a human being the knowledge of God the Father and God the Son – the Word–God; this knowledge is the eternal life {John 17:3}

— a human being, who loves God and in who God dwells, comes to completion by the perfect love and returns to God: through Lord God Jesus Christ a human being is unified with God and dwells with God in the eternity {John 17:21–26; Revelation 21:1–7}.

— to him who loves God and observes His commandments, the Holy Spirit of God is sent from the Father, in the name of the Son: the Holy Spirit of truth, comes to a human being, dwells in him and with him, comforts, teaches, and gives understanding of the words of God. The knowledge of God, love to God and understanding of His words given by the Holy Spirit, enable a human being to fulfill the commandments of Lord God Jesus Christ and to do the works of God, so, God the Father will love him, and He and His Son, the Word–God, will come and make their dwelling with him {John 14:21, 23; 17:24–26}.

Love to God and observance of the commandments of God transforms a human being into the dwelling of the Holy Trinity: this transformation is the meaning of salvation, the purpose of every human being born into this world, and completion of the earthly journey.

And what is about the others?

The Old Testament’s commandments, which are intended to prevent deprivation of the others of all their possessions and valuables, therefore to prevent evil–insufficiency of any kind, is not enough. We must learn how to supplement and to heal insufficiency of the others by our love, how to create the good, which would benefit the others, so our love would complete/perfect all – those who create and give and those who accept and evolve – into the unity with our God Who is the Perfect Love.

In summary, we, the Christians, perceive and learn the perfect love through love to God, imitation of God, observance of His commandments, knowledge of God, and love to the others in whom we recognize the same image and likeness of God that lives within us: everything begins with love and is completed by love – the greatest good of men.

Only those human beings will have life everlasting and enter the Kingdom of God who learned to love God who observed commandments of God who cognized the love of God

{1 John 3:16–17; 4:7–21; 5:1–13; Revelation 22:14}.

Hence, the Christian’s road to God

— begins with observance of the Law of God – The Ten Commandments, which define the nature of men through the responsibilities before the Creator and before other men

— unfolds before those who understand that Lord God Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is the only Truth, Light and Life of the world, and the Way to God the Father

— leads to perfect love and cognition of God, to the absolute freedom, when a human being, through Lord God Jesus Christ and by the power of the Holy Spirit, becomes the child of God, is unified with God the Father and Creator, and enters life everlasting {John 1:1–18; 3:3–7, 16–21, 35–36; 4:23–24; 6:28–69; 7:37–39; 8:12, 24–25, 34–36; 10:1–18, 27–30; 11:25–26; 12:44–50; 14; 15; 16;17}.

...I am the Way, and the Truth, and the Life.
No one comes to the Father except through Me...
{John 14:6}

The essence of the road to God is perfection in love; this road has three stages:

- 1/ perfection in love to God
 - 2/ perfection in love to the others
 - 3/ Christian love, when a human being
 - becomes the child of God
 - receives the authority to do the works of Love
 - becomes the temple-dwelling of the Holy Trinity
 - obtains the peace of God
 - is ready to return home, in the Kingdom of God
- because he has accomplished the purposes of existence and his earthly journey is completed

The first and the second stages restore the normal human nature and transform a human beast into a human being.

Through the observance of The Ten Commandments, a human being a/ is healed: the healing power of God revives the heart of stone, wipes out dullness and moral blindness {Isaiah 6:9-10; John 12:37-41}, and restores clarity of perception and understanding. In a human being who observes the Law of God, the power of God heals soul-heart-mind; as a result, he converts into the normal human state – righteousness and wisdom, which are the indications that the image and likeness of God are within

b/ learns to love God with all heart, soul, mind, and strength

c/ learns to love the others.

In summary,

the observance of The Ten Commandments opens the road to the eternal Life, leads a human being close to the Kingdom of God, and prepares a human being for acceptance of the Word-God Who would give him the authority to become the child of God and place in His Kingdom {Matthew 5:17-19; 19:16-26; 22:36-40; Mark 12:29-34; Luke 10:25-28; 18:18-27; John 1:1-18; 14; 15; 16; 17; Revelation 22:1-5}.

The third stage — perfection in Christian love — is opened to those who had accepted that Lord God Jesus Christ is the Way, and the Truth, and the Life, and no one comes to the Father except through Him {John 14:6}.

When love to God becomes the essence of a human being, the power of eternal Spirit-breath of God {Genesis 2:7} is again ignited within His creation {John 3:3-7; 6:63; 14:15-17; 15:26}. Then, the human being becomes able to discern within the others the same image and likeness of God that is within his own soul-heart-mind: the human being becomes able to love the others as he loves himself and as God loves him.

Love to God and love to the others evoke abilities to discern the true Light – the Light of God {John 1:4-5, 9; 8:12; 12:46} that illuminates everyone who seeks the road to God within the darkness of this world of the matter allotted for cognition of good and evil.

The Gospels explain the meaning of perfection in Christian love and provide instructions how to achieve the most important purpose for the sake of which a human being lives. The model of Christian behavior is our Lord God and Savior Jesus Christ. Imitation of His love to His followers and observance of His commandments transform the human heart-soul-mind into the temple of the Living God: through the Word-God – Lord Jesus Christ and by the power of the Holy Spirit, the original human nature is recreated within mortal flesh and a new being, a child of God, is born into the life everlasting.

How to discern the presence of immortal God within a mortal man? The child of God is recognized by the power to create the good and to accomplish the will of God. The Gospels and other Books of the New Testament describe some visible manifestation of this power which is revealed through the actions of Lord Jesus Christ and His Apostles {e.g., Mark 16:15-18; Luke 6:19; 10:19-20; Acts 5:1-16; 1 Corinthians 12; Romans 8}. By this power, the Old Testament's prophets 19 spoke and confirmed that they are the messengers of God. This power is the work of the Holy Spirit of God revealed through those who became the living temple-dwelling of the Almighty Trinity.

Hierarchies of coercive power and human establishments founded on human pride, riches, and power of weapon have nothing in common with the actual power by which the world was created and is sustained – the power of the Spirit of Almighty God {Zacharias 4:6}. Before this power, the mightiest armies and greatest empires and multitudes of nations are as nothing, and when actualized through a human being, this power is not concerned with the might measured by the values of men. This power sustains the invincible human spirit, makes a frail human flesh able to withstand the power of coercion of those who kill the body, and enables a lonely and weak human being to defeat the world of evil {Matthew 10:28; John 16:33; 1 John 5:1-5}.

The ability to perceive this power differentiates those who serve God and those who serve the earthly masters. When this power works openly,

— those who see the results of its work, identify them as supernatural phenomenon or confirmation of “the unlimited abilities of man” and begin to chase it through rigorous exercises and special training and techniques, which give only temporary deceiving illusion of the power over the matter, which dissipates along with the matter

— those who carry it and who are able to discern it, humble themselves before its Source-God and praise God for His mercy, because even to feel the presence of this power within the others is the greatest joy and reward of the righteous.

For the Christian-child of God, the greatest sign of this power is the ability to love God and to love the others as God loves His creation – a human being. This ability is revealed through acts of creation of good and perfection of the others, which very often are hidden within the ordinary acts of assisting, serving, and carrying for the others.

For instance, a human being, who is granted the power to heal, applies this gift without any reward or recognition, sometimes, without knowledge of those who need to be healed. The very act of manifestation of this power through the healer is the greatest reward and the greatest joy for the healer. Another act of a kind is mercy and benevolent help to those in need: everyone has something to share with those who have none – water, food, money, shelter, knowledge...

The acts of mercy reveal the meaning of love (and especially love to those who have less because of their violation of the Law or sins of their ancestors) as the power to replenish insufficiency, enrich understanding (for instance, to replenish the vital energy, which is weakened in the sick, to sustain body by giving food and water to the hungry, to awake the power of reasoning in the ignorant), and as the result, to awake within the others the hope and the power to evolve and to reach their state of the optimum.

In summary, any act of assistance committed for the sake of good/development/evolution of the others belongs to the realm of the works, which Lord God Jesus Christ mentioned in His last hours {John 14:12}:

he that believes in Me, the works which I do that one shall also do, and greater than these he will do, because I go to My Father

This act discloses one of the purposes of the Christian love among each other: the increase of the quantity of those who would evolve into the children of God. This act also explains why a human being, in his beneficial works for enemies and evil people in the same manner as for friends and good people, must – imitate mercy and perfection of God Who sends His life–sustaining rain and sun–light to all — the righteous and the unrighteous { Matthew 5:38–48; Luke 6:27–36 }

– be merciful and kind to all — friends and enemies, servants and rebels, the evil and the good, the righteous and the sinners until the time allotted to their choices culminating in perfection in good (or corruption in evil) passes and they, as the fruits of harvest, are complete and ready to stand before the judgment of God.

If to know, for instance, that the acts of healing and mercy committed by the power of the Holy Spirit replenish insufficiency of the others and increase the good within the world, and if to evaluate the world by the suffering and crimes of men, it is possible to assume that the quantity of those, who are the children of God living within this world now, is small...

If to recall the time of destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, when Abraham implored the Lord to spare the entire city for the sake of ten righteous { Genesis 18:17–33 }, the only hope for the world is to know that the mercy of God has no limits. By the new commandment to love each other as God loves His creations, by forgiving the crucified criminal, and by giving up His life for the salvation of the world { Matthew 26:26–28; Mark 14:22–24; Luke 22:17–20; 23:32–43; John 3:16–17; 10:10–18; 13:34–35; 15:9–13, 17; }, Lord God Jesus Christ teaches us the true and only perfection that a human being must seek relentlessly until he lives: perfection in love. Such perfection might be seen, for instance, as the mercy, which replenishes insufficiency and satisfies the spiritual and bodily hunger of the others – friends as well as enemies, so all of us might grow up in truth and understanding and ultimately, evolve into the children of God.

The One Coming to Christ

...come to Me, all those laboring and being burdened, and I will give you rest...
{Matthew 11:28}

The one who set his mind on comprehension of knowledge of God with the purpose to become a follower of Lord God Jesus Christ – a Christian Σ20 – begins with a simple preparation: the silent prayer to God – within own mind, unnoticed and unknown to those who might be a part of daily life, who might be apparently connected to the one as family members, friends, co-workers, and yet, who, at the same time, because of different convictions, beliefs, and ways of life might be as far from the one as the East is far from the West { Psalms 102(103):12; Matthew 6:16–18; 10:16–39; 15:8–9; Luke 12:51–53; 21:16–19; Ephesians 6:18 }.

To begin the road to God, the one does not need to obtain a particular social status or wealth, to belong to a particular race or nation, to go into particular places of worship, to wear special clothing, to seek court's approval, incite unrest, to follow special rituals and innovations of men. God is the Spirit and He seeks those who worship Him in spirit and truth: God sees and judges the inner man – his soul–heart–mind { 1 Kings 16:7; Psalm 43(44):21; Matthew 6:16–18; John 4:19–24; Romans 10:12–13; 1 Corinthians 6:1–8; Colossians 2:2–23; Isaiah 58:2–14; Zacharias 7:4–10 }.

The soul–heart–mind of man might become either the temple of the Living God or the nest of the evil and den of the robbers: the outcome is the result of the one's own choice, thoughts, words, and actions. The road to God begins in the one's own spirit, in the depth of own soul–heart–mind, and through Word–God, Lord Jesus Christ, Who is the Life and the Light and the Truth of a human child of God {cf.: Matthew 15:19–20; 21:12–13; Mark 7:6–9, 21–23; John 1:1–5, 9–13; 2:19; 8:12; 14:6; 1 Corinthians 6:12; 7:17–23; 12:13; 2 Corinthians 3:6; Ephesians 6:18 }.

The one can arrange the initial phase of preparation as three–fold daily activity:

a/ to begin with The Jesus Prayer*Σ21, which should be read in the beginning and in the end of everything – the new day, when the one awakes, and in the evening, when the one goes to sleep, before starting and in the ending of the work, studies, and so on... Whatever fills the days of life, whatever has the beginning and the end, should begin and end with prayer to the Word–God Who is the Beginning and the End, Who is the Holy Wisdom of God and Head of all powers and all authorities over the human soul–heart–mind as well as over the entire universe, Who is the precious corner–stone, on which the Εκκλησια*Σ22 – Church of God – is built, and without Whom man is enabled of nothing { Matthew 18:20; John 15:4–6; 1 Peter 2:4–6; Ephesians 1:17–23; 2:1–22 }

b/ to continue with The Lord Prayer*Σ23 and The Prayer of giving the Holy Spirit*Σ24. If the one seeks God with all heart and mind, with faith, the Holy Spirit, Who is sent by God the Father in the Name of the Word–God – Lord Jesus Christ, will teach and guide and lead into the eternity with God { Proverbs 2:3–11; 3:5–35; Joel 2:28–29; Matthew 7:7–11; 21:21–22; Luke 11:2–13; John 14:15–26; 16:7–15, 24, 26; Hebrews 11:1–40 }

c/ to devote the time left after the daily necessities (job, family duties, household chores, and so on) to reading the Holy Bible:

1/ start with the Gospels; first, The Gospel According to John, then the others – According to Matthew, Mark, Luke – they all lead to the same Door and convey the words of the same Good Shepherd { John 10:7–18 }

2/ continue with the Psalms and the Books of the Old Testament – Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Deuteronomy, and all the following (especially, the Books of Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, and Malachi), which explain many events from the Past, the Present, and the Future

3/ finish with the Acts and Epistles of the Apostles (firstly, 1 John, 1 & 2 Peter, James, Jude, Romans, Ephesians), then, Revelation.

The Jesus Prayer opens the mind to the Word–God Whose grace { John 1:17 } will instantly { Joel 2:32 }, although might be unnoticeable in the very beginning, start to work and to transform the heart–mind of the one who with faith and hope seeks God. The Name of Jesus Christ is the seed of the Kingdom of God that having being planted into the heart–mind grows into the mighty tree – the invincible empire of free human spirit that is loved and led and taught by God Himself { Psalms 31(32):7–8; 118(119); 138(139):1–18; Matthew 13:2–23; Mark 4:1–32; John 14:26; 17:1–26; James 1:17–25 }.

Only through Lord Jesus Christ a human being comes to his Creator { John 14:6 }: the starting point and the ending point of everything is the prayer to Jesus Christ Who will come and heal and forgive and illuminate and lead into His marvelous Light – the eternity with God – the one who opens his heart–mind to the Son of God, the Good Shepherd and Savior.

The Lord's Prayer – to God the Father – and the prayer of giving the Holy Spirit should be read in the beginning and in the end of day, before the meal, at any time when the one needs guidance and help in the daily needs and troubles, or when the one perceives the presence of God.

The Holy Bible is the greatest treasure: it conveys the words of God leading into the eternity. Even if, at the beginning, something is not perfectly clear, the one should continue reading: as it was with all preceding generations, God will answer, open the mind for understanding that His law defines the greatest good of man, and give the knowledge to everyone who seeks Him with faith and hope {Deuteronomy 6:4–8; 30:9–14; Proverbs 2:3–11; John 14:15–26; 16:13, 24–27}.

As soon as the heart–mind advances in learning and understanding the words of God, the one should begin to observe them, especially, The Ten Commandments and the words of Jesus Christ conveyed by the Gospels {esp.: Exodus 20:1–17; Matthew 5; 6; 7; Luke 6:20–49; 10:25–37; John}, and to embody them into own words and actions. At this stage, the Epistles of the Apostles should be studied as the practical guide, because they will teach how to establish life appropriate for a Christian and how to develop the Christian virtues, which, in the Present, the many either forgot or never learned.

When the one feels ready, he should find the Christian Orthodox Church, in which he might complete his preparation for becoming full–fledged member of the Church of God at the earth – to be baptized, to partake in the Holy Communion {Matthew 26:26–28; 28:18–20; Mark 16:15–16; Luke 3:16–17; 12:49; 22:19–20; John 1:33–34; Acts 19:1–5; 8:26–39}.

At this stage (the choice of the church – for instance, in the US: American, Greek, Russian, Ukrainian, or any of other Orthodox Churches – and the particular place of worship), the one should be careful, because in the current time and within the godless societies, some churches have been transformed into the establishments, which operate more as social/political clubs than the temples of God. Furthermore, in contradiction to the words of God [e.g., Malachi 2:7–9], some priests became more concerned with material possessions, political advantages, and fulfilling of own immoral desires more than with the true value of human soul seeking God. Such priests

- cover their earthly ambitions with lofty words
- confirm their “sainthood” and pretenses on top hierarchical positions with academic degrees in theology and philosophy earned in the papal educational institutions

- propagate ecumenism²⁵ (ecumenism is based on the sacrilegious idea of unification of Christian Orthodox Church with the papal establishment, this idea and issuing propaganda with slogans of unity and “brotherly love” between the Christians and Catholics cover the war for eradication of Christianity) as “the will of God Who desires the unity of all”

- spread heresies, especially, by calling for compromises in the questions of faith, by forgetting the reasons of the Great Schism and the history of Christianity, by discarding the crimes against God and against Christians committed by the papacy and the papal subjects, by justifying the idea of modernization/adjustment to the current times (that is descent at the level of the godless and corrupted societies, acceptance the sin as the norm, the black as the white, and the will of men as the will of God)

- in contradiction to the instructions of St. Paul the Apostle, propagate acceptance of all and total unification (even with those who do not wish change their manner of life founded on heresy, sin, and disgrace – e.g., in: 2 Peter 2:12–22; Romans 1:21–32; 1 Corinthians 5:9–13; 6:1–20; 2 Corinthians 6:14–18; Galatians 5:14–26)

- corrupt and deceive many.

The litmus (or acid) test is the position of a particular church and its priests toward unification with the papal establishment (therefore the ability or inability to identify the Orphism¹⁸ – ancient cult of snake–worshippers, on which Plato–Aristotle’s philosophy is built – behind the Aristotle–Aquinas’ political theology that is the official doctrine of the papal church of Rome, Vatican) and acceptance of idol–worshippers (although they might be deceived and earnestly believe that they worship true God) as the fellow Christians, before their ignorance is healed and before they are baptized as Christians.

Nevertheless, whatever the one might encounter, he should never accept ignorance, vice, deceit, and imperfection of men as the obstacle to his own coming to God. Christianity is the peace in God {John 14:27}, yet, in the same time, it is the never–ending spiritual battle with the evils {Ephesians 6:10–18}, which manifest themselves through corruption and ignorance those who have rejected God and chose to follow heresies and false teachings of men. From the beginning of Christianity, for everyone who seeks true knowledge and wisdom, the evil is always the part of the universal test {in: Luke 4:1–12}, and heretics, false teachers, and sinners are the part of trial {Matthew 7:15–24; 24:5, 11, 24; John 8:31–47}:

- the spirit of anti–Christ was already unleashed in the time when St. John the Apostle still lived {1 John 2:18–19; 4:3; 2 John 7}

- St. Peter the Apostle warned against false prophets and false teachers who introduce deadly heresies {2 Peter 2:1–22}

- St. Paul the Apostle warned against the grieving wolves who would not spare the flock after his departure {Acts 20:29–30}

- St. Jude the Apostle wrote of dreamers who live by their lusts, pollute the flesh, and have no Spirit of God within them as of the waterless clouds, fruitless autumn trees, and animal–like ones {Jude 7–19}.

Then, one more thing to remember: wherever the Spirit of God is, there is freedom and peace {John 8:31–36; 14:15–26; James 1:25; 2 Corinthians 3:17–18; Galatians 5:13–26}. In Christian Church, there cannot be coercion in the religious matters, forceful conversion, hypocrisy, and assertion of unreserved submission to men who pretend on superiority and especial status in the church: to self–deified men who sacrilegiously pretend on the place of God and, in contradiction to the Holy Scriptures, present themselves as mediators between God and men, while there is only One Mediator between God and man – Lord Jesus Christ {Matthew 15:7–9, 14; 23:2–35; Mark 9:33–35; John 14:6; 1 Timothy 2:5–6; 2 Thessalonians 2:3–12}.

Such coercion and false pretences are sacrilege and crime before God, because they

- 1/ are the attempts to interfere with the will of God Who is the only Leader {Καθιγητης – Matthew 23:10} of every one of His creations

- 2/ take away the precious gift of freedom, which God the Creator bestows onto every one of His creations {John 8:31–36; 2 Corinthians 3:17}

- 3/ deceive God’s creations and masquerade the earthly ambitions of those to whom St. Paul the Apostle refers to as to the sons of perdition and ravenous wolves not sparing the flock {Acts 20:29–30; 2 Thessalonians 2:3–4}.

A Christian lives in the peace of Lord Jesus Christ, by the perfect law of freedom explained by Lord Jesus Christ and given by the Holy Spirit, and in the Church that is the God’s Own. Therefore, the one should never give up independent unbiased reasoning, which only knowledge of God sustains: meekness and humility before God does not mean transformation into the unreserved slave of men who make enslaving and preying on the others the source of own earthly wealth and earthly advancement. Trust in God does not include unreserved trust in men and spiritual self–enslaving to men, whoever they are, whichever sainthood they ascribe to themselves, whichever power of coercion they possess, and even whichever miracles they create [e.g., Matthew 24:4–5, 11, 24; 1 Corinthians 7:23; 2 Corinthians 3:17].

Therefore, if the one desires to accomplish the ultimate purpose of man – to save his soul and enter the eternity with God, the one’s mind should be tuned to the words of God, not to human fantasies born by corrupted imagination and earthly ambitions. The one should set the words of God as unassailable core of own thinking, reasoning, and judgment; he always should compare all the sermons, “apostolic/pastoral” encyclicals of the “fervent supplicants for all before God,” uttering, and especially, actions of clergy and the people, which he might encounter when he becomes a member of a particular religious establishment, with the words and commandments of God [e.g., in: Matthew 7:21–23; Luke 10:25–37; John 13:34–35].

The Word–God granted the universal criteria of judgment and evaluation of all world’s affairs, events, people, and their words and deeds: the Christians have

- 1/ the universal criterion of judgment given by Lord Jesus Christ – evaluation by the fruits, that is by the good for all and every human being as the ultimate result {Matthew 7:12–20; 15:7–9}

- 2/ the universal criterion of evaluation of actions and words by which they recognize the essence – love to each other {John 13:34–35; Matthew 7:12}.

If the words and actions of man lead to the good of each person (not to the abstract common good, with which politicians of all times and all establishments starting with Aristotelian Polis sacrifice many for the sake of the privileged few) and reveal love to the others, they are accomplished in Christ.

For instance {Mark 7:20–23; Luke 6:45; 1 Corinthians 12:3}, the Christian’s heart does not originate evil and does not train itself in blasphemies against Lord Jesus Christ. The Christians do not accept the heretical assertion that the church cannot imitate the mercy of God to the relapsed sinners. The Christians do not justify executions and betrayal of the heretics and different–minded as, for example, Thomas Aquinas the main theologian of the papal establishment has done²⁶.

In summary, although the Christian has no right to cut the corrupted tree or to uproot the poisonous weed { Matthew 13:24–30, 36–41 }, for instance, to kill heretics and to destroy the heretical establishments masquerading under the name of Christ, he has freedom to reject the evil fruits (heresies and false teachings, and corrupted “priests” along with their deeds and crimes incompatible with the Christianity Σ27), so they would not poison his mind and conscience, and they would not corrupt his body.

All those who are coming to God know that the inner peace, freedom, love of God, wisdom, and the eternity await the one who decides to begin the road to God, follows the Light, lives by the Truth, and accomplishes his journey victoriously, according to the commandments of God { John 1:1–18; 14:6; 1 John 5:1–5; Revelation 21:6–8; 22:1–5, 10–15 }.

Let the road of everyone of us be completed in truth and love to God and to the others...

Σ1 According to the Christian teachings, faith is life: the life-bearing knowledge of God and the unity of the acquired knowledge with the manner of life; the just one lives by faith { Habakkuk 2:4; Luke 7:50; 1 Peter 1:9; James 2:14–26 }.

St. Paul the Apostle defines faith as the substance of all expectations and the evidence of the unseen { Hebrews 11:1 }; those who have faith see the unseen and eternal { 2 Corinthians 4:13–18 }.

Faith is the optimal state of reason; otherwise Lord God would not seek it in His creations { in: Luke 18:8; John 9:35–39; 11:25–26 }. The Holy Scriptures provide the comprehensive definition of faith: all knowledge, all treasures of wisdom, all fullness of life, all power, and all authority are in Lord God Jesus Christ – He is της πιστεως Αρχηγον και Τελειωτην – the Author/Chief of faith and the One Who completes, makes perfect, consummates faith { Matthew 8:5–13; 9:20–22; 14:29–31,36; 17:20; 21:22; Mark 9:23; 11:24–26; Luke 5:20; 8:49–50; 17:6; John 3:16, 36; 14:12; 15:4–7; 1 John 2:20–21, 27; 5:12; 1 Corinthians 13:2, 9–13; 2 Corinthians 5:7; Hebrews 11:1, 32–34; 12:2; Romans 14:23 }.

Through faith, the mind learns love and knowledge of God – the knowledge that is the eternal life { John 17:3 }.

In other words, faith is the state of cognizance/knowing God, love to God, living by God, and unity with God. Faith gives comprehension of the essence of all events that compose life of the soul–heart–mind. It might be also said that faith defines process of human evolution, because faith allows obtaining completeness of knowledge of the Word–God and prepares for the eternity with God { in: John 6:27–29, 44–48; 8:31–32,34–36; 14; 15; 16; 17; 2 Peter 1:1–11 }.

The Holy Scriptures provide the simple and detail instructions for all who have faith in God.

Σ2 Discernment is a special feature of normal reasoning: the one's ability to discern → perceive → comprehend → cognize the essence of things and, subsequently, to be adequately positioned within the world, securing therefore own survival → development, and achievement of the purposes.

In other words, discernment is the set of abilities, which make possible for the mind understanding of the people, events, phenomena, conditions and terms of their existence, their potency, and whatever the one encounters. The mind that has normal discernment is able

1/ to comprehend the essence of the law according to which the object was created and exists

2/ to identify compliance with the law according to which the object of consideration was created, exists, and either evolves or undergoes annihilation, and therefore, to evaluate its present and future potency and possible impact on the one's present and future

3/ to identify relevance to the one, for instance, a/ a possibility to be used for facilitation of existence or development

c/ neutrality or irrelevance

See The Discernment

Σ3 The lies of the crafty brute of Genesis, which the humans accepted as the truth initiating therefore, coming into being the root of all evils — the false knowledge, expose the reality of perverted logic, which made possible the original sin.

Knowledge of the law facilitates understanding of the original sin, through which evil and death entered the perfect world created by God and given to man to love, to cherish, to toil, and to lead to evolution.

If the one does not accomplish the will—law of God, he commits sin: he serves the enemy — the arch—evil, because the one can have only one master {cf. in: Matthew 6:24; Luke 4:5–8; 16:13–15; John 14:30; 17:14–16}. The one who sins also enthrones the arch—evil as his god and puts the knowledge of the evil at the place of the knowledge of the law of the only One True God. The root of the original sin (and any sin) is overthrowing of the Absolute – rejection of the authority of God.

If to define sin as violation of the law of God, or as rejection of the words—commandments of God and the following inability to accomplish the will of God, the essence of the original sin might be envisioned as the subversion of the Absolute accomplished through the chain of substitutions:

In practical sense, the original sin is the two—fold action of the first men, because of which death became the actuality {Genesis 3}: Eve and Adam

1/ disregarded—rejected the truth – words of God

Hence, they faced the consequences – death instead of immortality, for which they have been created {Wisdom 2:23–24}, because, by committing sin against God, they cut themselves from the Divine energy – the Source of life.

Subsequently, in their new condition [[being in sin that is in the state of fear of God’s judgment and attempt to go into hiding {Genesis 3:9–11; John 3:20–21}]], they became unable to withstand the Light – God, therefore, to accept and to carry the Holy Spirit of God. With their actions, Adam and Eve established the pattern of death, which would be repeated countless times by their descendants – mankind.

As Jeremiah the prophet would tell many centuries later concerning the evil of men and their consequent inability to carry life to which he refers to as to the living water {Jeremiah 2:13}, they committed two evils: rejected God – the Source of the water of life and carved out of themselves the broken vessels incapable to carry the water of life.

The essence of the typical pattern of death:

→ death

In the theological terms, the original sin is the first act of idol-worship – apostasy, which has initiated/brought forth the realm of death. Within this realm of death,

In the contemporary terms, the one could infer that the original sin became the core/code of special realm/reality/system, in which

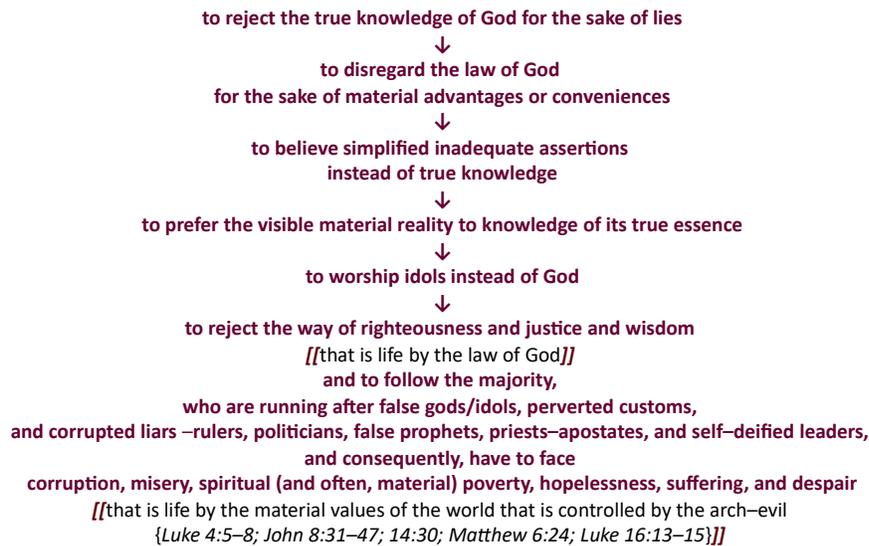

The lies of the crafty brute of Genesis, which the humans accepted as the truth initiating therefore, coming into being the root of all evils — the false knowledge, expose the reality of perverted logic, which became the reality of the earth cursed for the sin of men. After exile to the cursed earth and acceptance of this perverted logic, the mind was able to create the heathenism.

Eve accepted lies/false assertions as the truth, because they were sustained by the apparent beauty: the tree appeared as pleasant for eyes to see and its fruits as ωριον εστι του κατανοησαι – ripe/suitable/mature for contemplation (Genesis 3:7). It was situated within the perfect world given into the dominion of man, and Eve desired to know it. Therefore, she disregarded the essence (death) of the false knowledge (lies of the cunning brute) for the sake of appearance – the beauty of the surface.

Hence, from the practical point of view, the one might envision the original sin as simplification; for instance, substitution of the surface–appearance for the essence–reality.

Consequently, in St. James the Apostle’s words, she conceived the desire/lust, the conceived lust brought forth sin, and sin, being fully formed, brought forth death (James 1:14–15).

Since, the model of the original sin is repeated each time when the mind chooses

IN SUMMARY,

a/ opened the reality, in which the actual absolute authority of God the Creator might be supplanted by the imagined authority of false gods/idols [[and therefore, the true religion of only One True God might be supplanted by the worship of figments of human imagination intently brooding over the evil: by the heathenism, the essence of which is worship of the arch–evil that either takes images of different idols/false gods or is worshiped directly as it is in religions and cults openly based on the serpentine mythical theology of the Orphics]]

b/ initiated realm, within which the mind might operate with the logic of simplification disregarding the law of the adequate complexity

c/ initiated the reality of death, in which the adequacy of levels of complexity is not observed, inadequate knowledge/lies might be accepted as truth, and false knowledge might be created–accepted–actualized, although it initiates collapse and leads to the total ruin.

Acceptance of inadequate/false knowledge as truth originated the logic of simplification – the logic of death; death – because it operates with false knowledge that contradicts the Truth of God. It has, for instance, initiated the work of imagination–creator of assumptions in those who were flesh and who made all flesh of the pre–Flood world to pervert its ways upon the earth. Starting with the original sin, imagination of man was set to be intently brooding over the evil since youth {Genesis 3:7; 6:2–14; 8:20–22}, thus, to accompany the mind focused on the evil until the end of the world.

The logic of death could be the consequence of the initial trap masked with a natural desire of ascension to the highest level of perfection – man was created to evolve and to dominate the evolving world. The lies alleged a possibility to become “as gods” through cognition of knowledge of the good and the evil.

In fact, human beings already were “as gods” by their very nature: they were immortal beings created in image of God and likeness – they were formed by God the Spirit and they lived by the breath–energy–Spirit of the Almighty Immortal God the Spirit {Genesis 1:2, 26–27; 2:7; Job 32:8; 33:4; John 4:24; 10:34; Wisdom 2:23}.

Thus, the initial task of the perverted logic was to undermine knowledge of the divine nature of man and to denigrate him at the level of material arrangements that live not by the Spirit of God, but by the derivatives – fruits, therefore, not by πνοη δε Παντοκρατορος – the Divine Energy/breath of God that teaches the mind, but by the energy transformed for sustaining the lower levels of complexity [[e.g., fruits of the tree, or knowledge of things that are not consistent with the nature of the world (for instance, such inconsistency is knowledge of death within the world created for immortality)]].

After expulsion from the Paradise, and on the post–Flood earth, this task is accomplished by — the heathenism – false religions according to which human beings were sacrificed to demons, deified beasts, and other idols, and which sustain themselves with the laws that demand corporal punishment, mutilation, beheading, capital punishment of men created by God and that justify slavery, forcible conversion, discrimination, persecution and extermination of people of other religions and walks of life

— the atheist–marxist–darwinist ethics–free sciences, which denigrated man at the level of animals [[in compliance with the Orphic mythical serpentine theology]] and study the human nature through studies of rodents, animals, insects, plants

— social and political doctrines based upon Plato–Aristotle’s philosophical–political–religious utopias derived from the Orphic mythical serpentine theology and Orphic philosophical doctrine, which denigrate man at the level of slave of his imagined/false gods/idols and present him as an inferior creature whose nature must be improved by transforming it into likeness of the nature of beasts.

To protect the mind from contamination with the false knowledge, the Christian should remember that any concept, assertion, doctrine, religion is built upon a general core that embodies the attitude toward God and attitude toward man; this core provides the key for understanding of the framework of knowledge: the source–root, and the destructive potential. Hence, to discern the first signs of the lethal poison of the arch–evil behind any religion, any article of faith, any philosophical, political, social, religious doctrine is to comprehend the core/main message: the attitude toward God and the attitude toward man.

In particular,

1/ any contradiction of the words of God signifies lies of the arch–evil

2/ any shadow of hostility to a human being, any disrespect to freedom of thinking, freedom of the conscience, and dignity of a human being, selective justice, acceptance of the possibility of coercion in the matters of conscience, religion, and morality, assertion of own right to sacrifice another man’s life, freedom, and well–being for the sake of any figment of imagination/idol, belittlement of one human being for the sake of another man, group, or establishment, justification any form of discrimination, any coercion in the matters of religion, conscience, political and other convictions – any of these reveals its source/root: the arch–evil that was murderer of man from the beginning and father of lies {Genesis 3:15–16; John 8:42–44}.

Consequently, any concept, doctrine, religion, etc. that conveys negative attitude–hostility–animosity–disrespect to the Triune, the only One True God the Creator and to His creation – a human being should be rejected as the false and dangerous misconception, because it leads to collapse of human reasoning, to which death of people and ruin of their establishments are the inseparable companions {e.g., in: Isaiah 59:1–15; Wisdom 1; 2:21–23}

Σ4 Wisdom is the power of reason/intelligence, with which a human being survives and evolves into the child of God. This power is given by the Holy Spirit Who comes because of the Word—God, the Holy Wisdom of God – Λογος/Αγια Σοφια – to the one who has faith in Lord Jesus Christ, the Word—God, who loves God, who accepted the knowledge of God, and who proved his love to God with observance of His commandments and with the deeds of good {John 14:14–26; 15:10–17; 17; 1 John 3; 4}.

In 1 Corinthians 2:6–16, St. Paul the Apostle writes of the Holy Wisdom given by the Holy Spirit, of the power of God, which is the foundation of faith, and of intelligence, reason, mind of those who just/exactly follow the reasoning of Christ {δε νουν Χριστου εχομεν – 1 Corinthians 2:15–16}.

Hence, human wisdom is the state of empowerment, when a human being, who has been receiving the Divine Energy and knowing the Law of God, becomes the co-worker of God and creator of works that actualize the will of God within the world given into the dominion of man {John 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 Corinthians 3:9}.

Wisdom might be also defined as comprehension of the Law of God and the subsequent ability to observe the Law: to live according to the Law of God, to embody the Law of God into daily life – the reality of own existence. As such, wisdom initiates and sustains human evolution, which is the process of transformation into the immortal child of God prepared for the eternity in the presence of God.

Σ6 Idolatry/idol-worship is violation of the first and the second of The Ten Commandments {Exodus 20:1–6}, or the heathenism; in practical sense, idol-making is blasphemy, because it is materialization of the idea of God the Spirit.

See Heathen Philosophy and the Western Civilization, and Idolatry – reprint in Note 29 to Selections_&_Reprints

Σ7 See The Concept of Hierarchy, and The Hierarchy – reprints in Note 178 to Selections_&_Reprints

Σ8 The phantom of the absolute power of man is assumption that one human being is capable to exercise the absolute power over mind–conscience–body of other human beings transforming them into unreserved slaves and executors of the leader’s commands. The phantom of the absolute power exists only because of deceit – the false belief that a mortal man [[who is not able to prolong own earthly life]] is able to decide or at least to influence the post-mortem destiny of human soul by imposing his will onto deities, which his subject worship.

To the contrary, the absolute power over men and all living creatures belongs only to God the Creator: any man/leader/ruler/king/priest that pretends on the power over human soul attempts to elevate himself at the rank of deity — that is to take the place of God — and therefore, coerces his dependents–subjects–followers–slaves–citizens to become idol-worshippers.

Σ9 The broad term propaganda refers to intentionally created false knowledge, which is intended to purposefully manipulate thinking and behavior of a particular group, society, nation, state. As everything founded upon false knowledge/lies or using false knowledge/lies, propaganda has the primary source: the arch–evil {John 8:44}.

In fact, propaganda is the most sophisticated weapon of destruction, because it transforms a human being into the slave

- a/ incapable of perception of truth
- b/ unable to differentiate the good and the evil
- c/ managed by the creators/users of propaganda.

See Note 307 to Selections_&_Reprints

Σ10 The Concept/Teachings of the Holy Trinity is given in the Holy Scriptures: initial or introductory knowledge – by the Books of the Old Testament, and completed knowledge sufficient for preparation for the eternity – by the Books of the New Testament.

The initial knowledge of the Triune God is the core of the Abraham’s religion {Genesis 18:1–19}, and therefore, should be recognized by any religion that venerates Abraham as the father of nations and traces to him the roots of its theological doctrine. This knowledge of God the Creator is completed by Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Word—God.

Then, in the time of the New Testament, Lord Jesus Christ, the Word—God, revealed and explained the Almighty God the Creator, the only One True God {John 17:3; Deuteronomy 6:4–5; Mark 12:29}, as the Triune God, the inseparable indivisible Unity of

- the Word—God begotten by the Father and working the works of the Father
- the Holy Spirit, by Whom the world lives, Who dwells with and within the children of God empowering them to accomplish the will of God and to live by God and in God
- God the Father, from Whom the Word—God and the Holy Spirit come

Rejection of Lord Jesus Christ and knowledge of Him and the Father, Who sent Him, was the act of rejection of the one Only True God: the ultimate apostasy, for which the ancient Vineyard of the Lord has been annihilated. The Christians know that those who do not believe in Lord Jesus Christ have no God the Creator, therefore, the original sin and its consequences – the “wrath” of God, death – remain upon them, and their destiny is eternal separation from God {John 1; 2; 3:1–36; 5:17–47; 6:27–70; 8:12–59; 9:39–41; 10; 11; 12:10–50; 13; 14; 15; 16; 17; 19:13–16; Matthew 21; 23; 24; 25; Luke 23:22–31; 2 Peter 1:2–11; 1 John}.

The Holy Trinity – the inseparable Unity of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit – the only One True God, is worshiped by the Christians in Spirit and Truth – in Lord Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit {Mark 12:29; John 1:1–18; 4:23–24; 6:63; 10:30; 14; 15; 16; 17; 1 John 1; 4; 5:1–7}.

Σ11 This poisonous knowledge – source of corruption – is the doctrine of serpent-worshippers: the Orphism, which underlies the cults of the arch-evil in the image of the serpent and which became the foundation of many heathen religions that existed in the Middle East. The Holy Scriptures refer to this knowledge as to the wine produced by the vine of Sodom that carries the rage of serpents and incurable rage of asps {θυμὸς δρακοντῶν οἰὸς αὐτῶν, καὶ θυμὸς ἀσπιδῶν ἀνατοξ – Deuteronomy 32:16–33}, as to the lethal poison of asp and viper (e.g., in: Deuteronomy 32; Psalm 90(91):13; 139(140):3; Isaiah 59:2–5; Romans 3:13).

The warning concerning the lethal poison of idol-worshippers – that is death, which watches over those who turn away from God, is one of the main themes of the Holy Scriptures, which runs through the entire Book of Life (e.g., Deuteronomy → Psalm 90 → The Book of Isaiah → The Gospel According to Luke → The Epistle to Romans).

Obviously, the Holy Scriptures refer not to the poison produced by creatures of flesh, which might be rendered harmless with physical power and weapon of men; the poison is knowledge of the idol-worshippers.

Later, through the philosophical doctrines, social and political utopias of Plato, Aristotle, and their followers, this knowledge “produced by the vine of Sodom” and carrying “the incurable rage of asps” penetrated the Western civilization.

Σ13 Thinkers of the antiquity defined morality as an expression of the normal human nature: godliness, virtue, goodness, truthfulness, honesty – all components of the norm, which also is referred to as righteousness.

Theology defines morality as a description of the normal human nature – as an attribute of a being created in the image of God and likeness Who is calling His chosen ones to Himself through glory and virtue helping to escape corruption by lust of this world {2 Peter 1:3–4}.

As such, morality might be envisioned as knowledge of the Absolute Good of God. If the Absolute Good of God became the absolute good of a human being and is implemented into his thoughts, words, and actions, it means that morality has reached its highest point: virtue.

Σ17 The total ruin is accomplished in accordance with the common pattern of culmination of the evil → death also known as διαφθορῶν pattern – total-complete ruin of man and collapse-disintegration-ruin of his creations-establishments, with which he expected to sustain life, to secure survival, and to evolve.

In particular, the διαφθορῶν pattern describes the utter collapse → ruin of any system, which violated the law/perverted the code according to which it was created/arranged, and allowed subversion of its absolute truth – the original knowledge upon which it has been built/arranged and in which, subsequently, the alien knowledge takes the place of the original meanings of truth that initially, in the time of the system’s creation/construction, was embodied into

The διαφθορῶν pattern can be always discerned within the totality of the events identified as revolution, war, defeat, impoverishment, assimilation by enemies (e.g., as it is in: Deuteronomy 28:47–48), and overall processes of disintegration of empires, states, and other establishments/systems.

Personal διαφθορῶν reveals itself through completed – total – corruption because of heresy, apostasy, or crimes against God and His creations, when a human being is not able to achieve any of good purposes [[e.g., survival, improvement, optimization, development]], is unsuccessful in his endeavors aimed to prosperity and increase of overall quality of life, lives in ignorance, bewilderment, injustice, unrighteousness, hardship, and dissatisfaction with the fruits of his labor, even if he possesses riches, fame, and has access to the power of coercion.

The Old Testament prophets described conditions of spiritual and material neediness, and ignorance of the mind, which are the consequences of the collapse described by the διαφθορῶν pattern (e.g. in: Isaiah 59:1–15; Micah 6:11–15; Habakkuk 1:1–17; 2:15–17; Haggai 1:6).

In the New Testament, the self-ruined people of incurable devastation are referred to as to a/ the ones who already have been judged {ἡδη κερκίται – John 3:18–20}, because they love darkness more than the Light, their works were evil, and they go into the darkness so their works may not be exposed

b/ the ones who are not of God, who are children of the arch-evil (in: John 8:42–47; 1 John 3:4, 8–10, 15)

c/ false prophets and false teachers, “clouds driven by tempest, for whom the eternal darkness is kept” {2 Peter 2:1–22}

d/ the dreaming ones defiling flesh, fruitless, uprooted, not having the Spirit {Jude}

e/ the ignorant ones do not knowing the Scriptures nor the power of God; for instance, such as that, nevertheless developed “new teachings.”

One of such “new teachings” was the Pharisee-Sadducee-Herodian heresy developed on basis of the doctrines, which sustained the cults of the heathen nations surrounding Israel. The Lord’s definition of the leaders of ancient Israel as “offspring of vipers” {Matthew 23:33} exposes the source of corruption: the doctrine of serpent-worshippers – Orphism. The definition given by the Lord summarizes the Israel's history of rejection of God, violations of the Law, and idol-worship, which resulted in inability to recognize the Messiah and the time of visitation { Malachi 3:1-9, 17-18; 4; Luke 19:41-44; John 1:9-11 }.

The words of God, Who sees the true essence – the soul-heart-mind – of man, reveal the tragedy of the chosen people who, following their leaders, became the evil and adulterous and sinful generation, the ones who are not of God, the murderers of the righteous men and prophets sent by God, the likeness of the arch-enemy that was the murderer of men from the beginning, the hypocrites, evil and devoid of reason “blind guides” who lead the ignorant (“blind”) people incapable of comprehension the truth into the pit { Matthew 12:34; 16:1-4; 23:1-35; Mark 8:38; John 7:25-26, 30, 44-49; 8:44-47; 9:39-41 }.

The source of corruption is the false knowledge: the doctrine of serpent-worshippers: the Orphism, which underlies the cults of the arch-evil in the image of the serpent and which became the foundation of many heathen religions that existed in the Middle East. The Holy Scriptures refer to this knowledge as to the wine produced by the vine of Sodom that carries the rage of serpents and incurable rage of asps { θυμος δρακοντων ο οινος αυτων, και θυμος ασπιδων ανιατος – Deuteronomy 32:16-33 }, as to the lethal poison of asp and viper { e.g., in: Deuteronomy 32; Psalm 90(91):13; 139(140):3; Isaiah 59:2-5; Romans 3:13 }.

The warning concerning the lethal poison of idol-worshippers – that is death, which watches over those who turn away from God, is one of the main themes of the Holy Scriptures that runs through the entire Book of Life { e.g., Deuteronomy → Psalm 90 → The Book of Isaiah → The Gospel According to Luke → The Epistle to Romans }.

Obviously, the Holy Scriptures refer not to the poison produced by creatures of flesh, which might be rendered harmless with physical power and weapon of men; the poison is knowledge of the idol-worshippers.

Later, through the philosophical doctrines, social and political utopias of Plato, Aristotle, and their followers, this knowledge “produced by the vine of Sodom” and carrying “the incurable rage of asps” – The Orphism, which underlies the cults of the arch-evil in the image of the serpent – penetrated the Western civilization.

The Books of the Prophets – Amos { e.g., Amos 7:8-17; 8:1-14; 9:1-10 }, Micah, Nahum, Zephaniah, Haggai, Malachi – convey the images of the nation in different stages of διαφθορω.

The one could identify similar processes of annihilation through analysis of problems and threats, which the contemporary states and nations encounter.

– at the theological level – ruin of the apostates

– at the philosophical level – collapse and disintegration of human establishment built upon violations of the law of God and upon heathen philosophical doctrines

– at the physical/material level – destruction of human body by Ebola viruses and adverse changes of the environment that make continued existence of the original system-violator of the law impossible.

Concerning total ruin, which is described by the διαφθορων pattern (for instance, destiny of Solomon's kingdom) and which follows heresies, and apostasy, see Σ20 The Christians are the small group of the ones who know and worship the Triune God, the only One True God, and who live, or at least attempt to live, by His commandments/law – by love and mercy to the others. Presently, some of them are identified as the Orthodox Christians: they have accepted the original Christian Teachings given by the Word-God – Lord God Jesus Christ, and they keep the traditions established by the Apostles of Lord God Jesus Christ.

Hence, the Christians are the ones who – accept The Ten Commandments and commandments-words of Lord Jesus Christ as the law of God the Creator { Matthew 5:17-20, 21-48; 6; 7; 19:16-26; 22:36-40; Mark 12:29-34; Luke 10:27-37; John 13:34-35; 15:12, 17; Exodus 20:1-17 }

– believe in Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, the Word-God, Who gives knowledge that is the everlasting life { John 3:16-21, 31-36; 6:28-58, 63-69; 11:25-26; 17:3, 6-26 }

– live by the words-commandments-law of God and accept the Word-God and His words as the Absolute Truth { John 14; 15; 16; 17 }

– worship the Triune God, the only One True God, in Spirit and Truth { John 4:23-24; 10:30; 12:44-50; 14:6-28; 15; 16; 17 }

– love Lord Jesus Christ and accomplish the will of God by observing His commandments-words-law and embodying them into own daily life { Matthew 7:21-23; John 14:15-17, 23-24 }

– confess the Christian faith according to The Nicean Creed.

The Nicean Creed was composed in 325, by The First Ecumenical Council of Nicea:

The Nicean Creed

“I believe in one God, the Father, Almighty, Creator of Heaven and earth, and of all things visible and invisible.

And in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father before all ages.

Light of light, true God of true God, begotten not created, of one essence with the Father, through Whom all things were made.

For us and for our salvation, He came down from heaven and was incarnated by the Holy Spirit and the Virgin Mary and became man.

Crucified for us under Pontius Pilate, and He suffered and was buried, and on the third day He rose according to the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.

And He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead. His kingdom will have no end.

And in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the Giver of life, Who proceeds from the Father,

Who together with the Father and the Son is worshiped and glorified, Who spoke through the prophets.

In one, holy, catholic, and apostolic Church.

I acknowledge one baptism for the remission of sins.

I expect the resurrection of the dead. And the life of the age to come, Amen.”

Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, a sinner

The Jesus Prayer is the foundation of the Holy Hesychasm. The Holy Hesychasm is the continuation (the next stage, at which the Name of God was revealed) of the ancient way of prayer and life, which was found by the Old Testament’s Patriarchs and followed by the Hebrew Prophets.

In the New Testament times, the tradition ascribes – to St. John the Apostle – the foundation – to the Desert Fathers, especially St. John Climacus (†649–?), – development and dissemination – to St. Gregory Palamas (1296-1359) – completion of the Holy Hesychasm as one of the pillars, on which the Greek Orthodoxy stands.

In brief, Hesychasm (from Greek word ησυχια – peace of mind; peace; liberation and quietness that gives peace; tranquil solitude; silence; stillness) is obtaining the state of the inner peace given by Lord Jesus Christ {John 14:27}. Ησυχια is the state of inner silence and focusing–concentration on God, when the soul–heart–mind perceives God and is receiving–absorbing the Divine energy given by God. At the level of the consciousness, this state might be described as the perfect understanding—complete knowledge—wisdom accompanied with freedom and awareness of the eternity as the actual reality of the mind living in God.

In other words, ησυχια is dwelling in the love of God: the harmony of human love to God and love of God to His creation {John 17:23–26}.

For the Christian, nothing in the world could even be compared with the treasure of this peace and freedom that only God gives {John 8:31–32; 14:27; 17:23–26; 2 Corinthians 3:17–18}.

“Εκκλησια – the Meaning

...For where two or three are gathered together in My name, there I am in the midst of them...
{Matthew 18:20}

The following words of God explain the meaning of the Christian Church – Εκκλησια – gathering of the people of God:

...an hour is coming and now is,
when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and in truth...
God is the Spirit, and those worshiping Him in spirit and truth must worship...
{John 4:23–24}

I am the Way and the Truth and the Life.
No one comes to the Father except through Me
{John 14:6}

for where two or three are gathered together in My name, there I am in the midst of them
{Matthew 18:20}

If you love Me, keep My commandments.
And I will petition the Father and He will give you another Paraclete that He abide with you for ever – the Spirit of Truth, Whom the world cannot receive, because it does not see Him nor know Him.
But you know Him, for with you He abides and in you will be
{John 14:15–17}

if anyone loves Me, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him.
And We will come to him and an abode with him We will make
{John 14:23}

the Paraclete, the Holy Spirit Whom the Father will send in My name,
He will teach you all things, and will remind you of all things that I said to you
{John 14:26}

this is the everlasting life that they may know You, the only One True God, and Jesus Christ, Whom You have sent...
{John 17:3}

Sanctify them in Your truth, for Your Word is the truth...
And for them I sanctify Myself, that they also might be sanctified in truth...
...that all may be one, as You, Father, are in Me, and I am in You, that they also may be in Us.

...And I have given them the Glory that You have given Me, that they may be one, as We are one: I am in them, and You in Me, that they may be perfected in one...
{John 17:17–23}

you will be baptized in the Holy Spirit... you will receive power, the Holy Spirit coming upon you, and you will be witnesses of Me... to the end of the earth
{Acts 1:5, 8}

Therefore, as it could be inferred from the words of God, the meaning of the Christian Church is the spiritual unity in God of the believers and followers of Lord Jesus Christ.

This spiritual unity is the unity of the spirit of man in God and with God: the perfection of unity in only One True God Who manifests Himself to His Own ones as the Holy Almighty Trinity:

through God the Son – the Word–God → by God the Holy Spirit, the Paraclete → to God the Father

The Christian Church comes into being each time when two or three Christians – who believe in Lord God Jesus Christ, follow Lord God Jesus Christ, and do the works of Lord God Jesus Christ embodying His words into the actuality of own life – are gathered together in His Name.

At this moment, the Divine Light {John 1:9; 12:46} ignites within the darkness of the world of the matter and the Church of Christ lives: the soul–heart–mind of a human child of God – a human being who is healed, purified, sanctified and glorified (re–created) by the Word–God, who is illuminated and given life by the Holy Spirit of God, and who is in the presence of God the Creator – is perfected by God into the spiritual unity with the brothers (other children of God) and in God.

At this moment, the comprehension of the Future – the eternal life in the presence of God {Revelation 21:1–7, 22–27; 22:1–5, 13–14} opens as the end of the Way {John 14:6} that a human child of God begins here, at the earth, in the temporal world of death.

There is only one Door into this Church, and through her, to God the Father: the Word–God, Lord Jesus Christ {John 10:7–18, 27–30} – He is the Beginning and the End {Revelation 1:8; 21:5–6; 22:13}: the Christian Church is presence of Lord God Jesus Christ and life in Lord God Jesus Christ.

And I think, how beautiful and precious is the freedom of knowledge given by God for those who are set free by the Truth {John 8:31–36}, who see the meaning of things {John 14:26}:

– who of them might ever need the hierarchical establishments – the prisons of the spirit and mind, with instituted perversion, with elaborated rituals of worship to the mortal men who are obsessed with lust for the power and self–aggrandizement until such a degree that they pretend to stand on the place of God, invent such conditions of eternal salvation of men as unreserved submission to the pope, and accept the mortal man as the “visible head” of the Church of Christ?

– who of them would ever need to confirm existence of the Christian Church through acceptance and unreserved obedience to the “visible heads,” with observation of thrones, elaborated rites of obeisance to men–leaders of the papal establishments, processions, riches and manifest splendor of papal cathedrals, palaces, and castles?

Would any of the children of God ever believe those who began with demand of submission to the “supreme power” of man who asserts own “divine authority” over the Christian Church

proceeded with the Crusades, with making the Holy Bible forbidden book, with extermination of those who kept the words of God (e.g., as Jan Hus) and waging religious wars and persecutions “in the name of God” by killing and inflicting suffering and death onto God’s creations

established their power through devising the laws, which force the papal subjects to believe in uttering of men who present themselves as the earthly substitutes of God and defy God until such a degree that they disregarded the Holy Communion established by God and deprived the laity – papal subjects – of the Chalice with the Life–giving Blood of Jesus Christ

currently cover themselves with the slogans of “unity in Christ” and, through the ecumenical movement – the contemporary papal Crusade against Christianity,

The true meaning of Christian Church is the free spiritual union of the children of God who love God and who worship God in spirit and in truth; it never is accessible to those who apply the power of coercion to a body, defraud the mind, and use things of the world of the matter for enslaving of men and – contrary to the words of God conveyed by the Holy Gospels – present such actions as the seeking of “the unity in Christ.”

“The Lord’s Prayer

{Luke 11:1}

When the disciples asked Lord God Jesus Christ to teach them to pray, the Lord gave them the prayer to God the Father {Luke 11:1–4; Matthew 6:9–13}.

This prayer is known as Πατερ Ημων – Our Father, or the Lord’s Prayer:

Our Father Who is in heaven! Hallowed be Thy Name.
Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven;
Give us this day our daily bread;
And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors;
And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil;
for Thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory for ages. Amen.
{Matthew 6:9–13}

The Lord's Prayer defines the entire universe accommodating existence of men, and postulates the terms of human existence:

It begins with the statement, which a/ identifies a human being as a child of God – because we address God and call Him our Father

b/ introduces the setting, in which the children of God are aware of two parts of the unknown in its entirety world:

1/ the heaven, the highest realm, that is the kingdom of God

2/ one area of the world (of the world that, for the human mind, is unknown in its entirety): the material domain/world, or the Earth, allotted to earthly life of God's children.

Within the area/domain of the children of God, the Name of God is sacred; it is the greatest Holiness recognized as the Absolute [[see The Absolute]]. The Greek text tells:

αγιασθητω το ονομα σου – the Name of God is hallowed

The Name of God might be interpreted as the entirety of the attributes of God – Absolute Good, Absolute Omnipotence, Almighty and All-forgiving Love, and the others. The Name of God is established as the Holy: it is terrifying because of the omnipotence of God, and it is sanctified, worshiped, glorified, and blessed. The Name of God refers to the Holy Life that has the status of sanctity and that creates and bestows life; it is the revelation of the Almighty life-creating Love of God {Exodus 3:13–15; 20:7; Psalms 98(99):2–5; 102(103):1; 144(145):1–21; John 17:3–26}.

The children of God are expecting the kingdom of God; they beseech God γενηθητω το θελημα σου — let Thy will be done: let the will of God will be done here, on earth, in the world of men, as it is accomplished in heaven {Matthew 6:10}, in the realm of God. So, everything – including own life and the life of the world, into which we are born to cognize the good and the evil and to be prepared for the next phase of existence – will be completed in the best and in the proper (optimal) manner and way, according to the perfection of God's design/plan, therefore, according to the Absolute Good.

So, what does it mean – the will of God? Why we pray our Creator to accomplish His will in our world as it is in the Heaven – in His world, which we do not know, yet which we expect enter in the Future?

There is a difference among languages of different nations – the legacy of the Babylonian Confusion {Genesis 11:6–9}; this difference does not facilitate the complete understanding of words and meanings of logical blocks (e.g., definitions, concepts, assertions, ideas). Literal translation sometimes does not convey the exact meaning: the efforts to impart the precise meaning of a particular idiom, definition, word, or expression might not culminate in exact comprehension. There always could be nuances, which remain beyond literal translation, yet, they are the key to the essence, to the true meaning. Often, translators use similarities, analogies, and symbols when they attempt to secure complete understanding. However, the same symbols carry different meaning for different nations, times, and historical settings. So, in general, translation from the language of origin into other languages (and especially, within different periods of time) does not differ from modeling, and – as it happens with any simplification – true meaning might be different and richer.

In particular, the word will, with which the English versions of the Holy Scriptures translate the Greek word θελημα, has the meanings of desire, purpose, wish, preference, choice, volition, the ability/power to have a will/desire/purpose, and the potency to accomplish that what is desirable or intended to be done.

However, in the Apostolic times (and texts), the word θελημα has also meaning of gracious design or the plan. The derivatives of this word are τελος – the end or the ending, accomplishment, proper fulfillment, and τελεω – to carry into the proper end according to the nature, to accomplish absolutely, or to complete in fullness. The logical connection among these words is the completeness as the unity of abilities to create–originate–beget → to accomplish–bring to the completion

For instance, when St. Matthew the Apostle conveys the Prayer of the Lord, he writes γενηθητω το θελημα σου. The Apostle uses the same word – γενηθητω, with which the Book of Genesis refers to the acts of creation: God tells “γενηθητω φως” – let there be light (φως), and there was light {Genesis 1:3}.

Therefore, one of the literal translations is “let Thy will/plan/design comes into the being → fulfillment.”

Indeed, when Lord God Jesus Christ refers to His mission, He tells that He descended from the Heaven not to do His will but to accomplish the will – θελημα – of the Father Who sent Him, and this will is that — all that is given to Him, He shall not lose but He shall rise it up at the last day

— everyone who perceives the Son and believes in Him should have the life everlasting and He will raise him up at the last day {John 6:38–40}.

Hence, the one might infer that the will of God is to preserve the created life and to open the next phase of existence – this something referred as “the life everlasting” – to the ones, who are living in this temporal world.

The keys to understanding other meanings of θελημα – the will of God – are

1/ in the Gospel According to John:

In the beginning, was the Word, and the Word was with God, and God was the Word. This One was in the beginning with God...

...All things came into being through Him...

In Him was life and the life was the light of men ...

He was in the world, and the world through Him became...

{John 1:1–4, 10}

and further:

If anyone desires to do the will of God, he will know concerning the teachings [of Lord Jesus Christ] whether it is from God...

{John 7:16–17}

and further:

I and the Father are One

{John 10:30}

2/ in the last Book of the New Testament: in the vision given to St. John the Apostle, God speaks of Himself that He is Αρχη – the Beginning (or the Head) and Τελος – the Ending; He makes all things anew, because the first things (that was created before and that what became the world of death, pain, and suffering) passed away {Revelation 21:4–5; 22:13}: it has come to its completion – τετελεσται, of which Lord Jesus Christ spoke in the end of His earthly suffering {John 19:30}.

It might be concluded that a/ the Word–God – ο Λογος, Who is with God and Who created the world, is the will of God and in the same time, He is the actualization and accomplishment of the will of God the Father, the Foundation and the Power on which, through which, and with which — the world was created in the past, has been fulfilled, and will come to its proper end in the future

b/ the will – θελημα – of God is life of the world; the will of God is the unity of the Almighty Power, the Divine energy, and the Law. This unity creates life and sustains existence of the entire world as well as of all beings

c/ the prayer of accomplishment of the will of God on the earth, which is given us by God, confirms our understanding that — Lord Jesus Christ – the Word–God – is the actualization of the will of the Father as well as He is our daily Bread and the Light of the world, the absolute fulfillment – the Beginning and the Ending – of everything that was, is, and will be — through Lord God Jesus Christ, we cognize the foundation of the world, accept the will of God as the absolute law, and expect the proper functioning of our place, which is just a part of the entire world {John 14:2}.

So, we pray that — our small temporary world – the earth – and we ourselves within this world {man is earth – γη – Genesis 3:20} would have all proper means for existence until our temporal life is completed

— the rain and sun, day and night, the time to sow and the time of harvest, the time of labor and the time of rest, the time to travel and the time to go home – all, what is and will be given by God to sustain our earthly life, would have the proper beginning, the proper accomplishment, and the proper ending – τελος.

The next sentence begins the list of life–sustaining necessities. Three things God named as those we should ask for: daily bread, forgiveness of debts (sins), avoiding of temptation and deliverance from evil {Matthew 6:11–13}.

The Daily Bread is the Word–God, ο Λογος, the Light, the Way, the Truth, and the Life {John 1:1–5, 9; 6:32–58; 9:5; 14:6}.

In the beginning of human civilization, Moses the Prophet told that man lives not by bread alone but by each word proceeding from the mouth of God. In the end, man comes to understanding that the Word of God is the daily Bread and without this Bread there is no life {Deuteronomy 8:3; John 6:32–58}.

It means that when the Christians pray about daily bread, they ask for God Himself: we beseech our Heavenly Father to give us His Son, the Word–God, Who is the Truth and Light and Life everlasting. The Word–God is the Bread of life by Whom man lives.

We ask for forgiveness of our debts – that is our sins, in the same manner as we forgive those who are our debtors.

Who are those referred to as “our debtors”? They are those who have sinned against us, those who we hold guilty in our mind: who insulted us, deprived us of our possession, told us lies instead of truth, persecuted, deceived, and wronged us by any possible way. They are those who inflicted harm or murdered our relatives and friends, and those who threatened our life, well–being, health, and reputation. There are many ways and many roads leading to sin; they differ by a degree of deprivation of good and by intensity of suffering inflicted upon the others.

In general, the essence of sin is the failure to create or to cognize good that is violation of the law of God. Sin also is creation of evil instead of good: everything and anything that contains the seed of evil, that might become evil or leads to evil is sin. Each time when we fail to create good, we sin before God: we become debtors who fail to fulfill the obligations before God and bring Him “the fruits of the harvest.” These fruits include our abilities to exist in the world founded upon and living by the Almighty Love.

The forgiveness of debts is restoration of life–power within a human being who has perverted his original nature because of violations of the Law and who is emaciated by own transgressions: the perverted nature is incapacitated; it becomes unable to receive the divine life–sustaining energy, which maintains life of the Universe. This part of the prayer is supplication to restore the original divine nature within the sinner who cognized evil and committed evil instead of good.

Our God is the Absolute Good and the Almighty Love – perfect and merciful, and His children must imitate His mercy and perfection. Love of God is the life–creating and life–sustaining power. Consequently, the greatest sin, which leads to death, is hatred to the others. Those who have hatred to the others dwell in death: they are children of the evil and murderers, yet, a murderer does not have the life everlasting within {Matthew 5:43–48; Luke 6:35–36; 1 John 2:4–5; 3:10, 14–15; 4:7–8, 16}.

If we want to live, we have to forgive our enemies – those who hate us, who anticipate our death, and who are happy when we suffer. There is no other way for those who identify themselves as “the Christians,” and it cannot be, because our Lord God and Savior Jesus Christ asked for forgiveness of those who crucified Him {Luke 23:33–34}.

The ability to forgive those who sinned against us is the measure of true greatness, because by forgiving the others, we imitate our God {1 John 2:6}, therefore, we confirm that we are His children and prove our readiness for His kingdom.

However, forgiveness is not acceptance. Love to a sinful human being does not mean transformation into the sinner’s likeness.

The word ‘temptation’ usually is interpreted as a desire or opportunity to violate the Law, for instance, The Ten Commandments, violations of which are the foundation of all crimes, and violations of which originate the greatest evil: “thou shall have no other gods beside Me,” thou shall not make idols – thou shall not bow down to them nor serve them; thou shall not covet whatever belongs to thy neighbor, thou shall not commit adultery, thou shall not still, and the others {Exodus 20:1–17}. As it is with all the texts of the Holy Scriptures, the actual meaning is richer.

For example, the “temptation” described by St. Luke the Apostle {Luke 4:1–13}, when he writes of the “tempter” who was allowed to speak to Lord Jesus Christ: this text provides the followers of God with the model of proper reasoning [See The Test – reprint in the end of this file].

In the Gospel’s text, seemingly, no open violation of the Ten Commandments is required. Three tests examine the results of cognition and the consequences: completeness or insufficiency of knowledge, which differentiates a servant of God from a servant of the evil, thus, determines the Future: truth and life – evolution, or lies and death – anti–evolution of the tempted one and the world given into his discretion

Temptation might be also a trial–test by the forces beyond our control. For instance, each being comes into the world built by the ancestors and by those who lived before. The mental and physical health of any newborn child might be already damaged with “the sins of the fathers”: a newcomer might bear the consequences–fruits of the violations of the Law committed by biological parents and by those who formed the parents’ patterns of thinking and behavior and became “the root springing up with bitterness.” These consequences are the “curse” of sin {Exodus 34:6–7; Deuteronomy 28:15–68; 29:16–28; 30:15–20}: the mind and body are abnormal or perverted (it means that they are born or easily become insufficient, evil, and sick) by the perversion —abnormality—illness–evil of those who lived and created their thoughts and knowledge in the past. A newborn inherits the summary, which – if embodied and actualized by the newborn’s life – might make a difference:

— the accumulated knowledge of evil pushes the world into the accelerated disintegration and reduces the time allotted for the current inhabitants and their descendants to cognize the good and to embody it into their thoughts, words, and actions, therefore, to live and to accomplish the will of God

— the accumulated knowledge of the good gives the world another chance; it might prolong existence for cognition and creation of the good.

However, the innate, starting capital – the inherited summary of knowledge of good and evil and deeds and thoughts of the predecessors {Exodus 33:19; 34:5–7} is not the only inheritance. At least today, the many still have the free will to choose between the good and the evil.

The Almighty Love of God – the Daily Bread from the Heaven {John 3:16–17; 6:48–58} gives those still living an opportunity to increase the knowledge of the good and to embody it into thoughts, words, and deeds while the measure of sins is filled {Genesis 15:16}.

So, each good thought, word, and action could result in opportunity for the others to be prepared for the Kingdom of God.

Today, temptation is not only an opportunity to cognize more evil – we learn too much evil passively, without inclination, through the established common manner of living, which cultivates all imaginable patterns of evil–thinking and evil–doing. For instance, the daily news with description of all kinds of atrocities and corruption fill the main time, while the good news promoting righteousness and virtues – that is healthy and righteous, or normal manner of living – are the rare event. Temptation is the opportunity to increase the overall measure of the evil by embodiment of the learned evil into own world: the mind, words, actions, relations with other people.

To prevent the increase of evil in the world, we the Christians, beseech God do not lead us into temptation, but deliver us from the evil:

- let the horrible test by the forces beyond our control would not overwhelm the mind
- let the knowledge of the evil would not stain the conscience with the desire to make the knowledge of the evil and death into the destiny of the living ones – those who are connected with us, those who we can influence, and those who depend on us in their daily needs
- let the corruption and crimes would not become the manner of life
- let we remain faithful and loyal to God
- let love to God becomes the essence of the mind, reasoning, words and actions
- let the Love of God protects us from all the evil.

In summary, in this part of the prayer, we implore God to support us with His omnipotence and save us with His grace:

- to come into us and to be our Daily Bread that is to be our Light, Way, Truth, and Life {John 1:1–17; 6:32–58; 9:5; 14; 17}
- to protect us from the sins–consequences of violation of His law and therefore, from the forces of evil, which are unleashed by the sins committed by those who lived before us and by those who have the temporary (earthly) power to harm us, to persecute us, and to deprive us of our earthly necessities
- to deliver us from the evil, that is to deliver us from the further cognition of the evil and to protect us from consequences of the fatal choice made in the beginning {Genesis 2:16–17; 3}.

The Prayer’s conclusion is the unconditional recognition and acceptance of God through acknowledgment that His is the kingdom – all belongs to Him, and He is the only One Who possesses the ultimate power and glory eternally.

Three actions comprise the general meaning of the Prayer of the Lord:

- 1/ understanding of the love of God to His creations {1 John 3:1–24}
- 2/ our recognition of God as the only God, the only One True God, the Absolute, Who has the completeness of power and Who is the source of life and well–being of His creations
- 3/ our unconditional acceptance of His will and His world because of our love to Him.

In summary,

The Lord’s Prayer conveys the essence of The Ten Commandments and especially, two greatest of them – love to God and love to neighbors {Exodus 20:1–17; Leviticus 19:18; Matthew 22:36–40; Luke 10:25–37}:

- we recognize God as the Father, therefore, as the source of our life and well–being, as the focus of our life, and as the object of our love and reverence
- we express our love to Him by accepting His world, by recognizing His Holiness, ultimate authority, power, grace – all that is His Absolute Good and Omnipotence
- we, as children, express our unconditional love and trust by imploring Him to accomplish everything according to His will
- we ask forgiveness in the same manner as we forgive the others; it means that we acknowledge and confess our love to the others, and that we embody this love into our dealing with the others, because those who do not love are incapable of forgiveness.

St. Matthew the Apostle conveys the Lord’s warning given before the Prayer: do not use vain words – do not be as the heathens who think that they shall be heard in their wordiness; then, do not be like them, because the Father knows your needs before you ask Him {Matthew 6:7–8}.

Indeed, in Greek, the Lord’s Prayer is conveyed with 72 words, in English – with 66 words, and in Russian – in 64 words {Matthew 6:9–13}.

However, in spite of its brevity,

— it delineates the entire universe: God and His children, the current world open to the children of God (the present existence), and the world to come: Kingdom of God and the life everlasting {Revelation 21:1–4; 22:3–5}

— it reveals the foundation and the cohesive power of God’s world: Almighty Perfect Love, which possesses the Absolute Power and deals with Own creations justly, according to the righteous and good Law, yet mercifully, by forgiving the debts/sins [[failures to create the good and violations of the Law]] of those who are able to evaluate own insufficiency, to ask for forgiveness, and to forgive the others {Exodus 34:6–7; Psalm 144(145); John 1:12–13; 3:3–7; 1 John 3:2; 4:7–21}.

In the contemporary simplified terms, the meaning of the Lord’s Prayer might be interpreted as the concise code, which identifies the nature of a human being, its place within the realm created by God, and conditions of its existence. This prayer is also the password for identification and the key for entrance/connection of the system – human mind [[see The Mind]] – into/with the realm, to which the system belongs: the Kingdom of God. It is all about return to the Motherland, our only home, the Kingdom of God...”

1. In 1014, in violation of the decisions of the Ecumenical Councils (431–870), which established The Nicean Creed as the unchangeable dogma of the Christian Church, the Roman pope Benedict VII included the Augustine’s addition that the Holy Spirit proceeds “and from the Son” (“Filioque,” which is the heresy directed against God the Father) in The Creed of the Roman Catholic Church, alienating the papal church from the Christendom [[the Great Schism]], because of papal acceptance of the heresy incompatible with the Christian faith

2. it has as its official doctrine Aristotle–Aquinas political theology [[referred as “neo–Aristotelian system” [Holmes 7] or as “Christian Aristotelianism” [McKeon 149]]] founded on the heathen philosophy – doctrines of Aristotle – derived from the Orphic doctrine

3. it operates upon the papal laws that the papacy adopted from the heathen Roman Empire. These laws treat heresy as treason punishable with death penalty, demand mandatory execution of the relapsed heretics, confiscation of property from heretics and non–Catholics, etc. These papal laws alone confirm that the papal Church of Rome is not the Christian Church

4. it has disregarded the most holy tradition of the Christians of the Holy Communion with the bread and fruit of the vine as it was established by Lord Jesus Christ Himself {Matthew 26:26–28; Mark 14:22–24; Luke 22:17–20; 1 Corinthians 11:23–26} and revived the Manichean heresy depriving the Catholic laity of the Christian Chalice of Salvation [[the communion in one element (by bread only) is the practice of the Manicheans: in imitation of the ancient rite of the Zoroastrians, the Manicheans replaced the Eucharist with breaking of bread; concerning Mani and his doctrine, see Note 1 to Works of Augustine of Hippo]]

5. it unleashed the unspeakable evil of the Crusades in the Middle East and Europe, including

1/ the Crusade during which the Christian Byzantium was destroyed, Christians temples desecrated and plundered, Christians of Constantinople robbed, raped, and killed

2/ the Crusade against the Christians of Bohemia who after treacherous execution of Jan Hus the priest rebelled against the papal heresy and demanded the Chalice of Holy Communion for all [[see Heresy and Priest – in Selections_&_Reprints. Part 8]]

6. it established the Inquisition, which during twelfth–seventeenth centuries waged terror of religious persecutions: tortured, burned alive, executed and imprisoned heretics and different–minded – for their beliefs and opinions inconsistent with the papal faith, and schismatics – the Christians for following the Christian teachings, loyalty to God, and rejection of the papal faith and authority of the deified pope who falsely pretends to stand at the place of God and to have a share of dignity of God [[see The Church Militants in Doctrine of Thomas Aquinas. Political Theology]]

7. it is headed by the popes who control the Inquisition [[until recently, the popes had title of Prefect of the Inquisition, which currently operates under the name of Congregation for the Doctrine of Faith]], and it is run by the Jesuits trained to hear the blasphemies against Lord Jesus Christ, therefore, to deprive themselves of the Spirit of God {1 Corinthians 12:3}, to accept the will of their leaders as the will of God renouncing own judgment and silencing own conscience even if they are ordered to assassinate the kings (who rejects the will of the pope), to imitate the arch–evil if it is needed for achievement of their purposes, and to perceive behavior of women as resemblance of “the enemy of the human nature”

8. during the centuries, it covered own heresy, crimes against humanity, and corruption with the name of Christ, even referring to their habit to burn people alive as to “the law of Christ,” and accepting Aquinas’ dictum that his church cannot imitate the mercy of God. Many centuries the Catholics robbed and plundered the people of other faiths, whom they exiled (for instance, as the Jews and the Moors who rejected conversion into Catholicism) and whom they imprisoned and burned alive as heretics. The papal Council granted the Catholics who expel heretics (and apprehend their land for occupation by the Catholics) the “holy privilege” of the Crusaders [Decrees of the Ecumenical Councils 234]. Consequently, generations of the Catholics believed that the Inquisition is in fact the “holy office,” which acts according to the Law of God. Consequently, they betrayed their neighbors to the Inquisition, participated in torturing and execution of the victims, and enriched themselves with the property of the executed “heretics” and the expelled non–Catholics.

As the result, the pretense of the papacy and papal subjects to speak and to act on behalf of the Christians

a/ made the Catholicism unacceptable for those who evaluate faith by “the fruits” – deeds and words of the believers {Matthew 7:15–23; 24:4–14; James 2:7–26; 3:18}

b/ made Christianity unacceptable for those who have neither possibility nor desire to learn the Christian teachings, yet who accept as truth the papal pretenses to speak on behalf of Christendom and who consider the deeds of Catholics as true embodiment of the Christian faith

9. through the centuries, it accepts those in the state of the mortal sin, as “priests,” and it is plagued by corruption, pedophilia, and perversion

10. some articles of the papal faith, which the many still identify as Christianity, are in fact the blasphemy against God and particularly, against the Holy Spirit {Matthew 12:31–32}; such, for instance, as – the concept of “priest in the state of mortal sin”

– proclamations of pope Innocent III [Innocent III ref. and qtd. in: Encyclopedia of the Vatican and Papacy 213–214; La Due 118, 124; Willett 11] that

1/ God appointed the pope to be “His Vicar on earth”; therefore, “as every knee is bowed to Jesus, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth,” in the same fashion all men must obey His Vicar – the pope [[this, especially in the form of the ritual of kissing the papal shoe, is the direct violation of the second of The Ten Commandments {Exodus 20:4-5}]]

2/ the pope acts on behalf of the Holy Trinity, “by the authority of SS Peter and Paul, and by... own authority”

– proclamations of pope Pius XII that

1/ ascribing “the whole spiritual life of Christians and their progress in virtue exclusively to the action of the Divine Spirit,” without the collaboration of the pope, leads to “deplorable ruin” [Mystici Corporis Christi. Encyclical of pope Pius XII On the Mystical Body of Christ. 1943; §65, 87]: plainly speaking, Pius XII says that, without the pope, the Divine Spirit [[that is supposed to be a reference to the Holy Spirit]] does not work

2/ “Divine Redeemer” [[that is supposed to be a reference to Lord God Jesus Christ]] gave the faith “obscurely and implicitly” providing that the papal church would elucidate and explain it Humani Generis. Encyclical of Pius XII concerning some false opinions threatening to undermine the foundations of catholic doctrine. 1950. [http:// www. vatican. va/holy_father/ pius_xii/encyclicals/documents/ hf_p-xii_enc_12081950_humani-generis_en. html; §21]

3/ “first of all,” all papal subjects must “obey the decrees of the Council of Trent, of the Roman Pontiffs, and the Sacred Congregation of Rites, and what the liturgical books ordain concerning external public worship” Mediator Dei. Encyclical of Pope Pius XII on the Sacred Liturgy. 1947, November 20. [http:// www. vatican.va/ holy_father/pius_xii/encyclicals/ documents/hf_p-xii_enc_20111947_mediator-dei_ en. html; §18].

There is no one word about God and His words in this statement, although the Christian teachings (the New Testament) is the only source of knowledge of God and His law for the Christians

11. the very arrangement of the contemporary form of the papal church – the Vatican – is not compatible with the Apostolic traditions: a after devastating for the papacy deprivation of its civil power over the states and their rulers, which was one of the results of the Napoleonic wars, the papacy obtained its independent status of quasi-religious establishment – the Vatican – with the help of Fascist Italy. The papacy had the positive experience of corroboration with Fascism, and the papal church of Rome became “a buttress” of the Fascism in Italy. Then, through the Concordat of 1929 with Fascist Italy under the Mussolini’s control, the papacy gained at least some of the temporal power completely lost in 1870. By the authority of Fascist state, the Vatican had been granted the status of the independent state, access to control of education, and the possibility to expand the Catholic Action [ref. and qtd. in: Encyclopedia of the Vatican and Papacy 292–293].

Then it is understandable why the pope Pius XII refused to condemn Nazi Germany. While the papal clergy, such as Cardinal Theodor Innitzer the archbishop of Vienna, bestowed blessings upon Adolf Hitler, promoted the “divine idea” of unity all nations under the Nazis, named Hitler “the tool of God called upon to overcome Judaism” (Catholic priest Senn) and to struggle against “all-destroying atheistic Bolshevism” (the Austrian Episcopate) and (as Bishop Rarkowski did) explained to the German Catholics that behind the commands of Hitler – whatever the commands are – “stands God Himself with His will and command” [La Documentation Catholique ref. and qtd. in: Passeleq and Suchecky 51–52, 285; Senn and Rarkowski ref. and qtd. in: Lewy 239–242, 279], the World War II, which the Nazi Germany has initiated and slaughter of the minorities (including the Jews, the Gypsies, the Slavs, and others), which it carried out during existence of Nazi regime, took 14 millions of “racial inferiors” and 54.8 millions (estimated) of victims [in: Trager 893, 894]

12. cult of the pope – that is idol-worship; recognition of the pope infallibility stemming from the papal pretense to speak on behalf of the Holy Trinity; pope’s self-positioning above the Law of God and papal pretense on the right to override any law – divine and human; acceptance of the pope as the mediator between God and man, while there is only One Mediator – the Word-God, Lord Jesus Christ; acceptance of the doctrine of unreserved obedience to the pope and members of the papal hierarchy [[see Note 374]] until such a degree that the church must recognize black as white and vice as virtue if the pope says so; practice of indulgencies – purchase of remission of sins for money paid to the papal clergy; other articles of the papal faith and practices of the papal church, which contradict the words of God and reject the Law of God.

In summary

A. The complete incompatibility of the papal faith with Christianity is confirmed with

a) the heresy [[esp., the Filioque]]

b) Thomas Aquinas’ blasphemies, which are elevated into articles of papal faith

c) infamous acts of the papal establishment, which might be referred to as the crimes against God and against humanity, and which include (but are not limited to) the papal attempt to usurp the place of God in His temple

– the crusades (against Muslims and against Christians of Byzantium and Bohemia)

– the inquisition

– forceful conversion

– religious wars, persecutions of the different-minded, tortures and executions (burning alive at stakes) of the heretics and those Christians who rejected the pope as the substitute of God

– antisemitism

– cooperation with Fascism and Nazism

– the physical and moral corruption of the members of the papal hierarchy who corrupt and destroy faith and life of those who are under the authority of the papal hierarchy [for instance, current world-wide scandals with child abuse, abuse of children and adults in catholic educational and charitable institutions, including the recent revelation of the Magdalene laundries in Ireland in the report from the UN committee against torture in June 2011 – which were run by Catholic nuns under protection of the state as late as in 1996 – [http://www. guardian.co.uk/ world/ 2013/feb/05 /magdalene-laundries-ireland-state-guilt; see Note 119 (Web references) to Selections_ & Reprints]]

d) papal self-deification (see Notes 344 and 115 to Selections_ & Reprints)

B. Christianity and Catholicism are two irreconcilable theological systems, because they have different foundations:

1/ Christianity is the original teachings of Lord God Jesus Christ preserved and professed by the Catholic Apostolic (Orthodox) Church (Eastern/Greek Orthodox Churches); its foundation is the knowledge given by God – the knowledge that is the everlasting life

2/ the Roman Catholicism (or Catholicism) professed by the papal Church of Rome, which accepted Aristotle–Aquinas’ political theology as the official doctrine (foundation of Catholicism), is based upon the heathen Orphic philosophy [[derivative of the mythical serpentine theology, from which the multitude of heathen cults and religions worshiping the arch-evil sprang]] covered with the terminology of the Holy Scriptures; it is not monotheistic religion, because – its credo includes the Filioque

– it is based on deification of the pope that presents himself as the necessary component for the works of the Holy Spirit and as the one that acts on behalf of the Holy Trinity.

For the Christians, both these assertions are sacrilegious.

In other terms, the one could say that these two churches – the Christian Church and the papal church of Rome – are irreconcilable, because they are the different systems founded on the different definitions of their main – absolute for them – truth (Creed): each system that changes definition of its original absolute truth upon which it was created/established (in other terms, commits apostasy toward the original truth) becomes another system inconsistent with its original version [[see Note 44 to Selections_ & Reprints]].

C. Only because of ignorance of the Christian teachings some people continue the blasphemous practice to identify the papal establishment as the Christian church and the papal subjects as Christians.

Therefore, when, in my works, I refer to a Christians, I refer to the one who knows the Triune, the only One True God and who lives, or at least attempts to live, by His commandments/law – by love and mercy to the others [[see the concept of the Holy Trinity, the Triune, the only One True God – in Introduction to Christianity, Part 3 of this file]].

The Orthodox Christians are those who have accepted the original Christian Teachings given by the Word–God – Lord God Jesus Christ, and who keep the traditions established by the Apostles of Lord God Jesus Christ; this term is widely applied after the Great Schism to separate the schismatics – the papal subjects who accepted the Filioque [[see Note 44 to Selections_ & Reprints]], yet continued to identify themselves as Christians, from those who are loyal to Lord Jesus Christ and who live by His words.

Hence, the Christians should not be mistakenly identified as and unified with the Catholics, and the Catholics, who also verbally identify themselves as the followers of Christ and claim to propagate the Gospels, should not be identified as and unified with the Christians {Matthew 7:21–23}:

- the Christians live by the words–commandments–law of God and accept the words of God as the Absolute Truth
- Catholics contradict the words of God; they live by the laws of their – papal – establishment, in which the “priests who are in mortal sin” discharge their duties “by the power of the Holy Spirit” [[see Note 279 and The Fruits – reprint in Note 133 to Selections_ & Reprints]], the mortal man – pope has the place of God at the earth, and which – according to Thomas Aquinas, the main papal theologian – cannot imitate the mercy of God.

The Christians are free people who have been set free from the slavery to the evil by the knowledge of Truth – by Lord Jesus Christ {John 8:31–47}.

The Catholics are the subjects of the deified leaders/popes who asserted themselves as the “substitute of God at the earth” and as the “head” of their church; the Catholics accepted the Filioque [[see Note 44 to Selections_ & Reprints]]. Their church – the papal church of Rome, or the quasi-religious establishment – the papal state: the Vatican – has accepted Aristotle–Aquinas political theology as its the official doctrine and operates upon the doctrine of unreserved obedience to the pope, whom they keep as the main condition of salvation and whom they accept as unavoidable supplement to the Holy Spirit [[see Doctrine of Thomas Aquinas, Political Theology, and Ecumenism]].
